Wolves Still Menace Farms

Canadian Press Despatch. Kingston, Feb. 2.—The timber wolf menace in Northern Frontenac is still a grave matter with the farmers throughout the district around Sharbot Lake, Clarendon and Mississippi. They are taking every precaution to protect their cattle and horses from postheir cattle and horses from possible raids by the animals. No serious damage has been done so far, by the wolves, but the cold weather and the lack of food will eventually make them more des-perate and soon, it is expected they will have to make inroads on such farm animals as they
