382nd Day of the War TO-DAY'S Messages.

11.30 A.M.

CARRIED NEW STOCK.

According to unconfirmed reports, current in the financial district, the Arctic carried a large amount of stock of the Canadian Car and Foundry Co. concern, which received enormous and very profitable war orders.

BOVIC IN MANCHESTER.

LONDON, To-day. The report that the steamer Bovic had been sunk is untrue, according to the Press Association which says the steamer arrived in Liverpool to-day and proceeded to Manchester.

LONDON, To-day. A despatch of Reuters' Telegram Co. from Hangessand, Norway, says the Norwegian steamer Brak, a vessel of 1351 tons, has been sunk and the crew saved.

THE LONDON BUDGET.

LONDON, To-day. The garrison quarters of Novo Georgievsk which was left behind by Grand Duke Nicholas when he commenced the evacuation of Poland to delay the advance of the German invaders, after accomplishing its task for just a fortnight, succumbed to heavy siege artillery of the Germans which throughout the war has made every fort attacked by it untenable. Berlin is to-day to announce the capture of the fortress, says the London official cable, and a large quantity of war material and spoils not yet estimated, but they probably are large, as it had been hoped by the Russian that the earthworks around the fortified camps would enable it to hold out much longer than it has done. It is now expected by military observers other Russian fortresses such as Brest, Litovsk, Grodno, and Osowestz either will be captured or given up. After the fall of Kovno Field Marshal Von Hindenburg's army commenced again the offensive along the whole front from the Gulf of Riga to Kovno with the object of taking Riga and the whole of Warsaw-Petrograd railway from Vilna northward. He is meeting with stubborn resistance and may be denied even the possession of Riga, unless the German fleet succeeds in entering the Gulf of Riga. South of Kovno as far as Grodno the Russian armies after the fall of Kovno are back toward the Niemen River. Here according to the German official account, they are offering fresh resistance in the hope of preventing or delaying the envelopment of the Northern flank of the Brest Litovsk line. There seemingly are no German troops by corps which have been investing Novo Georgievsk are converging on the Russian centre, which is behind the Bug and along the railway from Brest Litovsk and Bialystok and no doubt will soon commence the bombardment of Brest Litovsk. Other armies have cleared the whole left bank of the Bug before Brest Litovsk, while Field Marshal Von Mackensen having crossed the Bug is advancing to the fortress from the South. This means the obstacle of the marshes have been circumvented and that Brest Litovsk the chief military depot and the concentration centre of Russia is virtually enveloped. Although military observers are of opinion the Grand Duke probably again will be able to withdraw his army safely, the loss of these lines is considered a grave military misfortune than the loss of Warsaw. German success has been due almost entirely to their great superiority in artillery, military critics express the belief that as long as they maintain this and continue to press forward the Russians must retire before them. While the Russian armies remain intact however these critics are optimistic. Emperor William who is reported to have arrived at Novo Georgievsk will, it is understood, make a State entry into Warsaw and there let it be known by announcement what the future status of Poland will be. Along the Western front there have been some spurts of liveliness in fighting, but nothing that could be called a battle. It is now evident that the fresh landing of British troops at Savia Bay on the Gallipoli Peninsula is robbed of its element of surprise. The appearance of Turkish reinforcements proved some-days. It is possible the Dunsby is eleven, altho there seems to be some doubt as to whether this vessel went down after being torpedoed.

"DELIBERATELY UNFRIENDLY."

LONDON, To-day. Newspapers comment exhaustively on the sinking of the Arabic. The Pall Mall Gazette says although of British registry the Arabic to a large extent was American owned, and as American citizens were aboard there can be no question that the deliberately unfriendly act described in President Wilson's last note has been committed. What the consequence will be we shall not attempt to prophesy. The Standard says Germans have not only committed an act, the type of which President Wilson has announced he will regard as deliberately unfriendly, but have interested themselves in the fate of the ship bound for and from American ports. The Globe says if President Wilson remains quietest an act of latest outrage, we shall despair of the future of a man who saw his child mauled by a mad dog and only wagged his finger at the infuriated beast. Although parliament will not reassemble until mid-September, members are already anticipating that the new session will be a momentous one. Members of both parties are making up their minds for the proposals for national service will be made. Lord Milner's announcement that the National Service League will resume its propaganda is one of the evidences of confidence expressed on many sides that the nation is in advance of parliament in this respect.

ITALIAN AIR EXPLOIT.

PARIS, To-day. An Italian aeroplane, piloted by an Austrian air squadron of the Adriatic coast. According to a despatch to the Figaro from Turin, three of the Austrian machines were brought down and their crews either killed or made prisoners.

BULGARIA MASSES TROOPS ON TURKISH FRONTIER.

NAPLES, To-day. A despatch from Saloniki says Bulgaria has concentrated a hundred thousand troops on the Turkish frontier. If Bulgaria declares war upon Turkey, it is understood she will receive general financial assistance from the Entente Powers.

AMERICAN PRAISES CAPT. FINCH

QUEENSTOWN, To-day. Zella Congington, of Los Angeles, Cal., playwright, who was a passenger on the Arabic, in describing the capture of the ship, highly praised the manner in which Capt. Finch had prepared for the torpedo attack and the War skillful way in which he navigated his ship from the moment he saw the projectile. Mr. Congington and his wife had met with an accident, where immediately afterwards, he said, "where I guessed the cause. We got life belts and walked to the boat deck, where we jumped into the boat and reached the water safely."

1.15 P.M.

TWO MISSING.

QUEENSTOWN, To-day. After checking up all lists of Americans on the Arabic, the United States Consul reports the only Americans missing are Mrs. Josephine L. Bruguire and Edmund Woods.

ITALY DEMANDS AN ANSWER FROM TURKEY.

PARIS, To-day. The Italian Ambassador at Constantinople says a Rome despatch has been instructed to hand to the Porte a note asking for a formal categorical statement as to the departure of Italians from Turkish possessions. The note is couched in terms admitting of no evasion. Without being an ultimatum, it calls upon the Turkish government to declare its intention as to whether Italians will be permitted to leave, and when.

SEARCHING FOR BODIES OF ARABIC WRECK.

QUEENSTOWN, To-day. Trawlers are now searching for the bodies of the Arabic, but conditions of wind and tide make it unlikely that they will meet with success. The only German on board the ship was Fr. Waldner, an Alsatian priest, who was travelling under a British Government permit, and was on his way to Mexico to work as a missionary.

THE POSITION OF THE U. S.

WASHINGTON, To-day. Official despatches to the State Department have confirmed the only report, announcing that the Arabic was torpedoed without warning, and that at least some American passengers lost their lives when the vessel went down. Whether the attack upon the Arabic was an act "deliberately unfriendly" to the United States, against which President Wilson gave warning in his last note to Germany, apparently depends upon whether the German submarine commander claims that he interpreted as an hostile approach the changing of the liner's course to assist the British steamer Dunsby, which had been torpedoed near this point. Perhaps this point cannot be cleared up until Ambassador Gerard at Berlin has ascertained what report the German Government receives from the submarine commander. Officials here made no attempt to minimize the situation; even where the possibility of a severance of diplomatic relations between the United States and Germany was Young Housebreakers Captured.

Last night the police arrested three boys, aged 10, 10 and 16 respectively, charging them with theft. It appears that on Wednesday afternoon last the lads broke into the dwelling house of Mr. David Baird, on Circular Road. On entering they first entered a Red Cross box and lifted it. The box contained 14 cents. After meeting with such poor luck they aspired higher and started to ransack the main parts of the building and before their departure "cleared up" eight gold rings, valued at $400 and a quantity of fruit, vegetables, etc. When taken into custody by Detective Tobin, the lads confessed their guilt, and they had part of the stolen property in their possession. They said that they had sold the remainder. The lads were before Mr. Hutchings, K.C., to-day and remanded for their trial. In the meantime the authorities will investigate and try to recover the stuff that was sold.

In Milady's Boudoir.

THE BEAUTIFUL MOUTH. A beautiful mouth is neither large nor small and has a graceful, firm outline. Beautiful lips are neither thick nor thin, nor compressed; nor weak. But even if really perfect in shape, they would not achieve beauty without an expression of frankness and amiability. Frankness, amiability, and contentment give your mouth its greatest charm. No artificial tint ever added beauty to this feature. It only makes the mouth appear broader and injures the texture of the lips. Your eyes have not the gift of smiling to nearly as such a degree as your mouth. To prove this, you may take a picture of a face with a sad expression, and a paste over the lines of depression on the smiling face. You will find the entire expression of the face changed at once, although the eyes themselves have not been altered. The bad habit that so many girls have of biting their lips to make them red, thickens them, so that they become chapped and colorless and lose their delicate curves.

Constantly wetting the lips with the tongue is an unpleasant sight. You will see one woman going along with her lips hanging open; another with the lower lip thrust forward; another will be chewing her lips; another will have her lips screwed up to one side, and so on. A little will-power is all that is necessary to overcome these habits.

If your general health is good your lips will naturally be a good color. If the circulation of the lips will be purple. If your digestion is bad your lips will be white. If your whole system lacks tone and vigor, lips will be lacking in color. Therefore, instead of resorting to carmine to improve the color of the lips, build up the constitution by all the means that make for health and beauty.

Armagh Man Holds the Fort.

Dublin, Aug. 16.—Since early Saturday afternoon, David Johnston, of Lurgan, County Armagh, armed with a revolver, has been holding his home against the police, who seek to arrest him for having taken a pot-shot at the registry enumerators when they called shortly after noon Saturday to deliver the official forms for the registry of Johnston's household. Johnston, apparently believing the forms meant conscription, threw the papers into the street and then, standing in his doorway, drew a revolver and fired at the retreating enumerators, who are members of the constabulary, but without effect. He then retired into his house, barricaded doors and windows and prepared for a siege, which the police promptly instituted. Occasional shots from behind Johnston's barricades have kept the police and the crowds at a considerable distance from the house. Bullets have narrowly missed an army officer, two policemen and the town health officer, who some time ago certified that Johnston was a fit subject for a lunatic asylum. The man's home is located on the main street of the town, and his shooting has held up all traffic. The police remained on siege duty all Saturday night and Sunday, and vainly attempted to effect an entrance. Later Johnston was found dead with a shot from his own revolver.

McMurdo's Store News

SATURDAY, Aug. 21st, 1915. In cases of summer diarrhoea caused by the presence of undigested or indigestible food in the stomach or intestines, as well as when a purgative is needed for general purposes, especially for children—Castor Oil is the name that comes first to one's mind. But the objection to Castor Oil in the ordinary way is due to its nauseous taste, which makes it difficult to take, often the worse the medicine is needed the harder it is to administer. For this reason, experiments were undertaken which have resulted in the preparation of a Sweetened Castor Oil, possessing all the curative properties of the Castor Oil, but so pleasant in taste that no child will refuse it, and most children will take it "for fun." It is a bottle this Sweetened Castor Oil in the house may save more than one anxious hour. Price 25c. a bottle.

Will Anthracite Coal be Cheaper.

Washington, Aug. 13.—Ultimate reductions in hard coal prices were seen to-day, by dealers who have kept in close touch with anthracite production in the inter-state commission's decision making sweeping cuts in freight rates on the product. They explained that the decision was expected to put independents on the same footing as companies controlled by the hard coal carrying roads.

The decision affects freight rates on anthracite coal from the Pennsylvania coal fields. Generally lower rates called reasonable, are prescribed and the roads are required to establish through routes and publish through rates to be paid by all shippers. The reductions ordered amount to 15 cents a ton on shipments of the so-called prepared sizes, such as stove, chestnut and egg coal, from the mines to tide-water, and ten cents a ton on the smaller sizes of coal. These rates will now be $1.15 and $1.35 a ton. Cuts to interior points range all the way from 15 to 18 cents a ton.

Harry Lauder Issues Maxims of Thrift.

After aiding in recruiting, after sending his only son to the colors, after nursing him of wounds so he might quickly return to the trenches, Harry Lauder puts $50,000 of his savings into the newest British war magazine, "I am proud to-day that I mean," as some say, for I have been able to lay my little bit of money on the rules he has given you, for doing it, too. Yes, 4 1/2 per cent. for fighting the Germans." His maxims on thrift, once quoted only in a rally, are to-day circulating in Britain because of the solemn need for economy. "Mittler wading waste, and I should only be disgraced, being her memory if I wasted," is his explanation of his habit, and here are the rules he gave you: 1. Behave towards your purse as you would to your best friend. 2. View the reckless money spender as a criminal, and shun his company. 3. Dress neatly, not lavishly. A bank pays a higher rate of interest than your bank. 4. Take your amusements judiciously. You would enjoy them better. 5. Don't throw away your crusts, eat them. They are as strengthening as beef. 6. It is more exhilarating to feel money in your pocket than to see it in your stomach. 7. Remember it only takes twenty shillings to make a pound, and twelve pennies to make a shilling. 8. You can sleep better after a hard day's work than after a day's idleness. 9. Always get good value from tradesmen. They watch, they get good money from you. 10. There is as much pleasure in reading a good bank book as a novel.

Redmond on Peace.

LONDON, Aug. 16.—John Redmond, leader of the Irish party, in reply to a letter urging him to support the Pope's appeal for peace, says: "I must respectfully say that to best of my judgment the course of action you suggest would not be calculated to promote the cause of peace. Nor do I think that I would be justified in endeavoring to bring pressure to bear upon the government to enter into any negotiations for peace at a time when the German powers, who have been the aggressors in this war, show no sign of any disposition to repair their wrong. They have inflicted upon Belgium and our other allies."

Insect Warrior

How Armies Have Been Helped Hindered by Swarms of Locusts Etc.

If news from the East and Coast can be relied on, the Germans have even enlisted insects to aid in their resistance to British arms. It is asserted that they collected confined swarms of wild bees that, when the Indian and native insurgents of our forces attacked, insects were let loose upon the consequence was quite a number of the men were severely stung, some fatally. More than once in the course of South African War locusts did British a very good turn. One while the Household Cavalry Corps Regiment was out, an overcast of locusts, from the sky, there seemed little chance of being, was seen approaching.

A Strange "Enemy." At this critical moment, however, the sky was suddenly darkened by immense swarms of locusts which, between the troopers and the British, concealing the former from view, consequence was that the enemy could not locate the cavalry, and ed at random, wounding only men. Screened by the locusts, the horsemen galloped safely back camp. On another occasion a cloud of these insects gave a number of British Rhodesian Volunteers a bit of scare. On an armored train that had gone about twenty-five miles the direction of Mafeking, when it noticed what seemed to be a cloud of dust. They made sure that a large number of mounted men were advancing and immediately stood to arms. The next moment the "stand to" was ordered, and the train directed afterwards steamed leisurely back the place from whence it had come. It afterwards transpired that "enemy" sighted was an enormous cloud of locusts.
