Sir Wilfrid Doesn't Like the Outlook.

WILL LEAVE THE MANITOBA AND ONTARIO GOVERNMENTS TO FIGHT THEIR OWN BATTLES.

Special Ottawa Letter.

Ottawa, Nov. 20. - After long halting between two opinions, or rather between two fears, the Government seems to have reached a conclusion. The strongest mo-tive for holding a Dominion election so long before the end of the term was the fear that the Hardy Governwas the fear that the Hardy Government of Ontario would collapse, and leave Sir Wilfrid's ministry to fight it out in the big province without the use of the right arm. The right arm, it may be observed is the one that works the machine. Again, the Greenway Government was in peril and the loss of two local governments would so dis-Government was in peril and the loss of two local governments would so discredit the party that the Dominion ministers had made up their minds to go to the country and secure their positions before the trouble came. But something else has happened since the beginning of Octable 1988. something else has happened since the beginning of October. The pitiful exhibition that the premier has made of himself in the matter of the Canadian corps for the Transvaal has changed the whole face of affairs. His solem statement that the Government had no power and no right to offer the troops, followed by the offer of the troops, then by the statement of a colleague that they had not been offered, then by the despatch of the soldiers, then by that they had not been offered, then by the despatch of the soldiers, then by Mr. Tarte's announcement that they had been sent because England de-manded it and on condition that the thing should never happen again, then by a second offer, and that by the claim of the Government organs in Quebec that the second offer had been made by the Governor-General withnade by the Governor-General with-out the authority of his ministers,—the fusal of the Government to pay soldiers after their arrival in Africa; the ministerial announcement that the of the men had been insured by the Government, followed by the ar-rival of Mr. Tarte to the capital and the cancellation of the insurance program; all these things have made the ministers a reproach and a by-word throughout the country. The premier sees this. He hears

The premier sees this. He hears every da, that Mr. Tarte is a mill-stone around his neck, but he believes that Mr. Tarte holds the key to Quebec, and he knows that Mr. Tarte, if pec, and he knows that Mr. Tarte, if removed from power, could destroy the ministry by betraying his present friends, even as he betrayed Mc-Greevy and other associates of former days LOCAL ELECTIONS FIRST. So it has come about that the ministers have a greater fear of a general Dominion election than of the local Dominion election than of the local contests. It is thought better to lose the right arm than the whole body. The Manitoba general election could not be much longer postponed, as the term of the legislature will be up in December. Mr. Greenway has dissolved the house, and the election is set for December 7. Three federal ministers Three federal ministers the lead of Mr. Sifton have under the lead of Mr. Silton have been stumping the province, and at last it is announced that the Red River, at St. Andrew's rapids, below Winnipeg, is positively to be deepened. Even the Hudson Bay railway project has acquired new life and the Macken-ic and Mann railways for which subzie and Mann railways, for which sub-sidies amounting to $10,000 per mile are provided, are to go forward at

ONTARIO BY-ELECTIONS. Premier Ross, having begun cauti y by opening up two constituen-with former majorities of 1,000 and 1,400 respectively, will now tackle the harder ground. He got his minister in without opposi-tion in one place, and in the other has had his majority cut down from 1,400 to 300, which is not so bad as it might be. The other elections are to be carried through under the solemn promise to investigate the seat stealing operations of the machine. It s true that though Mr. Ross has now been premier for some weeks, he has not yet even named his court of investigation, and he was a member of a government which has allowed the a government which has allowed the ghastly record to stand month after month without even dismissing the seat stealers from the public offices they held. There is reason to fear that when the by-elections are over Mr. Ross will forget all about the investigation and that his friends in investigation, and that his friends in the coming contest will have the moral support of the culprits, even though fear of prison may keep them person-fear of prison may keep them personally in a foreign land.

Sir Wilfrid, with due consideration for the right arm, is following the advice given from Ottawa to manager in charge of returning on errary, of West Huron fame:—"Keep your man low." Having kindly made Hug-the-machine Preston an immigration officer the day after the machine stole West Elgin, Sir Wilfrid assists his protege to follow the precedent set by the Piper's Son, who stole a pig. The same paper which explaina pig. The same paper which explain-ed that an enquiry was to be made into ed that an enquiry was to be made into the West Elgin crime, announced that Mr. Preston had gone "over the hills and far away" to the Caucasus to see about possible immigrants. Having thus placed another continent between himself and the courts Mr. Preston may be expected to give notice of a new libel suit.

LITTLE SIR LOUIS,. When the minister of marine return edirom his Alaskan boundary negotia-tions, he told how he had bearded ambassadors and "talked up" to con-suls and other emissaries of the "continent to which we belong." Afterward came the announcement that the temporary arrangement made by Sir Louis gave the United States control of the whole coast line of the inlets and all the ports and landing places by which access could be obtained to the Yukon. The Canadian ministers made haste to evolvin that no actual surren-

The Canadian ministers made haste to explain that no actual surrender had been made, as the Lynn Canal and the coast line of the inlet were already occupied by the United States. This statement is correct. Sir Louis has generously agreed that the United States shall until a final agreement is reached, hold as a right the disputed territory to which Canadians believe the United States have no title. The protest of Sir Louis that he has made no final surrender is well founded. He has only made it a little harder to obtain a final arbitration, seeing that the United States government is confirmed in the meantime in the possession of ed in the meantime in the possession of all the claims. It will also be a little

But at present the minister of mar-ine is not engaged in international af-fairs. He is stumping a district in his native province in a byselection. for the house of assembly. There we see him at his smallest. It will be remembered that during the last session of parliament Mr. Blair took a vote for a railway from Charlottetown to Murray Harbor. It was then un-derstood that the work of construction would go on rapidly and that the Hillsbore bridge, which is to be part of the line, would be undertaken at once. As a matter of fact nothing has yet blees done and the Libeau areas yet been done and the Liberal papers reporting the speeches of Sir Louis make him say that if the people do not vote for the candidate whom he supports, they cannot expect the road to be built.

He is reported as having said, in plain words, to the people that if they elect the wrong man "it is certain that the members of the house of com-mons will not support the passing of a grant for the construction of the bridge." Again he says: "It is es-sential that the Dominion and Local governments work together. If a Conservative government is elected in Prince Edward Island it will hinder, perhaps stop, the construction of public works now in contemplation." Bear in mind that Sir Louis is speaking at the properties of the pro in mind that Sir Louis is speaking at a provincial bye-election, and that the public works of which he speaks are works of the Dominion government alworks of the Dominion government already authorized by parliament. The money so voted no longer belongs to Sir Louis to give or to withhold. To demand of the people of Belfast and Murray Harbor that they shall give up their rights as citizens on penalty of their rights as citizens on penalty of his taking from them the money that has been appropriated to this railway, is not essentially different from the crime of an armed highwayman who holds up a carriage, and with a re-volver at their heads takes what he wants from the terrified passengers. The highwayman at least makes some risk, but this blustering minister knows he can bully a small country without personal danger, It is is easy to see in such petty tyre onny the same spirit which shows itself by weakness and submission in edaling with the statesmen of the

THE QUESTION OF OIL As Mr. Fielding is on a political tour in Nova Scotia, Mr. Blair in New Brunswick, Sir Louis in Prince Edward Island, Mr. Sifton in Manitoba, while Mr. Mulock has been speaking in Ontario it is fair to mention one subjects which was once a favorite topic with all these Reformers. They had many grievances five years ago, but they probably talked more about the oil duties and the oil combine than about any other one thing. The Reformers have been three and half years in power, and what is the state of the oil question? Three years ago we at least had some competition between the Standard Oil combine of the United States and the Imperial Oil Company of Canada. Now the Standard Oil Company has absorbed the other, and we have an absoluted monopoly. Half the oil works in Can-ada have been closed up. The com-bine has obtained control of railway bine has obtained control of railway transportation rates, so that an independent importer is forced out of business or ruined if he undertakes to compete. Lastly, the price of oil has, according to the sworn testimony of one dealer, been forced up five cents per gallon. The cost of oil has certainly increased all along the line, and the poor consumer, who was led to expect so much from the Reformers, has got more than he expected, So far as is known, the ministers who formerly known, the ministers who formerly found oil so pleasant and profitable theme for campaign talk, have refrained from even mentioning word since parliament rose.

The largest history ever published is "The War of the Rebellion," issued by the United States, in 120 octavo volumes of 1,000 pages each, with a gigantic atlas in thirty parts. The books occupy thirty feet of shelf room and weigh one-quarter of a ton. The series limited to 11,000 sets, has been in course of publication for over twenty years.

Senator Stewart of Nevada never gambled bu once. It was in San Francisco nearly fifty years ago. He was in a noted resort of the day and saw a miner winning heavily at roulette. Stewart risked a quarter and won, followed it up and finding him-self $25 ahead quit. As he left the room he heard an old gambler say: "He'll be back soon and loose his winnings." That remark resulted in a resolve never to fight a game of chance again. .

Mr. P. J. Kilbride, postmaster of Inverness, P. E. I. is no idle theorist or speculator, neither has his important testimony been unduly obtained. This speculator, neither has his important testimony been unduly obtained. This second letter, vouching for a permanent and lasting cure, is allowed to be made public for the advantage and weal of thousands of sufferers who are anxiously looking for new life and freedom from the power of disease.

Mr. Kilbride saye:

"Nearly six mounths ago, Paine's Celery Compound cured me—in fact, saved my life. At this time I am still feelding well and have not been ill a single day since I used your famous Compound. I truly owe my present health and strength to Paine's Celery Compound; it saved me from insanity and the grave. I shall never forcest that the grave. I shall never forget the awful state I was in before I used your grand life restorer. Now I can sleep and eat well, for which I thank God and your wondrous curing medi-cine. I have answered over two hun-dred and fifty letters written to me by other sufferers and my first testi-monial letter was published. These letters have come from all parts of Canada and the United States.

Mrs. R. Day, wife of the former secretary of state, is an excellent musician and has composed some music of a high order.

Admiral Schley believes in war. He says: "It is necessary once in a while to have a good, stand up fight. It clears the moral atmosphere."

Among the delegates to the International Council of Women was Dr. Ida Kahn, a Chinese woman, who was educated at Aun Arbor by American missionaries.

Tim Healey, the cattle king of New Mexico, has more money than he knows what to do with. He has an income of $87,000 a year, and lives in a hut that cost about $60.

The engagement ring of the Princess of Wales is set with six different stones, the intitial letters of which form the name of "Bertie," the pet name of the prince among his own family and friends. William Dean Howells does not believe that he was born with literary talent. "I came," he says, "of a reading race, which has always loved l.terature in a way. My inclination was to read, rather than to write." President Kruger, like other men, has his weakness. It is for green carpet slippers, which he dons the minute he crosses his own threshold. In regard to laundry expenses he is said to be extremely economical.

Justice Shiras of the Supreme Court wrote a letter of advice to a young lawyer the other day, in the course of which he said: "Above all, deserve, secure and keep the confidence of your clients. You will find this your best capital,"

Ex-Gov. Warmouth, the first northern governor of Louisiana, has lived down the bitter unpopularity which at one time nearly cost him his life and is now one of the leading sugar planters of the State and a most successful lawver.

Ex-Gov. Hogg, of Texas, is a wonderful story teller, but either from carelessness or design makes many grammatical errors in his conversation. He wears a twenty-two-inch collar, sports a wide open shirt front, a frock coat and looks western in the true sense of the word.

Sir William Crookes, the English scientist, took up photography early in life, and for some time intended to devote his career to that work.

Minister Garcia-Menou, of Argentina, is spending the summer at Nahant. He is an expert yachtsman and most of his time is put in upon the water.

One of Gov. Roosevelt's admirers has presented him with a rare old Damascus blade supposed to be that carried by Gen. Blucher at Waterloo. Senator W. B. Bate, of Tennessee,
