

ANNABEL

THE TEMPTATION.

CHAPTER XIII.

PARTINGS—THE TEMPTATION GROWING INTO FOLLY.

Having but few preparations to make for his journey to America, Philip Weston was soon ready to depart on his mission, and the evening came when he and Annabel had to bid each other a long goodbye.

It was a beautiful evening in the beginning of June as he and Annabel sauntered along a narrow path which fringed the park. It was a sweet, sequestered spot, for while on one side stretched the level surface of the far-spreading park, on the other was a deep dell, along the side of which the path wound, while down the centre flowed with sweetest murmur, a little stream which, after passing through the shady hollow, watered the open meadows beyond.

The evening was calm and radiant, and all nature was hushed in repose and full of exceeding beauty. A rich fragrance scented the air, wafted from cloverly lea, and flower-strewn dingle from the blossoms of the hedge-rows, and the leaves of aromatic shrubs which grew upon the slopes.

To be abroad in such an evening was a very joy. The influence of the scene was such as to awaken every sense to a delicious pleasure, thrilling to the soul, soothing to the heart, and precious to every faculty of a healthy nature.

The blessed outward influence was not unfelt by the lovers, as arm in arm they sauntered down the path, but they had thoughts and feelings to occupy them which rendered them silent and pensive amid a scene so inspiring.

Philip on his part was heavy at heart likewise—heavier than he could understand or account for even by the circumstances in which they were placed.

Thus with slow steps, and almost in perfect silence, they pursued the winding path, till it led them down near the bottom of the dell, where under the pendant branches of a tree a rustic seat had been placed, overlooking the stream and the opposite slope.

"THEIR NAME IS LEGION," may be applied to those who die annually of Consumption, although science has of late years sensibly diminished their number.

It is gratifying to know that the general use of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry is largely instrumental in attaining this end.

Breakfast—Epps's Cocoa—Grateful and comforting—By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which many persons—many heavy drinkers of bills—Giant Service Gazette. Made simply with Boiling Water or Milk. Each packet is labelled—"JAMES EPPS & Co., Homoeopathic Chemists, London."

Manufacture of Cocoa.—"We will now give an account of the process adopted by Messrs. James Epps & Co., manufacturers of dietetic articles, at their works in the Enston Road, London."—See article in Cassell's Household Guide. J206mdw Commercial School, Harbour Grace, Newfoundland.

ME. JAMES F. FELLOWS.—Dear Sir: I am very happy to acknowledge the benefits I have received from the use of your Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites. For upwards of twelve months I suffered most acutely from a severe cough, and which I tried everything for the relief of which I last commenced the use of your Syrup, and after taking one bottle was able to attend to my avocation. I continued according to directions till I had used nine bottles, which effected a perfect cure. With much gratitude, M. S. Teacher.

PETRIE'S NEW DRUG STORE Nearly opposite the Old Stand, NOW OPEN.

Mr. PETRIE takes this opportunity to thank the Public for their large and liberal support during the seven years he has been in business in Guelph.

The New Store is the one formerly occupied by Mr. H. Berry, and lately by Mr. J. B. Potts, as a Confectionery Store. The store has been enlarged and refitted, making it a much more desirable place of business than the old stand.

Having secured the new store for a term of Ten Years, I hope, with the assistance of the Public, to present in the future as I have done during the past seven years, any monopoly in the Drug Trade in Guelph.

I have removed my stock to the new store, where business will only be conducted in future.

By conducting my business in the future in the same upright principle as in the past, I trust to receive a continuance of your generous support.

I am, yours very truly,

A. B. PETRIE.
