London, Thursday, March 12.

TUPPER'S ATTACK ON THE GRAND TRUNK. It is chronicled of James I. that being r quested by his old nurse to make her son "a gentleman," he answered empahatically, "I'll mak' him a baronet gin ye like, luckie, but the de'il himsel' couldna' make him s gentleman.

Of Sir Charles Tupper it may truthfully be asserted that his own wire-pulling and pipe-laying made him a baronet, but no power on earth can make him either a gentleman or a statesman. Despite his declaration of four years ago that it was improper for civil servants to become active partici-pants in federal elections, and notwith-standing that he and a large number of his family and relations are annually pocketing many thousands of dollars of money belongto the Canadian public, Tupper has for weeks been dashing up and down the Dominion traducing and lying about onehalf of the people. By appealing to the outlying Provinces of the Dominion, with those tangible in-ducements that he knows so well how to dangle before the eyes of a needy elector ate, this Prince of Billingsgate has managed to secure a small majority for the party which keeps him and his following affluence, but that does not satisfy him. In a speech which he delivered at Amherst, N. S., on Monday last, he makes it abundantly evident that he is disappointed to find the Tory majority in the new House so small that rascalities such as have been tolerated by past Parliaments will now difficult of accomplishment. A man who had achieved a satisfactory ctory would be in better temper than it is evident possesses the champion stretcher of truth and good manners. His particular bete noire at the present stage is the Grand Trunk Railway and its managers. They are not prepared to sacrifice their interests, to bow down and worship at the haughty shrine of the Nova Scotia bully. They refuse to use their influence directly contrary to the best interests of their trust. They decline to shut their eyes and open their mouths while waiting to discover what the dictator shall give them. Are they not right? Tupper tells them that Canada, in pursuit of the policy which it has applied free ly to other public works, has liberally subsidized the Grand Trunk, and has collected no interest on the original loan of $15,000,-000. But he conveniently ignores the great service which this immense system of railways has been to the country, and he forgets that while the original investors sank many millions in the main line 35 years ago, they have as yet received no benefit from it, whereas not even a Tupper can deny that the Grand Trunk was of immense value in the development of old Canada and in enalling our farmers to get their produce cheaply and expeditiously to market.

What has been the recent policy of the Grand Trunk? Its management knows that on the maintenance of cordial relations with the United States-the freest possible intercourse between the two countriesmust depend the future of this great system, as well as of other through lines of railway. The Grand Trunk has $200,000,-2000 of British money invested in the lines; of this $50,000,000 has been placed in the States, chiefly in Michigan. Its lines in Canada extend to 3,119 miles, and in the opportunity presents. They have a right to protest, and to protest strongly, against the assumption that the restriction of trade with our neighbors would not be an in-jury to their interests on both sides of the line. It is the duty of the Grand Trunk managers to protest against the assertion that retaliatory policies, threats of non-intercourse and high tariff walls between

Trunk management by this princely hanger-on is altogether unwarranted, and to be reprobated by all honest, fair-minded Canadians, the general public have a special in-terest in the matter. The policy of inter-national ill-will and of restriction of trade, rying Canadian freight. Surely our trade policy should be worked out on other lines than that. We are confident that, despite Tupper's present success, the people will so decree, and that There is a bungle in the returns sent in by the returning officer for one of the divisions in Caister township, South Wentworth, which illegally increases the Conservative majority from 2 to 72, and a reount will take place on Saturday next, which in all probability will result in the seat being given to the Liberal. In North Middlesex, where the Tory candidate is stated to have a majority of 2, a recount by the county judge will be demanded, and the Liberals hope to win that seat also.

Leaving these two disputed constituencies out of the count, however, it will be seen that the Liberals have carried 30 of the Western Ontario constituencies, while the Conservatives have carried eight; if we count the two seats in Hamilton, ten. Liberals have captured nine seats held in last Parliament by Conservatives, and have only lost one—East Elgin—by a small majority. The Conservatives have increased the majorities in five of the Western Ontario constituencies held by them; the Liberals have increased the majorities in 23 of the 30 constituencies held by them. But for the fact that two Liberals ran in West Middlesex, the Conservative candidate there would have been badly beaten, and if a second candidate favoring complete freedom of trade with the States had no run in Bothwell, Hon. David Mills would have been elected by an immense majority.

As it was his majority of 21 in 1887 became 460 this year. Another very significant feature in the returns is the enormous increase in the majorities polled in the Oxfords for Sir Richard Cartwright and Mr.

There wa no division on the address, and very little talking. But the hopelessness of the position of the Opposition was cleverly exemplified by the debate. It was shown and Mr. Meredith could not deny it, that the race and religion cries of the Conservastituencies as carried in the recent election tives prior to the Provincial general election were stifled the moment the contest was over. They were not even once raised in the subsequent bye-elections in Hamilton, North Bruce and elsewhere, and the only conclusion that can be drawn from this neighbors. TURNING THE SCREW A LITTLE

TIGHTER.
Complaint is being made at various points along the international line that unduly high valuations are being put upon Canadian goods shipped to the United States. By some people this is thought to be a local circumstance, due to the ignorance of the United States customs officer. In reality, however, it is but the carrying out of a new provision of the United States customs laws, designed to put a check upon under-valuation. It is an agency for helping the McKinley tariff to turn the screw a little tighter on the Canadian exporter, and so promote the policy of restriction which is seemingly so much in favor on both side of the boundary. How it works may be illustrated in the case of a horse purchased for shipment to the Detroit, Buffalo or New York market. The dealer, we may suppose, purchases the animal from farmer at $120, and if he succeeded in enter ing him at the same figure at the custom house the duty will be only $30. But the customs officer under the new law may refuse to enter the animal at $120, and place upon him instead a valuation of $160. In that case the duty is calculated at 30 per cent., so that instead of the exporter pay ing a fee of $30 to Uncle Sam's collector s obliged to pay $48.

It is by artifices of this kind that the McKinley tariff is bound to make itself felt in Canada, as our farmers will speedily discover when they have anything to sell which comes under the ad valorem rates But Uncle Sam learned this trick from our elves. It is one of the inventions of that distinguished statesman and economist Hon. Mackenzie Bowell.

PERSONAL AND GENERAL. -The Dominion Government paid $100, 000 in law costs last year. Three favorite lawyers received over $9,000 each.

-A Conservative contemporary says -a son. He has a daughter also, thoug she does not appear much in public.

-No less than $51,000 was charged for extra clerks by the Ottawa Government last year and $9,115 for extra messengers.

-Over $4,700 was charged by the Dominion Government for traveling expenses last year. Their employes were paid $16,384 for the same purpose. Holidaying in Ottawa official circles is costly.

-The Liberal majority in South Middlesex is assuming something like proper proportions. It was 624 in the recent election, but if the full vote had been polled i would have been over 800. Still an increa of over 200 since 1887 will do.
