FALL STYLES

You are not "in it" if you are out of our handsome EXTENSION SOLE WALKING BOOTS—the latest American style in Ladies' Street Footwear.

Look at them.

They're almost like men's, but they are "IT."

It may be a good fashion—but there's no question on the point that it is the fashion.

So why argue?—that settles it.

We challenge comparison in quality, style, fit and price.

STRUCK AND KILLED

BY C. P. R. EXPRESS
Tilbury Man Mangled—Child Given a Fatal Dose—Fell Fifty Feet—Other Casualties.

STRUCK BY TRAIN.
Chatham, Ont., Sept. 16.—Julius Borden, of Tilbury, was brought into Chatham this afternoon on No. 6 express, due here from the west at 3:25, seriously injured. He succumbed to his injuries shortly after his arrival in Chatham. The unfortunate man was crossing the C. P. R. track a short distance east of Tilbury, when he was struck by No. 6 train, breaking his back and pitching him a number of yards to the side of the track.

FELL HEADLONG 50 FEET.
Adrian, Mich., Sept. 17.—While reaching over for a bucket of water in his old-fashioned well yesterday morning, Lawrence Hummel, 58, slipped and fell headlong 50 feet to the bottom. He was instantly killed.

CHILD GIVEN A FATAL DOSE.
Dowagiac, Mich., Sept. 17.—A 6-year-old son of Fred Stebbins was given a tablet of strychnine by mistake. He went into convulsions almost immediately and died in half an hour. The child had been ailing with some slight stomach trouble. Mr. Stebbins is a traveling salesman and was away at the time. The mother is frantic with grief.

CARELESSNESS.
Flint, Mich., Sept. 17.—Robt. Keyes, of Saginaw, employed by Lynch & Lynch, paving contractors in Flint, was fatally injured yesterday morning. While a Valley telephone gang were engaged in taking down wires and poles on Saginaw street, Keyes was digging a hole for a catch basin near by, and a telephone pole fell on his back, pitching him a number of yards to the side of the road. He is thought his back is broken. No warning that the pole was coming was given to the unfortunate man.

HANGED HIMSELF.
Dresden, Sept. 17.—Martin Tenneyson, who came to be a nephew of Lord Tenneyson, committed suicide yesterday. Tenneyson had been despondent for some time, living alone on the north side of the river. Alexander Badgley was walking by the woods at the rear of Tenneyson's house, when he noticed the form of a man hanging by a rope from a post of the shed. The body was still warm when found. Tenneyson was 66 years old. For the last year or more he had been unwell, which probably accounts for his rash act.

THE JOURNEY TO WASHINGTON

Tolling Bells Everywhere Tell of the Funeral Train's Approach.

Mourning Thousands Gather at the Stations Along the Way--The President's Remains Lie in State at the White House.

Olean, N. Y., Sept. 16.—On board the funeral train.—The funeral train bearing the body of the martyred president started on its journey to the national capital at 8:34 this morning. Only the engines and the observation car were enshrouded in black. The other cars were unadorned.

Behind the drawn blinds were Mrs. McKinley, President Roosevelt, the cabinet and other high dignitaries of the government.

Senator Hawley and Gen. Harrison Gray Otis, A. M. of Aaron, Major Thos. Simons, Capt. Henry Leonard and Capt. J. T. Dean, aide to Gen. Brooke, and a committee representing the G. A. R., were among those in the car with public men.

The casket of the president, completely covered by a beautiful silk flag, lay on a raised tier in the observation car. Two sheaves of wheat were crossed above the breast. A white dove with outstretched wings seemed to be rising from the head of the casket.

It was part of an exquisite floral piece in which red and white buds pictured the American flag and French colors, a tribute from a Franco-American society. Standing at the foot of the casket was a soldier of the United States army, uniformed and accoutred, with gun at order arms. At the head a sailor of the navy stood at attention, cutlass at shoulder. The lid of the casket was closed.

Just off from the apartment in a curtained niche, Lieut. Elbridge, of the army, and Lieut. Hamilton, of the navy, remained on duty, while Col. Dingham was in charge of the car.

The other apartments of the car were for the moment barracks, with guns stacked in the sections, cutlasses on the seats, and the reserve of (Continued on page 3.)
