QUABBLING OVER "TEDDY"

President's Tour Causes All Manner of Trouble Between Political Factions. Seattle and Tacoma at Swords' Points—Distinguished Guest May Act as Peacemaker.

Various points heretofore reached were missing at San Luis Obispo. Seattle, May 11.—The fight between Tacoma and Seattle over the reception proposed for former President McKinley when he was to have visited the Sound two years ago was more than duplicated in the fierce controversy precipitated over the reception to President Roosevelt and unless the matter is healed within the next two days the president himself may have to act as peacemaker.

READY FOR BUSINESS

Hubrick Expects to Run a Ferry Excursion Sunday

Hubrick, the ferryman, with a caulker assisting him is overhauling his craft today preparatory to taking to the water as soon as the ice moves out. He insists that he has it fixed so that the ice will move by Thursday and he will have an excursion run across the river next Sunday. The ferry boat pulled through the winter with practically no damage whatever, but the landing which consists of two scows decked over and lashed end to end did not do so well. One of the scows has its back broken in two and the whole affair is partially submerged, being held down under the surface water by being frozen to the old ice. The same fate has fallen the Burns cold storage scow, both of which it is expected will eventually tear themselves loose and float as usual. One of Hubrick's men was to have made the aerial trip over the cable today for the purpose of greasing it before the beginning of the season.

EXCELLENT PROGRESS

Being Made by Various Victoria Day Committees

Arrangements for the Victoria day celebration are going merrily on and present indications are that it will excel anything ever previously attempted on the same line in the Yukon.

The sports committee is providing for new and novel features never before witnessed in Dawson while all the local athletes from baseball players and caber tossers down to squaw foot racers are in training for the big day.

The finance committee gives assurance that its efforts are being crowned with success and that there will be prize money and awards in abundance. As is invariably the case at that particular season of the year the very finest of weather may be confidently expected. The finance committee will report at a meeting of the general committee to be held tonight.

REGARDING TENNIS COURTS

There seems to be a slight misunderstanding between the Lawn Tennis Association and the powers that be in regard to the use of that small portion of the government reserve this summer. The board of management of the tennis club received a letter from the commissioner on Saturday which gave pause to the plans for the future and caused some little consternation. This morning a delegation consisting of Messrs. Arthur Davey, F. G. Crisp, T. Dufferin Pattullo, H. E. A. Robertson and O. S. Finnie, waited upon the commissioner with their grievances and it is to be hoped all matters have been satisfactorily arranged so that the work of reconstruction of the courts can go forward without delay.

ICE MOVED

Off Yukon Near Mouth of Klondike Today.

At 3:30 this afternoon a telephone message from South Dawson announced that the ice on the Yukon just below the mouth of the Klondike was moving. Investigation showed that it moved only a short distance and again became stationary. The water from the Klondike has had much of the ice cut away from its mouth for the past several days.

THE DOCTOR'S DIAGNOSIS

He was a wealthy city man. He had just got down to his country home when he was seized with strange symptoms, and he at once telegraphed to his city physician. The man of medicine hurriedly obeyed the summons, and, after a half-hour's investigation, said:—"It is the sudden and awful change. You miss the thumping and the banging of the roads; you hear no factory whistles; you get no smell of factory smoke; no milk waggons pound along at three o'clock in the morning; there are no gangs of boys playing football in front of your house; the shouts and shrieks and screams of street peddlers no longer reach your ears.

"You go to bed to sleep, and your sleep is not broken by a piano across the road, a dance next door or a row between loafers at your gate. There are no coal bills or gas bills during the day—no calls from grocers, butchers and bakers. You have lost the sound of trams and fire engines, and there are no German bands or hand organs. It is too good a thing, it is too soft and gentle and peaceful.

"I will send you an anvil with four men to pound on it, six tin horns with boys to toot 'em, a barrel of fireworks with three nippers to explode them, and if you provide yourself with a brass drum, a log horn and a fiddle, this lonesome feeling will gradually disappear, and you will find the country air doing you a heap of good."—London Tit-Bits.

A newspaper having reported that our railway directors are at last aroused, several have written indignantly denying it.—Punch.

MIDAIR JOURNEY

Captain J. P. Hubrick Lubricates Ferry Cable.

The condition of the ice had nothing to do with a trip made by Captain J. P. Hubrick across the Yukon river this afternoon as he made an aerial voyage on a seat suspended to the ferry cable, carrying with him a five gallon can of grease with which he greased the cable on his way over. A man seated on the lower furnished power for drawing the captain and his grease across by means of a long rope attached to the seat suspended to the cable. The work was successfully accomplished, the time required for it being about 50 minutes.

There is now a petition before the Yukon council requesting that body to purchase the cable ferry as it has become the only gateway across to an extensive country containing extensive and rapidly growing interests on the west side, embracing an area of thousands of square miles of country, both agricultural and mining.

EDITOR AND FLORIST

George McCord Develops Taste for the Beautiful

Some days ago Editor George McCord in the presence of Turner Townsend dilated at some length on his love of flowers, saying that he would give anything up to four years' subscription to his paper for a box of pansies to keep in his room in order that his artistic eye might feast upon them in the dapple-grey of early morn.

Next day Mr. Townsend won the everlasting gratitude of the editor of the Yukon Catholic by presenting him with a small box in which a number of delicate shoots were just peeping through the soil. Tears filled George's eyes as he made a neat little address of acceptance and as a further evidence of his pleasure he invited everybody to smoke at his expense. The box of supposed pansies was tenderly carried by the young man to his room and as the weather was somewhat chilly he took the box to bed with him for three nights. The growth of the tender shoots was marvelous and Mr. McCord now has a fine crop of lettuce in his box.

White lines are painted across all windows in third-class cars in Japan as a check upon the impulse of occupants to thrust their heads through them. Window glass is an article with which the people are not familiar in daily life, and since passengers commonly suppose shades are merely spaces for air, the bill for glazing was one of the largest petty items in the monthly accounts for all the companies until the white line was invented.

AGAINST IMPORTED LABOR

California Labor Unions Take Vigorous Steps Against Admission of Alien Labor Into U. S. Ports—Will Shortly Go Before Bureau of Immigration. Plenty of Japs Coming.

Special to the Daily Nugget.
San Francisco, May 11.—California labor unions are up in arms against the admission of more alien laborers at Pacific coast ports. The matter will be taken before the immigration bureau in the form of a protest. It is charged that California corporations are engaged in importing Japanese by the hundreds and putting them to work in the salt works and fruit fields.

ALL GETTING READY.

Engine Houses Being Arranged for the Breakup

Chief Lester and the members of the fire department have been engaged for several days in shaping things around so as to have the apparatus of the department out of all possible harm's way at the time the river breaks up. Some time ago the engine from No. 3 was removed from its scow at South Dawson and placed temporarily on the dock of the electric light company. The scow has been snubbed up tight to the lee of a protecting pier and came through the breakup yesterday with scarcely a scratch. The engine, however, will not be placed back in her berth until the river has run clear of ice and possibly until the Yukon has also cleared.

No. 2 engine house was brought back into her old berth this morning at the foot of Queen street. She has been doing service all winter opposite the old postoffice pumping water through the stand pipe leading up from the scow to First avenue, but that has been done away with now and it has become necessary for the scow to seek a more protected position. As soon as the water has risen a trifle more and it begins to look as though the end may come at any time the engine will be hauled out on the bank until the danger is all past. The same is true of No. 1 engine at the foot of York street which has not been moved this winter.

FLOATED ASHORE

Fire Engine Scow Hauled in to Place of Safety

The fire engine scow which all winter was located on the ice in front of the Fairview was several days ago thawed loose and portaged across the bar into the eddy next the shore and was this morning floated to a place of safety near the S. Y. T. warehouse.

Nothing Doing

The Commerce saloon on Queen street is closed, not permanently but for the purpose of giving painters, paperhangers and decorators a chance to do some work and run up a bill on the Commerce proprietors. The resort will be reopened to the public on Thursday when it will be one of the most attractive in the city.

At a railway shareholders' meeting in London, a gentleman insisted on making a long speech. When he had concluded, the chairman, according to "The Book of Orders," quietly asked the verbose orator whether he had quite done.

"Yes, sir, quite!" was the indignant reply.

"You will, consequently, permit me to answer you, sir?"

"Oh, certainly, if you can, but I rely upon you to do that."

"Well, then," said the chairman, calmly and with measured voice, "I have to inform you that you are in the wrong room and addressing the wrong company. The speech you have just made should have been delivered in Number Six, first floor, Youth's Companion."

The Newcastle Nachrichten declares that it is not the business of the Germans to teach the British and Americans manners. With that sound common sense which characterizes the whole nation, the Germans never undertake a task of which they are incapable.—Ex.
