THURSDAY, MARCH 8, 1888. OUR OTTAWA LETTER.

spondent of THE CHRONICLE Orrawa, March 6. - The features of the House for the past week have been a row over the dismissed translators, Sir Eichard Cartwright's Unrestricted Reciprocity resolution, and the Estimates which were for the Sented before the budget speech was made. The first named affair arose from the facts that follow. Messra Poirier and the two Tromblays are the French translators for the Commons debates. During the recess they wrote and spoke against the ministry, especially the French ministers. They held that out of session they had the liberty to do this. Mr. Chapleau thought otherwise and wrote to Mr. Speaker demanding their dismissal and the speaker complied. In the House Mr. Laurier held that the Speaker face confident of sustaining the Act. Without mistake the voice of Halton, the banner Stott Act county of Ontario, has a country since the lat of May, 1882, came on to day, and resulted in the repeal of the Act by a majority of 210, as far as heard at present. The result was not unexpected by some, yet everyone in surrous all the Scott Act party themselves, who the country since the lat of May, 1882, came on to day, and resulted in the repeal of the Act by a majority of 210, as far as heard at present. Voluminous papers, including a pamphlet were laid on the table and when they are printed the question will be fought out.

THE NEW LIERRAL POLICY.

By far the most important political event since the resignation of Mr. Biske is the decision of the Liberal party to adopt Unrestricted Reciprocity as a policy. The conclusion was reached at the Liberal caucus and next day Sir Richard Cartwright put a notice of motion on the paper. Boiled down it states that unrestricted reciprocity with the United States is highly desirable. Unrestricted reciprocity means that Canada will place on the free list of her tariff all the products, natural and artificial, of the United States, provided that country does the same. Many wonder what is the difference between unrestricted reciprocity and commercial union. Wall the latter would mean the adoption of one tariff for the United States and Canada against the outside world, while under Sir Richard Cartwright's proposal Canada will maintain her own tariff and the States their own against all outside countries. The debate on this resolution will last at least a week. I will be the biggest oratorical display of the session. THE NEW LIBERAL POLICY.

When the committee reports the House will order the issue of a write for a new election. In reply Sir Charles Tupper confirmed the report that there were to be no tariff changes. Notwithstanding this it is believed changes must be made, if only to take advantage of the offer of the Washington administration to abolish the duty on salt, lumber and wood, which is conditional upon a like abolition by other countries, and is a direct offer to Canada of reciprocity in those articles. taking steps to carry out the torms of union by providing continuous steam communication with Prince Edward Island. The question of the [SUPPRESSION OF TRADE "COMPRINES"] was disposed of by the adoption of Mr. Wallace's resolution to appoint a select committee to take evidence in the matter, after a brief debate had shown a concensus of opinion that trade combines were, if not illegal, very mission of the country going to the Counties of Peel and Wentworth, where the license of the Countries of the matter, after a brief debate had shown a concensus of opinion that trade combines were, if not illegal, very mischievous. It was during this discussion that Mr. Hesson said soft ocal only was taxed, and Hon. Peter Mitchell who was on his feet silenced his interrupter with the remark 'get out, you don't know anything about it." Mr. Hesson was right in his statement, and Mr. Mitchell himself went on to attack the duty Mitchell himself went on to attack the duty on soft coal, which formed, he said, three on soft coal, which formed, he said, three-fourths of our total coal consumption. Mr. Kirkpatrick's bill, to enable American vessels to come into Canadian waters to render aid to distressed vessels, provided similar privileges are granted by the U. S. Government, has passed its first reading. It was stated that the amount received for lands in the Northwest in '87 was $450.701. Mr. Guillet's question relative to Mr. Ellis' annexation views and what action the Gov annexation views and what action the Gov enment proposed to take was ruled out of order and Mr. Guillett will try to put it in another form. In the meantime Mr. Landerkin has a notice that he will ask whether Mr. Ellis' conduct will be referred to a committee composed of Sir David Macpherson, Hon. J. J. C. Mr. Davies in moving for papers declared that the mail inconveniences of Prince Edward Island had been intensified and increased by the Government's action. Mr. McLelan replied that the construction of a line to Cape Tormentine had overcome the greatest difficulty in the transmission of mails. He held that an improved system was now in operation.

IN THE SENATE. The Senate has had an unusually lively time for that sedate body. They discussed the Fishery Treaty, but as that matter will be threshed out in the popular Chamber I will not review it now. A long discussion also took place on the proposition to frame new rules in divorce proceedings. Senator McCowan, the mever, recognized a sentiment in the country for reform. He staked that there were divorce courts in Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island. Since confederation Nova Scotia

The Press Gallery has elected Mr. Molynens St. John, editor of the Montreal Herild, as President, Mr. Jas. Johnston, of the Ottawa Citizen, Vice President, and Mr. Gook, of the Empire, secretary. There will be the annual press dinner and a group photograph of the knights of the pencil. Mr. Owens, of the Montreal Gazette, has been appointed on Hausard in place of the late Geo. Eyvels.

General Middleton recommends the redistribution of the Garrison Artillery. He redicules what he terms the "military pienics" of the city regiments, which he thinks abould have paid Adjutants and go into regular camps like the country corps. Also, copies of all petitions or other applications for his renoval, and copies of all correspondence with ruference to such petitions or applications for the said removal. Also, copies of all reports to the Executive Council or His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor with reference to the said matters or any of them. He charged that the removal was for political reasons. The Attorney-General denied this. Mr. A. F. Wood was very glad that the hon. member had brought up the discussion. He was prepared to say from personal knowledge that a number of applications in his district, though endid after from a grown the Reform wild. mumber of applications in his district, though eandidates from the Conservative party came forward, when the appointments came out all were made from among the Reform side. Mr. Fleelps brought forward his bill to amend the agt for the protection of game and furbearing animals. This bill makes several radical changes in the game law as applied to deer hunting. It limits seasons; it shall be lawful to kill deer, elk, moose, reindeer or caribea from Nov. 1 to Nov. 30, inclusive. It also prohibits hounds from running at large in any locality where deer are usually found during the first half of November. Every person desiring to hunt deer must take out a special license and must pay $1 per head for every deer, for which purpose he must make a return under oath. WEDNESDAY, Feb. 20.—The debate on the Interprevincial Conference resolutions was begun by Mr. Mowat to-day in a speech in which he referred to the principal resolutions, and explained the necessity for amendments to the constitution. Mr. Meredith replied. He strongly opposed the proposal to transfer the veto jower to the Britiah Government, claiming that it would be a step backward in the history of responsible government. He condemned the Government for giving aid and support to the people of Manthoba in their resistance to fideral laws, and affirmed the meessity for a strong central authority. He denounced the conference scheme of Senate reform as hermsphrodite—neither fish, flesh not towl. He opposed the financial proposals, because he claimed that they were unfair to Ontario. Hon. G. W. Ross followed. He blamed Mr. Meredith for having on svery cocasion been bound fighting against the rights of the people of Ontario. Dr. Gilmour said that Mr. Metcalf had accused Mr. Evantured of being a great stretcher, but he had shown him self a far better one. He (Dr. Gilmour) regretted this discussion on the race question, but it must be remembered that that question was first raised by gentlemen on the Opposition side of the House, as evidenced by the distribution of certain circulars in 1885.
