FEEDING BRAINS

Why Studious Children Always Crave

Nature gives oats more organic phosphorus than to any other grain she grows. And phosphorus is the brain's main constitueat. Brains can't grow, brains can't work without it. Oatsalso contain more lecithin—the nerve greatest energy food.

That's why growing children love oatmeal. Some instinct within them calls for these elements, and woe to the child who doesn't get all it wants.

The right oats for food are the rich, plump grains. In the choicest oats there are but ten pounds to the bushel. In making Quaker Oats these choice grains are selected by 62 separate siftings.

Quaker Oats — just the cream of the oats — costs but one-half cent per dish. One dish is worth two dishes of common oatmeal Don't you think it would pay to serve your children such oats?
