93	Cartier and Raymond, of St. Hyacinthe. This case has been commenced, but the parties not having used becoming diligence, it cannot be included in this Report. Mr. Cartier has been summoned, but has not yet appeared.
98	Etienne Couillard Desprès, of St. Hyacinthe - - - This is a loyal man, who exerted himself to prevent the rising of the habitans in his neighbourhood at the commencement of the rebellion of 1837. He cut down the liberty pole opposite to the house of Madame Dessaulles, at St. Hyacinthe, which had been erected there in honour of L. J. Papineau. His claim is generally for loss of time, and for expenses incurred in residing in Montreal with his family, having been obliged to fly from St. Hyacinthe. The Commissioners cannot entertain the claim, no actual loss having been sustained.	103 7 6
109	Joseph Gaouette, of St. Hyacinthe - - - - - This is a claim for loss of time, and for a gratuity, in consequence of the claimant's conduct in opposing the rebels, who threatened and ill-treated him. As in the preceding case, the Commissioners cannot entertain it.	73 - -
113	François Benoit, of Longueuil - - - - - This is a claim for articles taken from claimant by the troops during their occupation of Longueuil, on the occasion of the arrest of Demerais and Davignon.	7 14 6	5 3 -
114	Basile Vincelette, of Longueuil - - - - - This is a case precisely similar to the one preceding.	11 12 9	7 15 2
120	Louis Chicou Duvert, of St. Charles. The Commissioners beg to refer to their original Report in favour of the claimant, previous to the addition of the Note appended to it.* They have since taken additional evidence, which has removed the doubts they entertained when that note was written, and they adhere to their original award in claimant's favour, as carried out in the columns of their First Report, dated 12th December 1838.
* See p. 15, 16.
121	Marie Ayotte, of St. Denis - - - - - This is a claim made by a single woman for loss of her wearing apparel, taken away from her mother's house at St. Denis, during its occupation by the troops and volunteers in 1837.	18 14 2	12 10 -
125	Prudent Malot, of Belœil - - - - - This being a claim against the firm of Wolfred Nelson &amp; Co., of St. Denis, the claimant is referred to his legal recourse.	408 7 3
129	Widow Paradis, of St. Charles - - - - - This is a claim made by a loyal and respectable woman, mother of the claimants under the three next numbers. Immediately after the capture of St. Charles by the troops under Colonel Wetherall, her house was pillaged, and she suffered great damage, as well in the loss of her own as of her daughter's clothing.	10 1 8	6 14 6
130	Emilie Paradis, of St. Charles - - - - - Daughter of the above.	24 16 7	16 11 -
131	Julie Paradis, of St. Charles - - - - - Another daughter of the claimant, No. 129.	21 19 8	14 13 4
136	Augustin Paradis, of St. Charles - - - - - Son of the claimant, No. 129.	50 13 10	33 15 10
