The restoration work which has been going on in connection with the Cathedral at Winchester for some years past, is now almost completed. So far the sum of about £110,000 has been expended upon it and only another £3,000 or thereabouts is needed to complete the whole matter. This sum will doubtless be very quickly obtained.

The Lord Bi-hop of Ossory has appointed the Ven. Archdeacon Brown to the Deanery of Down.

The recent visit of the British Bishops to Russia was remarkable for one event in St. Petersburg. At the English Church in that city, on a recent date, a Solemn Eucharist was celebrated, and, with the three English Bishops and the one Irish prelate, the Archbi-hop of Finland, four Russian Bishops, and many other Russian ecclesiastics marched in procession. The celebrant was the English Chaplain, and the Bishop of Wakefield, vested in cope and mitre of Russian cloth of gold, worn at King Edward's Coronation, assisted pontifically. The preacher was the Bishop of Ossory, who, referring to the unique occasion, looked forward to the day when the rapprochement signified by that united act of worship would, through the growth of mutual knowledge and a clearer understanding, develop into complete and permanent reunion. "In God's good time, they might," he said, "in the words of the Eastern Liturgy, with mutual love make a good confession together."
