Begin treatment by taking one "Fruit-a-tives" tablet three times a day and two at bedtime—for 3 or 4 days.

Take the tablets twenty minutes before meals, and always drink half a tumblerful of cold water (not iced) with each tablet.

Then take two tablets every night for a week—and then one every night for a month.

Be careful about the diet—eat regularly—avoid veal, pork, dark meat fowls, and never drink milk with meals.

Bathe frequently—dress warmly—exercise sensibly—take "Fruit-a-tives" faithfully—and see how much better you are at the end of the month.

A NOTABLE GROUP

One of the last of that group of German revolutionaries, who falling of liberty in their home land in 1848 and 1849, sought the new world and gathered there the fruits of their labor, was Dr. Emil Preussner. For thirty years editor of the St. Louis Westliche Post, he died on November 13th in St. Louis, the city of his adoption. Other names which will be remembered as belonging to that circle of friends and co-workers are: Frederick Becker, Lorenz Brentano and Carl Schurz. Dr. Schurz, who is nearly the last survivor of these noted German-Americans, is writing for McClure's Magazine an autobiography which he calls "Reminiscences of a Long Life." In the December installment, he tells of the school day period when he was shaping those tendencies which brought him to America and made of him a power in American politics.

SEVEN CHURCHES TO FIGHT LIQUOR LICENSE

A Lively Municipal Campaign in Winnipeg—Principal Patrick Makes a Strong Speech—Dr. Hutchinson Presents an Array of Facts and Figures.

(Winnipeg Free Press.) In seven churches in the north end of Winnipeg, last Sunday night, meetings were held to protest against the granting of a wholesale liquor license to a proposed shop situated on Main street between Juffer and St. John streets. All the meetings were unanimous in favor of a vigorous protest and several of the speakers voiced the sentiment of the speakers by calling upon to throw the license to the liquor trade.

Speaking at the meeting in St. John's, Rev. Principal Patrick touched upon the municipal campaign, emphasizing the fact that the liquor license is a matter of public concern. Continuing, the reverend gentleman said he viewed with considerable apprehension the wholesale granting of liquor licenses and advocated an uncompromising resistance. He wished to know as free citizens if we were to have license thrust upon us, or were we not. "Are we," he asked, "to be ruled by the people for the people, prepared to be held at the mercy of the liquor trade?" Dr. Patrick said: "Each citizen must have the power to elect and remove those who have the power of granting these licenses. Why should an intelligent community be held at the mercy of three men who can grant or withhold a license without consulting a single citizen?"

Speaking of the civic contest now in progress he declared it to be a fight between right and wrong, especially referring to the municipal campaign. Knowing what he did he believed every citizen must know the truth to take. Whatever may be held against the present mayor he said this to say for himself he had kept the promises he made. He promised to use all the power of his office to preserve the sanctity of the liquor law and he did, as well as understanding other measures. In the opinion of the speaker those who were bringing forward an opponent are working to have conditions revert to the old system from which all Christian minds revolt.

In closing Dr. Patrick urged the local voters of the ward to obtain a thorough understanding from the candidates and not to endorse those who were prepared to work toward measures of civic righteousness. Then when the right kind of man was elected in the government of the city attention could be turned to the liquor trade.

Methodism Takes Stand

Last evening Grace church was filled with a large congregation to listen to a discourse by Dr. J. W. Hutchinson and Rev. George Osburn. The Rev. W. speaking from the pulpit, the service and introducing Dr. Hutchinson, said they were thinking of many spiritual problems that concerned this city. One was the problem of temperance. Dr. Hutchinson gave comparative figures on the liquor question as follows: The liquor business was forcing itself to the front as never before. He had seen records. In 1880, only six years ago, there were in the province of Manitoba, 10,000 licenses. That swelled in four years to 270, while the wholesale license in the province increased from 24 to 44. In the police records, in 1880 there were 207 arrests for drunkenness. This increased year by year. In 1904 there were 2,188 arrests. That was still increasing. But there only a small percentage of those who became drunk were arrested. Citizens must be alarmed by this vast increase of drunkenness in Winnipeg. Along with drunkenness came pauperism and degradation. From October, 1902, to September, 1903, 4,023 arrests were made, or nearly two-thirds of the total for the year 1903. Citizens must therefore have an interest in this matter and feel that something must be done. It challenged every good citizen who wanted to see the city clean and sweet from the liquor trade. From the lives directly wrecked, there were homes made desolate and murdered. A number of suicides were directly responsible to the liquor trade. In 1903, two-thirds of the children cared for by the Children's Aid Society were there through the influence of the liquor trade. From an economic standpoint all must be alarmed. The government had voted $200 for increased jail accommodation, while the city council had voted $10,000 for increased police and jail expenditures. Winnipeg, spent $800,000 to $900,000 for police force, half of which was caused by drunkenness on the streets.

SOME SEASONABLE ADVICE ON CHRISTMAS GIFT BUYING

Mix Your Money With Careful Thought And See How Far It Will Stretch Out—Suggestions For Gifts To Men And Women.

How to make a little go a long way is the problem that confronts the majority of women these last few weeks before Christmas. This is one thing that every friend should be remembered, but somehow as the day draws nearer the budget grows alarmingly small. It is a little thing that the woman who is a friend should be remembered, but somehow as the day draws nearer the budget grows alarmingly small.

It becomes almost a question of giving one friend something that is worth while when it would seem that every friend should be remembered, but somehow as the day draws nearer the budget grows alarmingly small.

No one can deny that this is the time of the year when you can spend your money wisely. It is a time when you can spend your money wisely. It is a time when you can spend your money wisely.

The doctor then quoted numerous medical authorities against the use of alcohol. One was, he thought, a majority vote for local option. Then he advocated closing the bars at six o'clock. In the case of a poor family, the man who is a doctor then quoted numerous medical authorities against the use of alcohol.

And the study begins how to present total of which corresponds to the amount that would buy one really nice present. Money has wonderfully elastic powers, however, when it is used with careful thought, and it is not the splendor of the gift that counts, but the thought that means most to the recipient.

A small knowledge of a person's individual tastes goes a long way in finding just the present that is most satisfactory. After which, it is a matter of searching through the bewildering array of Christmas stuff in endless maze of shops for the small article which just fits the bill, and which is surely there if time is taken to hunt for it.
