with an application for a Charter to submit a petition signed by 215 substantial merchants, noblemen and persons of distinction, with George Earl of Cumberland, at their head. This was received graciously by the Queen, and on January 24 of the following year, letters patent were issued by the "Governor and Company of the Merchants of London trading to the East Indies" authorizing them to carry on their operations, and approving of James Lancaster to act as the Governor and General in the enterprise upon which they were to embark with results far beyond the horizon of their most sanguine hopes and dreams. For, from that meeting in Founders' Hall, is to be dated the origin of the East India Company, which was to acquire dominion over India, to establish our Eastern Empire, and to endure until, after the death of James Lancaster, in 1605, the reign of the John Company, and the great change was assumed formally by the British Crown.

AGAN,

DON'T BUY SO MANY BOOTS

SINCE "Hi-Press" has come on the market fishermen are putting many a good dollar back into their pockets that used to go for footwear.

This wonderful boot actually gives two and three times the wear of the ordinary kind. And it's mighty good-looking and comfortable in the bargain.

Here's the idea—"Hi-Press" Rubber Boots are made in a new and vastly better way. They are molded—like an auto tire—INTO ONE SOLID PIECE! They CAN'T leak or peel and there seems no wear-out to them. Millions of fishermen, miners and farmers won't wear anything else. Try them yourself.

Epidemic of Flu Inevitable

HOW TO GUARD AGAINST IT.
The coming of cold and rainy weather has brought widespread belief in a fresh outbreak of influenza; and already the disease is reported as appearing in several localities. In the United States, Congress is urged to appropriate five million dollars to investigate the cause of 'Flu' and determine the most effective means of combating the trouble. While the germ has not been isolated, certain facts have been proven. The most effective precautions of avoiding an attack of influenza is to keep the body clean inside and out, and to build up the general health. Besides bathing frequently and washing the hands several times a day, it is imperative that the digestion be sound and all the eliminating organs of the body be regular. Constipation, biliousness, indigestion, headaches, kidney trouble or bladder irritation should be corrected with a reliable saline like Abbey's Effervescent Salt. In fact, it would safeguard the health and aid materially in preventing an attack of 'Flu' if everyone would take regularly every morning a glass of Abbey's Effervescent Salt.

THE OTHER SIDE.

All day long I sit around and weep because the prices are so steep. Whatever thing I have to buy, a pup, a pencil or a pie, a quilt, a quagga or a quince, the price is touch-od for makes me wince. And so, by rising prices pinched, I cry, "Let profiteers be lynched." And all the neighbors on the block endorse this drastic sort of talk. They say, "That is the proper dope; you bring a tree, we'll fetch a rope." But this thing has another side, which cannot fairly be denied. I am forgetting, when I yell the price of things I have to sell. I have an old sea-bitten hen that lays each morning in her den; and when I go, on buoyant legs, to sell her luscious, germ-proof eggs, all neatly packed in crate or tierce, the price I get is something fierce. I have an ancient tinhorn cow, with antlers growing on her brow; she springs, each day, a peck of milk; that's why my wife is wearing silk. I sell the milk by pint and quart, and takes in coins of every sort. In those grand times that I lament, the old cow didn't make a cent. Sometimes I fear when prices fall I'll still rear up and wildly bawl; if things I sell are going cheap, I don't believe I'll cease to weep.
