curative elements in this trial package to greatly reduce the swelling of the affected part, to heal much of the soreness and ulceration. After the sample is gone your druggist will supply you with a box of the Pyramids for 50 cents.

Read Mrs. Bond's letter, which tells how she suffered and was relieved, if not positively cured, after using one 50 cent box.

"I have tried your pile cure and find them all you recommend them. I am very thankful to you for ever putting them within my reach, for I have had one box, and I have not used all of them yet, and I feel like a new woman to-day, and I tell everybody about them. When I started them I could not walk across the floor, but now I can do my work all right. My work was a burden to me before I started them, but I can tell you that I can work much better now. You can rely on me. I will tell everybody about Pyramid Pile Cure. Yours sincerely, Mrs. J. Bond, Toronto, Canada, 33 Pears Ave."

There is positively no risk or danger with the Pyramid Pile Cure, for there is nothing but curatives in the preparation. They are suppositories which placed in the affected part, act as a soothing ointment working upon the infected and ulcerous tissues, giving them new life and stimulating a stronger circulation of the blood.

By the use of the Pyramid Pile Cure the patient is cured at home without losing a day's work, no matter what his occupation. The cure may be accomplished in absolute privacy. We use no names for advertising purposes without the voluntary consent of the patient.

A window, depicting the Four Evangelists, and beneath each of them a scene in the life of Our Lord, only mentioned in the Gospel of the Evangelist who appears above it, was lately unveiled in the parish church of Tanderagee, in the Diocese of Armagh, in the presence of a large congregation by Her Grace the Duchess of Manchester, who gave the window in memory of her mother. Under St. Matthew is placed "The Adoration of the Wise Men"; under St. Mark, "The Healing of the Blind Man"; under St. Luke, "Our Lord amongst the Doctors in the Temple," and under St. John, "The Raising of Lazarus." The whole window is finely executed in rich and harmonious colours, and was entirely designed and carried out by Mr. A. O. Hemming, of London.

A beautiful stained-glass window has just been placed in the Church of St. Thomas's, Kensal Town, North Kensington. The window is to the memory of the late Mr. George Cox Bompas, and is the gift of Mrs. Bompas and her family. The centre light contains a figure of the risen Saviour, and the sidelights contain figures of St. Thomas and St. John. Over the head of the Saviour are St. Thomas's words, "My Lord and My God," whilst at His feet are His own words to St. Thomas, "Blessed are they that have not seen and yet have believed." The late Mr. G. C. Bompas, who was a brother of Judge Bompas and the late Bishop Bompas, of Selkirk, may be said to have been one of the founders of the parish of St. Thomas's, Kensal Town, in which district he was keenly interested as a Christian worker for upwards of forty years. He was a most liberal donor toward the erection of the church and to the building of the fine Mission Hall adjoining. Mr. Bompas was for many years before his death Treasurer of the Bishop of London's Fund, towards which he was always a large contributor.

CRADLE SONG.

There's a little white bed in a house
That I know,
And a mother sits rocking it,
Gently and slow;
Rocking and singing with Love so deep
For the little wee baby
There fast asleep.

Hushaby, lullaby, baby dear,
Cuddle down closely, do not fear;
The same loving care guards you and me
That watches the nestlings in their tree.

There's an oriole's nest in the Old willow tree,
And in it are birdies small—
One, two, three.
Hushaby, baby, the
South wind sings
As each little breeze the Nest cradle swings.

Hushaby, lullaby, birdies small,
Cuddle down closely, you cannot fall;
The same loving care guards you in the tree
That watches so tenderly baby and me. —Emma A. Whittier.

A TRUE STORY ABOUT A HORSE.

When I was a little girl we lived in the country, about a mile from the schoolhouse. Every pleasant day we girls walked to school. When it was stormy my father generally carried us in the morning and we stayed at school through the day.

Our horse, Charley, was very knowing and kind. He knew so well the way from our house to the school that he was often trusted to go alone.

Often towards the close of a stormy afternoon my father would harness the good horse to the wagon, take him to the road and say, "Charley, go and get the girls."

Charley would trot down the road to the schoolhouse, would himself turn the wagon so that he was headed toward home, and there wait till school was out, when we climbed into the wagon and drove home. There he was rewarded with loving words, pats and apples. I am glad to remember that our faithful horse was always treated kindly. Father refused all offers to sell him and he ended his days with us.

There is something very wonderful in music. Words are wonderful enough, but music is even more wonderful. It speaks not to our own thoughts as words do; it speaks straight to our hearts, spirits, to the very core and root of our souls. Music soothes us, stirs us up; it puts noble feelings into us; it melts us to tears. We know not how; it is language by itself just as perfect in its way as speech. As words; just as divine, just as blessed. Music has been called the speech of angels; I go further, and call it the speech of God Himself.—Charles Kingsley

Why, it is asked, are there so many snares? That we may not fly low, but may seek the things which are above. For just as birds, so long as they cleave the upper air, are not easily caught, so thou also, as long as thou lookest at things above, wilt not easily be captured, whether by a snare or by any other device of evil.—Chrysostom.

Insanity From Exhausted Nerves.

The leading artist of a great New York newspaper committed suicide recently because on his return home he found his apartments in disorder, the painters and decorators being in possession.

This is an illustration of overwrought nerves leading to insanity, and, whatever may be the last straw to unbalance the mind, there can be no doubt that exhaustion of the nerves is always a cause of mental collapse.

Diseases of the nerves are common to all walks of life, and the earlier symptoms are sleeplessness, nervous headaches, loss of memory, inability to concentrate the mind, indigestion, tired, languid feelings, discouragement and despondency.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food cures diseases of the nerves in the only natural way, by actually increasing the amount of nerve force in the body.

By its regular and persistent use the most severe forms of nervous exhaustion, such as partial paralysis, prostration, and locomotor ataxia, are thoroughly and completely cured.

How much wiser to be warned by the earlier symptoms and to keep the nervous system in full health and vigour by the use of this great food cure; 50 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.
