Severe Case of a Philadelphia Woman-Her Symptoms.

Philadelphia, Pa. - "I had a severe case of nervous prostration, with palpitation of the heart, constination, headaches, dizziness, noise in my ears, timid, nervous, restess feelings and sleeplessness. "I read in the paper where a young woman had been cured of the same troubles by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound so I threw away the medicines the doctor left me and began taking the Compound. Before I had taken half a bottle I was able to sit up and in a short time I was able to do all my work. Your medicine has proved itself able to do all you say it will and I have recommended it in every household I have visited."-Mrs. MARY JOHNSTON, 110 Siegel Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Another Bad Case.

Ephrata. Pa. - "About a year ago I was down with nervous prostration. I was pale and weak and would have hysteric spells, sick headaches and a bad pain under my shoulder-blade. I was under the care of different doctors but did not improve. I was so weak I could hardly stand long enough to do my dishes.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Combound has made me well and happy and I have begun to gain in weight and my face looks healthy now."—Mrs. J. W. HORNBERGER, R. No. 3, Ephrata, Pa.

New York, Oct. 29. - "The blond woman in the case' is still the answer to "why married men go wrong." Anyone in doubt about it is recommended to a morning session in mind thought faster and further than his.

Justice Giegerich's part of the supreme court, where undefended, mostly undefended divorce cases supply the defendable, divorce cases supply the grist for justices' mill. Here wives, after what had happened three days ago robbbed of their husbands' affections, troop into court with detectives at their heels, and sometimes with "the blond woman in the case" close at hand, to go through the 20-minute proess of cutting the ties.

Nearly Always. Nearly Always.

It is nearly always a blond woman who is named as co-respondent. FIRST SKYSCRAPER BEING TORN DOWN

Old Tower Building Is No Longer Wonder of New York.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, Oct, 29 .- The first buildng ever erected around a skeleton of steel, the forerunner of the skyscrapers which are known today in almost every American city, is to be torn down. The structure is known as the Tower Building, but this has become a misnomer. When it was erected in 1889 at 50 Broadway it was the mar-vel of the city, being eleven stories in height. Today within a stone's throw of the old structure there are buildings from three to four times as

The Tower Building is owned by Standard Oil interests, who have found that the structure no longer pays for its operating costs. It has been decided to demolish it to make a that it has been found necessary to saving in taxes.
