

DUNHAM

Mines, N. S., on Sept. 14th, after an illness of several days, Joseph Dunham, 65 years, died at the home of Mrs. J. R. Banks, who cared for him with care and attention to make his last days as comfortable as possible. The funeral services on the 16th, were conducted by the Rev. H. Whitman, of Biltown, at the house. The burial was in the churchyard at Halls Harbor beside his wife who died a few years ago. He leaves to mourn the loss of a kind father, three daughters, Mrs. James Selgans, of Leominster, Mass.; Mrs. William White, of Orange, Mass.; Mrs. John Morten, of Biltown, N. S.; besides an adopted grandson, Spurgeon, Dunham, also in the United States. The deceased was a man of honest principles, and being a Christian man passed away with the bright hope of a far better future.

AUBREY B. WARD

The death took place at Canning, on Sept. 9th, of Aubrey B. Ward, aged 44 years. The funeral service was held on Sept. 11th, burial at the family plot at the old Habitant Cemetery, service being conducted by Rev. A. C. Borden. The floral offerings were many from the Odd-fellows and many friends. Rev. A. H. Wheeler sang an appropriate solo, "Good Night." Mr. Ward was a son of the late John A. Ward. As a boy he was in the Kentville Post Office for a while. During the last 27 years he has been living at Dorchester, Mass., and was a painting contractor. He came to Canning on July 4th, thinking that a change and rest would improve his health but he steadily declined.

He leaves a wife and one boy and girl, all being at Canning when he died. His brothers and sisters are Mrs. Joseph Kaye, and Mrs. W. R. Kaye, of Dorchester, Mass.; Mrs. H. E. Bennett, Canning, Arthur, Chaucey, and Lloyd Ward all of Canning.

A. C. VANBUSKIRK

The death took place suddenly at Kentville on Monday last of Mr. A. C. VanBuskirk, who has been in charge of a shoemaker's shop here for some time. The remains were taken to his former home at Kingston Tuesday, the funeral services being held there Wednesday afternoon.

CORRESPONDENCE

Great Liberal Gathering

At Wolfville on the evening of the 12th, inst., Friday, there was a much advertised political meeting called for the purpose of being addressed by that very highly touted orator, Dr. Ed. Blackadder, of Halifax.

Dr. Blackadder is the self same party who had the honor of being at the foot of the poll when the electors got at him on Sept. 21st, 1911. He is a poet, lecturer, editor and all round nuisance as a politician. The meeting was composed of 87 of an audience, by actual count. Many of those present were Conservatives, and although a closed night, many so called Liberals were absent.

Conspicuous among those present was a Mr. Fuller, of Horton, who acted as chairman. Mr. Ralph Shaw, was secretary and treasurer and Mr. Pitt Potter, ex-private secretary of the ex-minister of militia. Mr. J. B. Oakes spoke, Mr. Hamilton spoke, Rev. "Cash" Howe spoke and some others.

The meeting was "no good" to the Liberals. Dr. Blackadder railed at R. L. Borden, The Borden navy, and the nationalists.

It would be interesting to know how Blackadder differs in religion and politics from the leader of the nationalists.

The Liberal Conservatives are chuckling over the meeting, and Mr. Pitt Potter as an organizer. The outfit looks weak.
