Nominations in Tononto.—The nominations for East and West Toronto took place at noon on Friday. It the East Messra, Woods, alicens, theater and Allen were proposed or the House of Commons, All sere sell received. Messra, M. C. Cameron and Jame Steek was next proposed for the Local Bever thing and off quietly. About 15,000 were present in West Toronto. Messrs, Harrison and Macdonald were nominated for the Commons, and Wallis and Crooks for the Local Legislature. About 10,000 were present. Both sides are very confident of victory. Several other candidates were nominated, but retired in favor of the above gentlemen. Sir John A. Macdonald was present at the nomination. The candidates were allowed half an hour for their speeches. Two or three pugilistic encounters occurred among the crowd.

WHAT ENDANGERS THE UNION.—It is true that the Confederated Union is in danger. But not from Howe or Lanctot, or Sandfield, or any other of its avowed enemies. Our ship of State is running their eyes through glasses in another direction. The truth is that the Union is in danger from extrayanance and corruping their eyes through glasses in another direction. The truth is that the Union is in danger from extravagance and corruption. Already a fear permeates every class of society that the complicated machinery of the new Government is going to press down the people with a fearing to press down the people with a fearing to press down the people with a fearing to the country, the same undefined dread of approaching tax-gatherers is felt by all. The people on Dominion Day rejolced over the accomplishment of Confederation. But when the bonfires were all burned down, and the last recket sent up, and the last frecracker popped off, a prescience of coming danger seems to have settled upon the public mind. The country has had enough of Coalition. That of '54 doubled the debt of the Province in four or five years. Give us a Coalition with an overwhelming majority in Parliament, and a railway to build, and we will show you a country rushing to bankruptey and ruin as fast as reckless managers can drive it.
