

Good Stunts for Boy Scouts

Daniel Boone of Kentucky; Man Who Was Never Caught Unprepared.

Baden-Powell Suggests Despatch Running as Game for Patrols.

By C. L. Gilman.

"Be prepared." This is the motto of the Boy Scouts.

It is right and fair that you fellows should know what scouting means as well as what it is.

"Be prepared," explains it. Camping, signaling, tracking and scouting are all good fun in themselves, but we would have to stop them down as just play if they didn't help a fellow to "be prepared" for real difficulties and dangers which are bound to come to him.

In times past our country has been in dangers and escaped from them because its men were prepared to fight and die for it.

But our country today asks more of its men. It asks them to see clearly what is right and to stick up for that at whatever cost.

You scouts have a splendid chance to reach manhood prepared to live for your country, which takes a whole lot more sense and sand than just dying for it.

"Be prepared" to do this. Every time you are fair in scout games and contests—every time you are kind when you want to be selfish—every time you tell the truth just because it is the truth—every time you stick to what you know is right through thick and thin, you are making yourself stronger to play your part as a man.

No one ever became truthful, fair and brave by just thinking about it. Scouting involves the practice of these virtues every minute as a part of the game.

If you will practice these things as scouts you will be "prepared" to do your duty as men with the wisdom to see what is right and the courage to do it, like Daniel Boone, the old scout, whose motto is the theme of his old rhyme:

"The men who won our mighty west
From foeman white and red
First saw the right as they might Just.

Then bravely went ahead."
Would Daniel Boone, if he were alive today, let an automobile slip up behind and bump him?

Not if half the stories told of the famous scout who led the white settlers in their long and desperate war with the Indians for the possession of the "dark and bloody ground" of Kentucky, are true.

In the days when Daniel Boone walked the woods with his long rifle, the hostile savages had a mighty unpleasant custom of stealing up behind white men and cutting them down with a tomahawk or war club before they knew they were near.

Boone's well-trained ears must have saved him many times from red foes.

Would your ears do as much for you?

Could you slip through the woods so quietly that an alert man would not hear you before you were close enough to touch him?

Daniel Boone.

Here's a game which will prove how good you are in this respect and will help you get good if you are not.

Let each member of your patrol take his turn standing blindfolded in the woods while another scout starts 100 yards away to steal upon his unheard. If the blindfolded scout hears a sound he may face in its direction and say "bang."

If he has faced right he has shot the "Indian" who was stealing up at his back and has won. If he has faced wrong he has missed his shot, but scared the "Indian" who can try again until he is either shot or has taken the scalp by stealing up unheard and touching the blindfolded scout.

This is both a test and training in three important tricks of woodcraft—detecting sound, locating sound and moving without noise.

To make this test fair it should be played off in a "noisy woods." The blindfolded scout must remember the first scout law and not fire unless he honestly hears a sound from the approaching scout.

An admirable scout game is played over "big country" with one scout hiding out and the rest hunting him. The scout hiding must be clever at taking cover in order to skulk back to goal unseen. He must also run some to make goal without being tagged if the searchers find him. The scouts left to guard the goal should keep 100 yards from it in order that the scout hiding out shall have a fair chance to slip past them.

A long distance relay race between patrols is always an interesting stunt. Gen. Baden-Powell in his book, "Scouting for Boys" gives the following directions for the game of "despatch" running:

A scout is sent to carry a note to a certain spot or house from a distance within a given time. "Hostile" forces are detailed to prevent any message getting through and to hide themselves at different points where they may hope to intercept the runner. To count a capture two scouts must touch the runner before he reaches the goal.

LIVES LOST AND SHIPPING DELAYED

Continued From Page One.

Reports received from the city say that all the wires between Sackville and Amherst are down, fifteen sections are down at Memramcook, five sections on the line between the coast and Salisbury and several sections on the line from Moncton to Hillsboro.

The ground is so soft, owing to the recent heavy rains, that the poles were easily pulled out by the wind and consequently the damage is much more serious than it would otherwise have been.

Wind Blowing 65 Miles. Boston, Mass., Nov. 27.—For three days a coast storm has been thrashing about off shore, with its western boundary sweeping the New England shore line, with wind velocity averaging nearly a mile a minute. It is a coincidence that the storm was almost as severe on Cape Cod as that of 12 years ago today.

The gale reached its height yesterday and today, when a maximum velocity of 65 miles an hour was reported, accompanied by snow and rain squalls. As the storm centre is northeast of Cape Cod incoming liners during the next few days probably will have stories to tell of its effects.

Up to dark tonight, no disaster had been reported.

Schooner Damaged. Wakefield, R. I., Nov. 27.—Battered by the gale, that has swept the coast for the past three days, the schooner Harriet C. Whitehead, Captain Peterson of Providence, is at anchor today in the harbor of refuge at Point Judith, undergoing repairs before she proceeds.

The Whitehead, which has 390 tons of fire clay and sand from Perth Amboy to Providence, broke her main boom and suffered other minor damages. She was short-handed and unable to make repairs, so Captain Peterson put in at the harbor of refuge last night. Captain Pierce and crew of the Point Judith Life Saving Station, went out to the schooner today, with some plans to assist in patching up the vessel. It is expected she will proceed to her destination tomorrow if the weather moderates.

Wireless Carried Away. New York, Nov. 27.—The White Star liner Celtic, arriving today from Liverpool via Queenstown, had a tempestuous passage. On Friday, during a storm her wireless apparatus in the rigging was carried away, cutting off all communication with shore as the vessel neared port.

A Week of It. Washington, Nov. 27.—Storms and cold weather generally throughout the country is the prediction of the

CAPT. M'KENZIE DIES AT ANTIGONISH, N. S.

Graduate Of St. Francis Xavier Who Commanded Many Vessels in His Time, Succumbs To Paralysis Stroke.

Antigonish, Nov. 27.—The death occurred today of Capt. McKinnon, of this town at the age of seventy-two.

Captain McKinnon was born at Antigonish in 1838. He was a graduate of St. Francis Xavier College, and entered the employ of C. B. Whidden and Son, Antigonish in 1867, taking command of the following vessels during his life: J. and W. Pitts, Linda, Brigantine Etta, Schrs. Katie, Congo, Gladys E. Whidden, Emma E. Whidden, and Leah A. Whidden.

He retired in 1909 and resided in Antigonish. Several weeks ago he was stricken with a severe stroke of paralysis and was removed to St. Martha's Hospital. Wednesday he took a bad turn, and commenced to sink rapidly.

The deceased was well known throughout the Maritime Provinces. He traded chiefly in the West Indies, Brazil and Newfoundland.

The international weather charts prepared daily at the central office of the weather bureau indicate that during the coming week a series of storms of marked intensity will cross the United States and that temperature changes preceding and following the disturbances will be decided. A disturbance that now covers the Mississippi Valley will advance eastward and cause unsettled weather with rain and snow in northern districts east of the Mississippi during the first part of the week; this disturbance will be followed by a marked change to colder weather as far south as the gulf states and Florida by Monday night or Tuesday.

Another disturbance that is off the north Pacific coast will advance slowly eastward attended by general precipitation and reach the Atlantic states by Thursday; it will be preceded by rising temperature and all probability will be followed by a widespread change to colder weather.

25 DEAD IN FIRE HORROR

Heart Rending Scenes Witnessed At Newark Building Disaster—Survivors Tell Thrilling Story—50 Injured.

Continued From Page One.

Annie Berg, Florence Balsam; Katherine Delling; Katherine Delling; Rose Dienne; Sophie Dienne; Mary Delano; Freda Elba; Mary Collins; Anna Haag; Lena Koenig; Lillian Miller; Anna Ross; Mamma Scherren; Anita Duffin; Ann Rohan; Mrs. Nettie Smith; Angelo Rizzolo; Lena Schrettmuller; Mathilda Melcier; Mary Feeney; Mrs. Emma Douche, of Arlington; John Paddock, Engineer, of Arlington.

Clouds of smoke and showers of burning embers spread over the city and rained down on neighboring roofs. As the news flew and it lost nothing in the telling panic spread to other factories, where many of the girls in peril had friends and relatives and several friends had to start down for the day. Thousands flocked to the fire and made the work of the firemen difficult. Italian silk workers fell into the street and prayed and lamented piteously.

Priests and clergymen worked their way through the press to give the last consolations to those of their different faiths. Ambulances and automobiles, commandeered for emergency service were hurried in opposite streams to hospitals and back again. Before semblance of order could be restored every police reserve in the city had to be called out and it was not until tonight that an estimate of the proper loss could even be ventured.

The firemen now guess $155,000, but no statements from the owners and tenants is as yet available.

Started on Third Floor. The building, a three-story brick structure occupied on the lower floors by the Newark Paper Box Co. and the A. A. Drake Paper Box Co. On the third floor, where the fire started, by the Aetna Electric Co. and on the top floor, where the death list ran heaviest, by the Wolf Manufacturing Co., makers of undergarments.

The fire started in the machinery room on the third floor, where the machinery was soaked with oil dripping from the machinery and the flames ate through them like paste. When they warped and weakened, the weight of the machinery pressed them from the walls and they fell into the basement in a horrible tangle of burned and mangled human beings.

Out of the whole membership of congress, comparatively few have reached the city and there has been little opportunity for exchanges of views as to what should be done during the remainder of the present congress. So far as there has been expression, the predictions of congressmen are against any extension of the programme. Nevertheless, the administration is manifesting a desire to utilize the time to the best advantage in carrying out plans formulated before the change in the political complexion of the country had taken place.

For gratifying as was the record of last session from a party point of view, President John Norris, of New York, the president has made it clear to his callers that he does not purport to extend any part of his programme, although compelled to alter his plans somewhat, just because the Democrats are about to come into control of the House of Representatives.

The short time that remains of Republican majorities in both branches of the national legislature is used by the administration as an argument for pressing forward. Many of his callers concede the point he makes, but being more familiar than he will fill with their total production about 30,000 barrels.

The town is agog with excitement over the libel action which has been instituted against James H. Crockett, managing director of the Gleaner, by R. W. McLellan, as the result of the newspaper controversy which has been going on. Yesterday morning Mr. Crockett, hearing by telephone with Col. Marsh, the police magistrate, of his office. When he appeared the charge was read over and the preliminary hearing set for Thursday, Dec. 1st. The trial was placed in the hands of Mr. Crockett personally and $400 each for two bondsmen, one of whom is David Richards, son of the late William Richards, the other ex-Ald. Charles E. Burchill.

Raising Potatoes. Frank Del Clements is at the head of a syndicate of St. John men who are going into potato raising in the St. John and Sunbury counties next season on an extensive scale. Already they have 59 acres of land in the two counties ploughed and ready for the crop. They are also endeavoring to double their present holdings making their total production about 30,000 barrels.

The town is agog with excitement over the libel action which has been instituted against James H. Crockett, managing director of the Gleaner, by R. W. McLellan, as the result of the newspaper controversy which has been going on. Yesterday morning Mr. Crockett, hearing by telephone with Col. Marsh, the police magistrate, of his office. When he appeared the charge was read over and the preliminary hearing set for Thursday, Dec. 1st. The trial was placed in the hands of Mr. Crockett personally and $400 each for two bondsmen, one of whom is David Richards, son of the late William Richards, the other ex-Ald. Charles E. Burchill.

When he appeared the charge was read over and the preliminary hearing set for Thursday, Dec. 1st. The trial was placed in the hands of Mr. Crockett personally and $400 each for two bondsmen, one of whom is David Richards, son of the late William Richards, the other ex-Ald. Charles E. Burchill.

When he appeared the charge was read over and the preliminary hearing set for Thursday, Dec. 1st. The trial was placed in the hands of Mr. Crockett personally and $400 each for two bondsmen, one of whom is David Richards, son of the late William Richards, the other ex-Ald. Charles E. Burchill.

When he appeared the charge was read over and the preliminary hearing set for Thursday, Dec. 1st. The trial was placed in the hands of Mr. Crockett personally and $400 each for two bondsmen, one of whom is David Richards, son of the late William Richards, the other ex-Ald. Charles E. Burchill.

When he appeared the charge was read over and the preliminary hearing set for Thursday, Dec. 1st. The trial was placed in the hands of Mr. Crockett personally and $400 each for two bondsmen, one of whom is David Richards, son of the late William Richards, the other ex-Ald. Charles E. Burchill.

When he appeared the charge was read over and the preliminary hearing set for Thursday, Dec. 1st. The trial was placed in the hands of Mr. Crockett personally and $400 each for two bondsmen, one of whom is David Richards, son of the late William Richards, the other ex-Ald. Charles E. Burchill.

When he appeared the charge was read over and the preliminary hearing set for Thursday, Dec. 1st. The trial was placed in the hands of Mr. Crockett personally and $400 each for two bondsmen, one of whom is David Richards, son of the late William Richards, the other ex-Ald. Charles E. Burchill.

When he appeared the charge was read over and the preliminary hearing set for Thursday, Dec. 1st. The trial was placed in the hands of Mr. Crockett personally and $400 each for two bondsmen, one of whom is David Richards, son of the late William Richards, the other ex-Ald. Charles E. Burchill.

When he appeared the charge was read over and the preliminary hearing set for Thursday, Dec. 1st. The trial was placed in the hands of Mr. Crockett personally and $400 each for two bondsmen, one of whom is David Richards, son of the late William Richards, the other ex-Ald. Charles E. Burchill.

When he appeared the charge was read over and the preliminary hearing set for Thursday, Dec. 1st. The trial was placed in the hands of Mr. Crockett personally and $400 each for two bondsmen, one of whom is David Richards, son of the late William Richards, the other ex-Ald. Charles E. Burchill.

When he appeared the charge was read over and the preliminary hearing set for Thursday, Dec. 1st. The trial was placed in the hands of Mr. Crockett personally and $400 each for two bondsmen, one of whom is David Richards, son of the late William Richards, the other ex-Ald. Charles E. Burchill.

When he appeared the charge was read over and the preliminary hearing set for Thursday, Dec. 1st. The trial was placed in the hands of Mr. Crockett personally and $400 each for two bondsmen, one of whom is David Richards, son of the late William Richards, the other ex-Ald. Charles E. Burchill.

When he appeared the charge was read over and the preliminary hearing set for Thursday, Dec. 1st. The trial was placed in the hands of Mr. Crockett personally and $400 each for two bondsmen, one of whom is David Richards, son of the late William Richards, the other ex-Ald. Charles E. Burchill.

When he appeared the charge was read over and the preliminary hearing set for Thursday, Dec. 1st. The trial was placed in the hands of Mr. Crockett personally and $400 each for two bondsmen, one of whom is David Richards, son of the late William Richards, the other ex-Ald. Charles E. Burchill.

When he appeared the charge was read over and the preliminary hearing set for Thursday, Dec. 1st. The trial was placed in the hands of Mr. Crockett personally and $400 each for two bondsmen, one of whom is David Richards, son of the late William Richards, the other ex-Ald. Charles E. Burchill.

When he appeared the charge was read over and the preliminary hearing set for Thursday, Dec. 1st. The trial was placed in the hands of Mr. Crockett personally and $400 each for two bondsmen, one of whom is David Richards, son of the late William Richards, the other ex-Ald. Charles E. Burchill.

When he appeared the charge was read over and the preliminary hearing set for Thursday, Dec. 1st. The trial was placed in the hands of Mr. Crockett personally and $400 each for two bondsmen, one of whom is David Richards, son of the late William Richards, the other ex-Ald. Charles E. Burchill.

When he appeared the charge was read over and the preliminary hearing set for Thursday, Dec. 1st. The trial was placed in the hands of Mr. Crockett personally and $400 each for two bondsmen, one of whom is David Richards, son of the late William Richards, the other ex-Ald. Charles E. Burchill.

When he appeared the charge was read over and the preliminary hearing set for Thursday, Dec. 1st. The trial was placed in the hands of Mr. Crockett personally and $400 each for two bondsmen, one of whom is David Richards, son of the late William Richards, the other ex-Ald. Charles E. Burchill.

When he appeared the charge was read over and the preliminary hearing set for Thursday, Dec. 1st. The trial was placed in the hands of Mr. Crockett personally and $400 each for two bondsmen, one of whom is David Richards, son of the late William Richards, the other ex-Ald. Charles E. Burchill.

When he appeared the charge was read over and the preliminary hearing set for Thursday, Dec. 1st. The trial was placed in the hands of Mr. Crockett personally and $400 each for two bondsmen, one of whom is David Richards, son of the late William Richards, the other ex-Ald. Charles E. Burchill.

When he appeared the charge was read over and the preliminary hearing set for Thursday, Dec. 1st. The trial was placed in the hands of Mr. Crockett personally and $400 each for two bondsmen, one of whom is David Richards, son of the late William Richards, the other ex-Ald. Charles E. Burchill.

When he appeared the charge was read over and the preliminary hearing set for Thursday, Dec. 1st. The trial was placed in the hands of Mr. Crockett personally and $400 each for two bondsmen, one of whom is David Richards, son of the late William Richards, the other ex-Ald. Charles E. Burchill.

When he appeared the charge was read over and the preliminary hearing set for Thursday, Dec. 1st. The trial was placed in the hands of Mr. Crockett personally and $400 each for two bondsmen, one of whom is David Richards, son of the late William Richards, the other ex-Ald. Charles E. Burchill.

When he appeared the charge was read over and the preliminary hearing set for Thursday, Dec. 1st. The trial was placed in the hands of Mr. Crockett personally and $400 each for two bondsmen, one of whom is David Richards, son of the late William Richards, the other ex-Ald. Charles E. Burchill.

When he appeared the charge was read over and the preliminary hearing set for Thursday, Dec. 1st. The trial was placed in the hands of Mr. Crockett personally and $400 each for two bondsmen, one of whom is David Richards, son of the late William Richards, the other ex-Ald. Charles E. Burchill.

Believed That President Taft Will Agree To Delay For One Year In Further Change On Schedules.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 27.—When congress meets a week from tomorrow it will have just three months in which to perform a task which will be the demands of the Republican administration. After that the fate of the Taft executive programme will depend on the will of Democratic house and Republican senate, a condition which will continue until the end of President Taft's present term of office, combined with a situation of confusion, the success or failure of the approaching short session of the 61st congress is believed to rest with the president a task far more difficult and complex than any that has been presented to an executive within a score of years.

Believed that he will be criticized if he fails to demand of congress further revision of the tariff, especially of the wool and woolen schedule and fully cognizant of the fact that the prospects would be all against the success of such a programme if submitted, the president it is said, has not made up his mind definitely what his policy will be. The chances are that he will not insist upon action during the approaching session, but that he will offer to the Democratic house and the Republican senate a year hence a programme for tariff revision which will be bolstered up with facts and figures gathered in the meantime by the tariff board.

No Extended Programme. Out of the whole membership of congress, comparatively few have reached the city and there has been little opportunity for exchanges of views as to what should be done during the remainder of the present congress. So far as there has been expression, the predictions of congressmen are against any extension of the programme. Nevertheless, the administration is manifesting a desire to utilize the time to the best advantage in carrying out plans formulated before the change in the political complexion of the country had taken place.

For gratifying as was the record of last session from a party point of view, President John Norris, of New York, the president has made it clear to his callers that he does not purport to extend any part of his programme, although compelled to alter his plans somewhat, just because the Democrats are about to come into control of the House of Representatives.

The short time that remains of Republican majorities in both branches of the national legislature is used by the administration as an argument for pressing forward. Many of his callers concede the point he makes, but being more familiar than he will fill with their total production about 30,000 barrels.

The town is agog with excitement over the libel action which has been instituted against James H. Crockett, managing director of the Gleaner, by R. W. McLellan, as the result of the newspaper controversy which has been going on. Yesterday morning Mr. Crockett, hearing by telephone with Col. Marsh, the police magistrate, of his office. When he appeared the charge was read over and the preliminary hearing set for Thursday, Dec. 1st. The trial was placed in the hands of Mr. Crockett personally and $400 each for two bondsmen, one of whom is David Richards, son of the late William Richards, the other ex-Ald. Charles E. Burchill.

When he appeared the charge was read over and the preliminary hearing set for Thursday, Dec. 1st. The trial was placed in the hands of Mr. Crockett personally and $400 each for two bondsmen, one of whom is David Richards, son of the late William Richards, the other ex-Ald. Charles E. Burchill.

When he appeared the charge was read over and the preliminary hearing set for Thursday, Dec. 1st. The trial was placed in the hands of Mr. Crockett personally and $400 each for two bondsmen, one of whom is David Richards, son of the late William Richards, the other ex-Ald. Charles E. Burchill.

When he appeared the charge was read over and the preliminary hearing set for Thursday, Dec. 1st. The trial was placed in the hands of Mr. Crockett personally and $400 each for two bondsmen, one of whom is David Richards, son of the late William Richards, the other ex-Ald. Charles E. Burchill.

When he appeared the charge was read over and the preliminary hearing set for Thursday, Dec. 1st. The trial was placed in the hands of Mr. Crockett personally and $400 each for two bondsmen, one of whom is David Richards, son of the late William Richards, the other ex-Ald. Charles E. Burchill.

When he appeared the charge was read over and the preliminary hearing set for Thursday, Dec. 1st. The trial was placed in the hands of Mr. Crockett personally and $400 each for two bondsmen, one of whom is David Richards, son of the late William Richards, the other ex-Ald. Charles E. Burchill.

When he appeared the charge was read over and the preliminary hearing set for Thursday, Dec. 1st. The trial was placed in the hands of Mr. Crockett personally and $400 each for two bondsmen, one of whom is David Richards, son of the late William Richards, the other ex-Ald. Charles E. Burchill.

When he appeared the charge was read over and the preliminary hearing set for Thursday, Dec. 1st. The trial was placed in the hands of Mr. Crockett personally and $400 each for two bondsmen, one of whom is David Richards, son of the late William Richards, the other ex-Ald. Charles E. Burchill.

When he appeared the charge was read over and the preliminary hearing set for Thursday, Dec. 1st. The trial was placed in the hands of Mr. Crockett personally and $400 each for two bondsmen, one of whom is David Richards, son of the late William Richards, the other ex-Ald. Charles E. Burchill.

When he appeared the charge was read over and the preliminary hearing set for Thursday, Dec. 1st. The trial was placed in the hands of Mr. Crockett personally and $400 each for two bondsmen, one of whom is David Richards, son of the late William Richards, the other ex-Ald. Charles E. Burchill.

When he appeared the charge was read over and the preliminary hearing set for Thursday, Dec. 1st. The trial was placed in the hands of Mr. Crockett personally and $400 each for two bondsmen, one of whom is David Richards, son of the late William Richards, the other ex-Ald. Charles E. Burchill.

When he appeared the charge was read over and the preliminary hearing set for Thursday, Dec. 1st. The trial was placed in the hands of Mr. Crockett personally and $400 each for two bondsmen, one of whom is David Richards, son of the late William Richards, the other ex-Ald. Charles E. Burchill.

When he appeared the charge was read over and the preliminary hearing set for Thursday, Dec. 1st. The trial was placed in the hands of Mr. Crockett personally and $400 each for two bondsmen, one of whom is David Richards, son of the late William Richards, the other ex-Ald. Charles E. Burchill.

When he appeared the charge was read over and the preliminary hearing set for Thursday, Dec. 1st. The trial was placed in the hands of Mr. Crockett personally and $400 each for two bondsmen, one of whom is David Richards, son of the late William Richards, the other ex-Ald. Charles E. Burchill.

When he appeared the charge was read over and the preliminary hearing set for Thursday, Dec. 1st. The trial was placed in the hands of Mr. Crockett personally and $400 each for two bondsmen, one of whom is David Richards, son of the late William Richards, the other ex-Ald. Charles E. Burchill.

When he appeared the charge was read over and the preliminary hearing set for Thursday, Dec. 1st. The trial was placed in the hands of Mr. Crockett personally and $400 each for two bondsmen, one of whom is David Richards, son of the late William Richards, the other ex-Ald. Charles E. Burchill.

When he appeared the charge was read over and the preliminary hearing set for Thursday, Dec. 1st. The trial was placed in the hands of Mr. Crockett personally and $400 each for two bondsmen, one of whom is David Richards, son of the late William Richards, the other ex-Ald. Charles E. Burchill.

When he appeared the charge was read over and the preliminary hearing set for Thursday, Dec. 1st. The trial was placed in the hands of Mr. Crockett personally and $400 each for two bondsmen, one of whom is David Richards, son of the late William Richards, the other ex-Ald. Charles E. Burchill.

When he appeared the charge was read over and the preliminary hearing set for Thursday, Dec. 1st. The trial was placed in the hands of Mr. Crockett personally and $400 each for two bondsmen, one of whom is David Richards, son of the late William Richards, the other ex-Ald. Charles E. Burchill.

When he appeared the charge was read over and the preliminary hearing set for Thursday, Dec. 1st. The trial was placed in the hands of Mr. Crockett personally and $400 each for two bondsmen, one of whom is David Richards, son of the late William Richards, the other ex-Ald. Charles E. Burchill.

When he appeared the charge was read over and the preliminary hearing set for Thursday, Dec. 1st. The trial was placed in the hands of Mr. Crockett personally and $400 each for two bondsmen, one of whom is David Richards, son of the late William Richards, the other ex-Ald. Charles E. Burchill.

When he appeared the charge was read over and the preliminary hearing set for Thursday, Dec. 1st. The trial was placed in the hands of Mr. Crockett personally and $400 each for two bondsmen, one of whom is David Richards, son of the late William Richards, the other ex-Ald. Charles E. Burchill.

When he appeared the charge was read over and the preliminary hearing set for Thursday, Dec. 1st. The trial was placed in the hands of Mr. Crockett personally and $400 each for two bondsmen, one of whom is David Richards, son of the late William Richards, the other ex-Ald. Charles E. Burchill.

When he appeared the charge was read over and the preliminary hearing set for Thursday, Dec. 1st. The trial was placed in the hands of Mr. Crockett personally and $400 each for two bondsmen, one of whom is David Richards, son of the late William Richards, the other ex-Ald. Charles E. Burchill.

When he appeared the charge was read over and the preliminary hearing set for Thursday, Dec. 1st. The trial was placed in the hands of Mr. Crockett personally and $400 each for two bondsmen, one of whom is David Richards, son of the late William Richards, the other ex-Ald. Charles E. Burchill.

When he appeared the charge was read over and the preliminary hearing set for Thursday, Dec. 1st. The trial was placed in the hands of Mr. Crockett personally and $400 each for two bondsmen, one of whom is David Richards, son of the late William Richards, the other ex-Ald. Charles E. Burchill.

When he appeared the charge was read over and the preliminary hearing set for Thursday, Dec. 1st. The trial was placed in the hands of Mr. Crockett personally and $400 each for two bondsmen, one of whom is David Richards, son of the late William Richards, the other ex-Ald. Charles E. Burchill.

When he appeared the charge was read over and the preliminary hearing set for Thursday, Dec. 1st. The trial was placed in the hands of Mr. Crockett personally and $400 each for two bondsmen, one of whom is David Richards, son of the late William Richards, the other ex-Ald. Charles E. Burchill.

When he appeared the charge was read over and the preliminary hearing set for Thursday, Dec. 1st. The trial was placed in the hands of Mr. Crockett personally and $400 each for two bondsmen, one of whom is David Richards, son of the late William Richards, the other ex-Ald. Charles E. Burchill.

When he appeared the charge was read over and the preliminary hearing set for Thursday, Dec. 1st. The trial was placed in the hands of Mr. Crockett personally and $400 each for two bondsmen, one of whom is David Richards, son of the late William Richards, the other ex-Ald. Charles E. Burchill.

When he appeared the charge was read over and the preliminary hearing set for Thursday, Dec. 1st. The trial was placed in the hands of Mr. Crockett personally and $400 each for two bondsmen, one of whom is David Richards, son of the late William Richards, the other ex-Ald. Charles E. Burchill.

When he appeared the charge was read over and the preliminary hearing set for Thursday, Dec. 1st. The trial was placed in the hands of Mr. Crockett personally and $400 each for two bondsmen, one of whom is David Richards, son of the late William Richards, the other ex-Ald. Charles E. Burchill.

When he appeared the charge was read over and the preliminary hearing set for Thursday, Dec. 1st. The trial was placed in the hands of Mr. Crockett personally and $400 each for two bondsmen, one of whom is David Richards, son of the late William Richards, the other ex-Ald. Charles E. Burchill.

When he appeared the charge was read over and the preliminary hearing set for Thursday, Dec. 1st. The trial was placed in the hands of Mr. Crockett personally and $400 each for two bondsmen, one of whom is David Richards, son of the late William Richards, the other ex-Ald. Charles E. Burchill.