subject as follows:—The unfortunate determination of the authorities in England to maintain the validity of the Hudson's Bay claim, in no way affects our anxiety for the opening up of the North-west territory. We still deem it as much as ever a question of the most vital importance.

gates' proposition to take over the North-west territory and negotiate with the Company for the "termination of their rights." On the fourth point—the subject of the North-west territory—the despatch of the Secretary for the Colonies to Governor Monck, the Canadian Ministers desired that territory should be made over to Canada, and undertook to negotiate with the Hudson's Bay Company for the termination of their rights on condition that the indemnity, if any, should be paid by a loan to be raised by Canada under the Imperial guarantee.

On Monday evening, August 14th, the steamer Otter, Captain Swanson, arrived Wednesday night about eight o'clock from Bowen Sound. Immediately after her arrival she was surrounded by a large number of people, and the Hudson's Bay Company's wharf was soon crowded with persons anxious to hear the latest intelligence from the new diggings.

Return of the "Otter"

Landing of Prospectors at Bear River. MINING REGULATIONS. TOWN SITE LAID OUT.

The steamer Otter, Captain Swanson, arrived Wednesday night about eight o'clock from Bowen Sound. Immediately after her arrival she was surrounded by a large number of people, and the Hudson's Bay Company's wharf was soon crowded with persons anxious to hear the latest intelligence from the new diggings.

The proceedings of the party are fully narrated in the accompanying letters from our correspondents, which will be read with interest.

During the "ama" hours—an incident occurred which occasioned a slight alarm at first, but afterwards turned to merriment. As there were about 115 white passengers, besides Indians, all the cabin berths and the floor were closely packed, and just as all were in the full enjoyment of their second smoke, an armchair, which had been laid on top of the motion of the boat, was thrown off by the motion of the boat, and alighted rather heavily on the nasal appendage of one of the sleepers, to his infinite disgust and astonishment.
