

Our Society have agreed not to exceed one-fourth of the sum remitted in the return of Bibles and Testaments, which copies are sold generally to school-boys, and the proceeds added to our next collection, that we may aid the cause as far as we can according to our ability.

I am Dear Sir,

Your Obedient Servant,

ANDREW KERR, President.

To J. W. Nutting, Esq.

Windsor, January 6, 1834.

DEAR SIR,—I have to inform you that on New-Year's Day the Newport Bible Association met according to appointment. The money collected at the time, including a small sum previously in my hands, amounting in all to £10 12 2---I send you to be remitted to the British and Foreign Bible Society. We have to regret that the sum is so small. It however will show that the cause is still alive here, and indeed there are some who take a warm interest in the matter.—The Ladies Association of which I gave you a former notice, held its fourth annual meeting at the same time. Their funds amounted to seventeen pounds which have been handed to me to be forwarded for the benefit of the British and Foreign Bible Society, and which you will receive along with the other remittances. The Ladies request the amount of £3 worth of Testaments of the cheapest kind to be returned.

I am &c.

JOHN L. MURDOCH, Sec'y.

To J. W. Nutting, Esq.

Chester, February, 1834.

DEAR SIR,—There was a Meeting of the Chester Branch Society, held on the fifth day of December, and although the small sum subscribed is scarcely worth remitting, we hope that it may be received as the Widow's mite.

We feel sorry that we do so little towards the advancement of so glorious a cause. We know that it is well worthy of our greatest attention, and demands far more from us than we are willing to contribute; but the pressure of the times at present seems to operate very sensibly against us; perhaps the reason is on account of our omission of duty when the Lord was pleased to grant us the means. We sincerely hope for the future, that our hearts may be enlarged, (with the means) our zeal inflamed, and our diligence doubled; we regret to think that we are so far in the rear in this noble work of sending the Bread of Life to the poor perishing Heathen.—The cause belongs to God, and we feel no doubt but he will prosper it, until all nations shall be made partakers of the precious volume. We hope the blessing of the Almighty may rest upon all who contribute to this glorious cause; and that the Word of Life may be blessed to the conversion of many, and the enlightening of the dark corners of the Earth.

I am, &c.

DANIEL DIMOCK, Sec'y.

To J. W. Nutting, Esq.

Sydney, 1st March, 1834.

DEAR SIR,—The objects of the British and Foreign Bible Society, having been, by particular circumstances brought anew before the inhabitants of this place, the Members of the Cape Breton Branch Society met at the Court House, on
