

Are You Feeling The Money Pinch?

Can you estimate the value to your business of a concise, clearly-written and comprehensive review of business conditions and influences likely to affect them? A review on which you can rely for guidance in your business dealings? A review that covers the whole Dominion—and more? In short, such a review as is contained weekly in The Financial Post of Canada.

The worth of such a review to your business is inestimable, the price only $3.00 per annum

The Present Money Stringency

was predicted by The Financial Post Long before it began to be felt. Its opinion was deduced from a study of such indicators as are dealt with weekly in The Post. Such as Bank Clearings — Trade Figures—Canadian Bank Statement Analysis — Railway Earnings — Crop Conditions — Building Permit Figures—Stock Market, Business and Financial Conditions.
