Took Severe Cold ON HIS LUNGS.

COUGHED PLEGM and BLOOD.

On the first appearance of a cough or cold, do not neglect it, but get rid of it at once before it has a chance to grow worse, and gets settled on the lungs, causing bronchitis, pneumonia and other serious lung troubles.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup will cure the cough or cold on its first inception and perhaps save you years of suffering.

Mrs. G. F. Strayk, a woman, Sask. writes: "Last winter I took a very severe cold on my lungs and was coughing up phlegm and blood most of the time. I had the cough for two months, and took a great deal of different medicines, but found no relief from them. At last a friend advised me to take Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, which I did, and it gave me great relief in a very short time, and today I am enjoying good health again."

The marvelous results that Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup has achieved in its cures of coughs and colds has caused many so-called "cure" preparations to be put on the market, which do not contain any pine whatever. See that you get the genuine when you ask for it.

Put up in a yellow wrapper, three pines the trade mark; price 25c and 50c. Manufactured only by The T. Millburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

CREAM FOR CATARRH OPENS UP NOSTRILS

Tells How To Get Quick Relief from Head-Colds. It's Splendid!

In one minute your head nostrils will open, the air passages will clear and you can breathe freely. No more yawning, snuffling, blowing, headachy dryness, no struggling for breath at night, you cold or catarrh will be gone.

Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist now. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic, healing cream in your nostrils. It penetrates through every air passage of the head, soothes the inflamed, swollen mucous membrane and relieves comes instantly.

It's just fast. Don't stay stuffed up with a cold or nasty catarrh—Relief comes so quickly.

Hair Often Ruined By Careless Washing

If you want to keep your hair looking its best, be careful when you wash it with. Don't use prepared shampoos or anything else, that contains too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it. The best thing for steady use is just ordinary medicated coconut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub in. It makes an abundance of rich creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get medicated coconut oil at any pharmacy. It's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

How Any Woman Can Remove Hairy Growths

(Beauty Culture).

It is not longer necessary for a woman to visit a beauty specialist to have superfluous hairs removed, for, with the aid of a plain delatone paste, she can, in the privacy of her own home, remove even a stubborn growth in a very few minutes. The paste is made by mixing some water with a little powdered delatone. This is applied to the hairs and after two or three minutes removed and the skin washed, when it will be left clear and hairless. Be sure you buy real delatone.

FIRST OF SERIES GIVEN AT N. H. S.

Mrs. John Seely Tells of Jerusalem in Lecture Yesterday—Fine Views.

The first of the series of lectures annually arranged by the Ladies' Association of the Natural History Society, took place yesterday afternoon, when before a very large audience, Mrs. John Seely delivered a very fine lecture on Jerusalem, illustrated with a number of beautiful views.

The speaker told of the ancient glories of the city, its story and the influence it had exercised upon the surrounding nations. The wonderful part played by Palestine in the history of the world was dwelt upon to a very instructive manner. Pictures were shown of Assyria, Babylon, Persia and other eastern lands, the views being described in an eloquent way.

Mrs. John Seely, who presided, called upon some one from the large audience to voice the sentiment of the gathering, and Mrs. George Mathew moved a very appreciative vote of thanks to Mrs. Seely for her delightful lecture.

During the afternoon Miss Louise Knight sang two solos, "A Hebrew Song" and a selection from "The Creation." Several members of the Trinity choir rendered two psalms. The musical part of the program was arranged by Miss Knight, and all present were charmed with the entertainment.

RECEPTION HELD BY MRS. VINCENT

President of Kindergarten Association Gives Afternoon Tea for Those Interested in the Work.

A very delightful informal reception was given by Mrs. N. Vincent, president of the Kindergarten Association, at her residence, Grand street, yesterday afternoon. The invited guests were those especially interested in the work of the association, and the occasion was made a very pleasant one. There were on exhibition a number of articles, pretty and useful, made by the children of the Kindergarten and Free Play grounds, showing the skill gained in handicraft by the pupils.

The hostess was assisted in receiving by Mrs. Francis W. Rouse, and a number of young ladies who assisted Miss Vincent.

DENEKINE LAYS OUT BOLSHIEVIKI

Quebec, January 14.—General Denekine, the anti-Bolshevik leader in southern Russia, has inflicted a sharp defeat on the Bolsheviks on the river Kuma, in the Caucasus. One thousand prisoners were captured by his forces.

After two days of fighting General Denekine captured Alexandra Grushin, the Bolshevik leader, and a number of light field guns and machine guns.

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Easily and cheaply made at home, but it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save forty-fifths of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using this famous old recipe for making cough syrup at home. It is simple and cheap to make, but it really has no equal for prompt results. It takes right hold of a cough and gives ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth) from any druggist, pour it into a 16-oz. bottle, and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make 16 ounces. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens the membrane, and gradually but surely removes throat tickle and dreads cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, whooping cough or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its healing effect on the membranes.

Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for 2½ ounces of Pinex with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded.

WOMEN INDIGNANT OVER MRS. COREY'S $75,000 COAT

New England Opinion Scores it as Extravagant in Time of War Conservation.

Boston women are indignant over yesterday's news that Mrs. William E. Corey, wife of an American steel king, has paid $75,000 for a sable coat made of the finest pelts in the world. Thousands of women are suffering from the lack of pelts for coats, and the pelts for Mrs. Corey's coat were finally selected and New York furs have been making up these pelts into the elaborate and luxurious coat.

"Back in the good old Puritan days there were laws for women relating to the sumptuousness of their garments. There are no laws now, except those of good taste, for New England women, according to the dozens of women who telephoned to give their opinion on the subject of a $75,000 coat Mrs. Corey has no moral right to make such a purchase."

With little French and Belgian children shivering in the cold of their wrecked homes, and with men and women in the stricken lands of Armenia and Roumania crying for bread, it is not believed right to wear a $75,000 sable coat, even if one has money enough to pay for it.

Mrs. Myra Lord, ex-president of the New England Press Association, was the first to voice her indignation. She said several other women had spoken to her in no uncertain terms of their disgust that an American woman should thus be able to buy the sincere and thoughtful war workers.

A friend of Mrs. Lord's, a mother of a soldier overseas, said: "In the name of the womanhood of New England and of America, in the name of women who have given their husbands and sons for their country's need, who have saved and are saving food and clothing for the world's need, we wish to protest against this exploitation of extravagance."

"The making and wearing of a fur coat cost $75,000 when millions of people in Europe and in our own land are dying of cold and hunger, is an insult and an outrage that should not be possible in times like these."

Extravagance Criticized.

Miss Alice Stone Blackwell believed that Mrs. Corey spent entirely too much on the fur coat, but she thought that all American women are spending more than they ought to. "I think we all ought to struggle," she said, "against our extravagant tendencies in these times of need."

Mrs. Samuel W. McCall, wife of the ex-governor, believed the coat an unwarranted extravagance unless there were extenuating circumstances, such as the employment of several men, which would remove the stigma.

Miss Frances G. Curtis, of the School Committee said that this is only one example of foolish women's extravagance. "You've got to have furs, people everywhere," she said, "and Mrs. Corey is only one of many."

Mrs. Alice B. Dillaby, social worker of Brighton, said the purchase of the coat was "out of place."

"With the amount of money a family could be supported in luxury for life, with several deeds of charity on the side," she said.

Should Remember French Women.

Other women were loud in condemnation of the purchase of the coat. Many women who did not want their names published considered that the wearing of a $75,000 sable coat would not give Mrs. Corey as much pleasure as giving away the money to little war orphans.

One man grew indignant and wrote a letter to the Globe protesting against the unpatriotic buying of a $75,000 coat. He quoted the sentence from a newspaper, "Mrs. Corey expects to wear the coat in the late winter season when social activities are at their height."

Then she will be able to forget the Paris women who have given their all to the war and are unable to obtain even old shawls to keep warm. Does she expect the people of this country and France to admire the coat?"

Mrs. Mary Kennedy O'Sullivan of Roxbury, writing to the Globe, says: "As an example of conservation, the $75,000 Russian sable coat of Mrs. Corey is entirely out of place."

CHURCHES UNITE FOR BIG FUND

Fourteen Protestant Denominations Will Provide for Reconstruction Work.

New York, Jan. 14.—Following the lead of Protestant denominations will join soon in a campaign to raise $10,000,000 for after-war emergency needs. "This inter-church campaign is for the support of those distinct tasks of the Church for which she alone is responsible and which cannot be delegated to any other organization," says the statement of the committee, which was issued yesterday.

The campaign in no way affects projects now under way in some of the denominations for missions and other benevolent causes, but will be co-ordinated with them, the statement continues.

"The work to be supported by the funds asked for in the coming campaign is entirely distinct from that of the Y. M. C. A., for which funds were provided in the United War Work Drive."

It is believed this campaign also will do much toward helping church unity. It will be put into effect within the next few weeks.

The denominations represented are Protestant Episcopal, Methodist Episcopal, Presbyterian Church North, United Methodist Church, Baptist Church North, Congregational Reform Church in America, Reformed Church in United States, United Lutheran Church of America, Evangelical Association, United Evangelical Synod of North America, Disciples of Christ and the Christian Church.

The chairman of the general committee is the Right Rev. Theodore I. Reese, Coadjutor Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Southern Ohio. He has been serving as chairman of the Executive Committee of the Episcopal War Commission, No. 14 Wall street. The secretary is the Rev. Alfred Williams Anthony, who is executive secretary of the Protestant Home Missions Council. The treasurer is E. F. Elliot, who is treasurer of the National Lutheran Commission for the Soldiers' and Sailors' Welfare.

The Executive Committee consists of the officers together with the Rev. Henry A. Atkinson, E. M. Bowman, Professor William Adams Brown of Union Theological Seminary, the Rev. Dr. Fred B. Haggard, of the Baptist Church North, and James M. Speers, a Presbyterian and president of the Lutheran Missionary Society. The Finance Committee consists of Mr. Albert M. Bowman and Mr. Speers.

The coming campaign is the outcome of numerous conferences of representatives of these several religious bodies which have been held in this city since last June.

The campaign will be conducted simultaneously by the co-operating churches. Each denomination will have its own publicity and organization to gather the funds from its membership. The individual campaigns, however, will take place, as far as possible, at the same time.

The objects are alike, common methods will be used.

The principal tasks which the denominations will perform, when they get the $10,000,000 have been summarized by the committee, as follows: "Maintaining additional hospitals and ambulances; providing food and clothing for the regular chaplain minister to the soldiers and seamen, especially to the sick and to those recovering from wounds. At present there is only one chaplain to each 1,200 men.

"Providing adequate equipment and workers for local churches in the neighborhood of parts of debilitation, in camps and in industrial centres.

"Supplying Bibles and other books, equipment and emergency funds to army and navy chaplains during the period of demobilization.

Assisting church colleges to readjust their disorganized and disoriented students upon the discontinuance of the Students' Army Training Corps.

Providing scholarships for returning soldiers who would not otherwise be able to complete their college courses.

Assisting in the restoration and extension of the evangelical churches of Europe, especially in the war zone."

The co-operating denominations will contribute proportionately to a joint fund to meet the expenses of the undertaking.

William E. Corey, wife of the steel magnate, furnishes much food for thought.

"The newspapers tell us that millions are now starving in Russia; that countless thousands of children and babies are suffering for food and clothing throughout the rest of Europe and that other thousands of babies in our own country are dying of influenza due to malnutrition. They tell us of the present milk famine in New York city, where the abnormal price makes milk prohibitive, not only to the poor, but to the hospitals filled with our wounded soldiers.

"What does a $75,000 sable coat represent? Not moral. Not ethical, certainly; not of a constructive nature, except from the standpoint of mere acquisition. This coat is bought at a time when the whole world is struggling against waste—when countless little crosses in France mark the resting place of those who have given all, that posterity might live."

NEW YORK LIVES SMART PACE

Cabarets and Restaurants Prepare for Liveliest Period on Record in Next Six Months.

New York, Jan. 14.—Following a period in which Broadway has been hampered, darkened and troubled by a combination of elements coincident to the war, there are unmistakable evidences in the Great White Lane that it is to know the very zenith of activity in the six months assured before the crushing blow of prohibition. With a great volume of business never equaled in the history of the great thoroughfare the certainty of further growth—however temporary it may prove—has resulted in unprecedented activity on the part of the restaurant and cabaret managers.

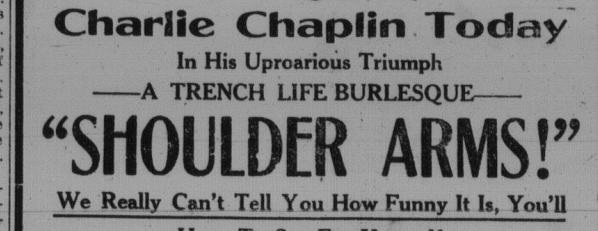

It has long been known that the nation's financial temperament is as fickle as a child. Cabaret entertainment in Broadway is no longer a mere diversion, but a necessity of the establishments dear to its heart are packed to the doors nightly. And the elements involved in the expenditure of the ample money in evidence include business men from all over the world who have profited by war and business men from the same wide-spread area who expect to profit by peace. It is a period of double edged sword and Broadway is prepared to the last essential to cater to it.

Scene States have gone dry, some of the largest cities in the country have become regions of confined joy because of municipal restrictions, but New York, through a combination of satisfactory circumstances, has virtually a free hand in the development of gaiety. Although every accepted adjunct of Broadway life is being featured as never before, Broadway is combining caution with zeal, and the laws are as tolerant as laws are ever likely to be. Broadway recognizes the golden opportunity and as a result combines joy and obedience.

The big cabarets have been made bigger, augmented orchestras have been further augmented and the people who dine at the restaurants are forced to a choice between any of the attractions which they had in mind and the big production on view within sight of the tables. Cabaret entertainment in Broadway is no longer supplementing the entertainment of the theatres, it is competing with it, and to a very great extent successfully.

Miss Jean Wynne and Miss Jennie Woods, Fredericton, are visiting in the city today.
