> It is a specific to all with her parents, and had lived here ever since that time. She was born in St. John, N. B., 30 years ago. During her life in Missoula, from the time she was a little girl, she endeared herself to all with whom she came in contact. In this respect she grew to be an exceptional woman. She was prominent in the social life of the city. In religious circles she was a tireless worker, being a member of the Episcopal church, and being identified prominently with the church organizations. Miss Hatheway was an energetic woman, and one would hardly suspect her of continued illness.

Henry Hatheway was a son of Thomas Hatheway, who ran the Union Line of steamers on the St. John river years ago. He was employed for years as engineer on the Bay of Fundy steamer Emperor and later on the Empress. Before his departure from the city he and his family lived on Pitt street, and later on Orange street, and many friends remember them affectionately. The deceased was thirteen years of age when the family moved to Missoula. Mrs. H. E. Wardroper, of this city, is her aunt.
