Saved by St. Joseph's Orphanage

Both children were sent to St. Joseph's Orphanage, Halifax, where after two years of convalescence the boy has been adopted into a fine home, the girl has stopped coughing and learns in half the time taken by her classmates.

For decades St. Joseph's Orphanage has been carrying on such work quietly and without ever asking public assistance in the whole 73 years of its existence. Today it is compelled to extend its buildings which now have twice the normal number of occupants. For the first time you are asked to help. Give for the sake of these fatherless children, give for the sake of your own conscience. True charity does not consist in giving what you don't need, but in giving till the giving hurts.
