PREFACE.

The publishers, when they undertook the task of publishing a full and complete Gazetteer and Directory of the Counties of Oxford and Norfolk, fully realized the responsibility of the undertaking. Their earnest endeavor has been to make it interesting as a chronicle of the early settlement and progress of these sections, and full and reliable as a business guide. The many new features introduced into this work—which are purely original—add materially to its value as a book of reference; and, when the many sources from which its information is gleaned are taken into consideration, it will not be a matter of surprise if a few errors have found their way into its pages. The publishers believe that an impartial view of its contents will satisfy every one of its general correctness.

In the compilation of the work, the publishers desire to acknowledge the aid received from the researches of T. S. Shenstone, Esq., Registrar of the County of Brant, and the material and valuable assistance rendered by James Ingersoll, Esq., Registrar of Oxford, one of its earliest settlers; also, they tender their thanks to C. J. Fuller, Esq., and James Ermatinger, Esq., both of Simcoe, and David White, Esq., County Clerk, County of Oxford, for the cheerfulness with which aid was accorded to the enterprise; and also to the many gentlemen throughout the counties who furnished every necessary information with a willingness that was greatly encouraging.

The publishers desire also to tender their thanks to the editors of the several newspapers in Oxford and Norfolk, for the many courtesies received at their hands during the progress of the work—and to the professional and business men who have so liberally patronized the undertaking.
