

Proposal By The Operators

The Statement Given Officially By President Roosevelt's Secretary.

Suggested Commission to Decide the Dispute With the Miners.

Washington, Oct. 13.—Secretary Cortelyou, by authority of those present at the White House made public the following authorized statement concerning the conference.

Mr. J. P. Morgan came to Washington with his partner Mr. Bacon at the request of the coal companies, who desired that as a matter of courtesy their statement should be shown to the President by Mr. Morgan as it is now given to the press.

There are in the anthracite regions about 70,000 men and boys and 147,000 women (of which 30,000 are under age) comprising some 200,000 persons. Of these 100,000 are miners, possibly one-half belong to the union of mine workers of which Mr. John Mitchell is President. The organization was originally formed in the bituminous coal region, and three-fourths of its members are miners of bituminous coal and bituminous shale. It is in active competition with anthracite coal. The remaining workers in the anthracite fields either have no union with them or do not belong to the mine workers union. The present strike was declared by the mine workers union on the 10th day of May, 1902. Since that time many workers not belonging to the union were drafted into the ranks of the mine workers. From 17,000 to 20,000 are now at work. Many more have wished to work but have been prevented by the anthracite coal companies. The coal companies have been unwilling to submit to arbitration with the mine workers union, and they are not willing to make any arrangement which will not secure to the men now working and all now hereafter wishing to work, whether they belong to the union or not, the right to work and to be paid for their work without personal insult or bodily harm to themselves or their families. For these reasons the mine workers union proposed have been declined.

It will be remembered that at the conference at Washington, October 2, we made the following offer: Several would take up at each colliery any alleged grievance and in the event of failure to make satisfactory proposals, the questions at issue to be submitted to the final decision of the judges of the court of conciliation which is to be organized in the event of a strike in which the colliery is located. This was made by us in good faith, and we were ready to readjust our proposals in the appreciation of an inadequate supply for the approaching winter. Calls for an earnest effort to reach a final conclusion which will result in an abandonment of the interests committed to their care, and of the interests of the mine workers, and willing to work in their stead, this responsibility they must bear. The mine workers union should not discriminate against or refuse to work with non-union men. They should not insist that the mine workers union should not discriminate against or refuse to work with non-union men. They should not insist that the mine workers union should not discriminate against or refuse to work with non-union men.

It will be remembered that at the conference at Washington, October 2, we made the following offer: Several would take up at each colliery any alleged grievance and in the event of failure to make satisfactory proposals, the questions at issue to be submitted to the final decision of the judges of the court of conciliation which is to be organized in the event of a strike in which the colliery is located. This was made by us in good faith, and we were ready to readjust our proposals in the appreciation of an inadequate supply for the approaching winter. Calls for an earnest effort to reach a final conclusion which will result in an abandonment of the interests committed to their care, and of the interests of the mine workers, and willing to work in their stead, this responsibility they must bear. The mine workers union should not discriminate against or refuse to work with non-union men. They should not insist that the mine workers union should not discriminate against or refuse to work with non-union men.

Successful Religions and Social Evening at James Bay. The grand rally of the James Bay Epworth League's anniversary was one of great enjoyment and inspiration. Representatives from several of the Young People's societies of the Eastern district of Pennsylvania. A man prominent as a sociologist, in mining is familiar with the physical and commercial features of the business. The operators make as a condition that the miners shall return to work, and cease all interference with non-union men, the commission to name, when findings shall be effective, and to govern conditions of employment between the companies and their own employees for at least three years.

TURKEY COMPLAINS. Say Bulgaria Is Not Protecting Her Frontier.

Constantinople, Oct. 13.—The Porte sent a circular to the powers complaining that Bulgaria has been appointing inadequate guards to protect her frontier, and that the Bulgarian border guards are being dispersed by these bands, after the manner of Turkish troops, across the frontier and find shelter in Bulgarian territory. The Turkish government also complains of a revolutionary band that was recently consecrated in a Bulgarian monastery at Rilov, and that the Bulgarian border guards are being dispersed by these bands, after the manner of Turkish troops, across the frontier and find shelter in Bulgarian territory.

FOR PADDING PAY LIST. Former Railway Timekeeper Under Arrest.

Montreal, Oct. 13.—Godfray Cloutier, of Westwood, Ont., is now in jail here. He was formerly employed as a timekeeper on the Allegan railway and is alleged to have defrauded the company by padding the pay list.

AERONAUTS KILLED. Car Detached From Balloon and Occupants Killed.

Paris, Oct. 13.—De Bradsy, the aeronaut, and a companion, were killed by falling from a balloon this morning. Bradsy's balloon started from the aerostatic station at Vaugrassard, a suburb of this city, being on a trip to Tripoli. After preliminary maneuvering with a rope attachment, Bradsy released the balloon and proceeded eastward at a height of 300 to 400 feet. The two propellers of the machine appeared to work well. The balloon, however, was not quite successful. When the balloon was above St. Denis, near St. Denis, 29 balloons broke from some unknown cause, and the car, with its occupants, De Bradsy and Morin, was dashed to the ground, and the aerostats met instant death. The balloon itself disappeared in the clouds.

MR. TARTER'S TRIP. Found People of Ontario Strongly in Favor of Protection.

Montreal, Oct. 13.—(Special)—This is Mr. Tarter's report on his trip to Ontario in La Patrie today: "What is the sentiment of the people? Mr. Tarter was asked. "Unanimous," he replied. "I say it without hesitation, unanimous in asking for an energetic fiscal policy, and in protecting us against the invasion of foreign products which menace the stability and development of our industries, the labor of our workmen, and the markets of our exporters. I met in all my visits business men and farmers of both political parties, and in every case they assured me that I have never at any time during my career noticed so strong and so unanimous a sentiment in favor of protection as today in favor of a truly Canadian policy."

MACEDONIA IN REVOLT. Half a Battalion of Turkish Troops Annihilated by Insurgents.

Loudon, Oct. 14.—A despatch to the Daily Mail from Volo, Greece, says 22 villages in Macedonia are in complete revolt, and that half a battalion of Turkish troops have been annihilated by insurgents in the Krezna denie. This news, continues the despatch, emanates from a source which has hitherto been regarded as reliable. The situation is so serious that it is clear that he either cannot, or will not prevent it, and that the rights of the other workers cannot be secured under the supremacy of the mine workers union. The coal companies believe that the wages paid in coal regions are not fair and full and that all the business in its normal state has been able to stand, if the companies are to have any reasonable return. The profits have been small. Several of the companies have been bankrupt, and been reorganized several times. Several have never presented dividends and the dividends of the others have been a small return for the capital invested. However, the purpose of this statement to discuss this question.

PREMIER LAURIER. Extensive Preparations to Welcome Him.

Montreal, Oct. 13.—Extensive preparations are being made for the welcome to Mr. Wilfrid Laurier on his arrival here on Friday evening. It is proposed to have a grand parade down the main street, from Lake Erie at Rimouski on Thursday morning. The parade will be headed by the Drum and arrive at Quebec Thursday night, where an address will be presented to him. The premier will leave Montreal on Friday morning, and address will be given at Fort St. Charles, Trois Rivières, L'Assommoir, and other places. He is expected to reach here at 7 p. m. An address of welcome will be presented to him at the Viger station, after which the premier will be escorted to the Windsor hotel by a torchlight procession.

SIR MICHAEL HERBERT. New Ambassador Presented to United States President.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 13.—Sir Michael Herbert, the new British ambassador to the United States, was presented today by Secretary Hay. The presentation took place at what is called the "White House," and was a very impressive affair. The ambassador, who is a member of the House of Commons, was accompanied by his wife and two children. The ceremony was attended by the President, the Vice-President, and the members of the cabinet. The ambassador was presented to the President by Secretary Hay, and the President expressed his pleasure in receiving him. The ambassador then addressed the President and the members of the cabinet, and expressed his confidence in the future of the United States. The ceremony was a very successful one, and the ambassador was well received by the President and the members of the cabinet.

GRAND RALLY OF E. L. Successful Religions and Social Evening at James Bay.

The grand rally of the James Bay Epworth League's anniversary was one of great enjoyment and inspiration. Representatives from several of the Young People's societies of the Eastern district of Pennsylvania. A man prominent as a sociologist, in mining is familiar with the physical and commercial features of the business. The operators make as a condition that the miners shall return to work, and cease all interference with non-union men, the commission to name, when findings shall be effective, and to govern conditions of employment between the companies and their own employees for at least three years.

DEAN OF WESTMINSTER. Rev. Charles Henry Robinson Appointed to the Position.

London, Oct. 12.—Rev. Charles Henry Robinson, dean of Westminster, has been appointed to the position of dean of Westminster, in succession of the Rev. George Granville Bradley, who has resigned.

GENEROUS GIFT. Unknown Benefactor Gives Large Sum For Hospital.

Toronto, Ont., Oct. 13.—A citizen whose name is withheld, has given $25,000 for the erection of a new wing of a hospital for advanced cases of consumption.

Uncle Jack.—The professor has a mummy quite two thousand years old. He says, mummy, you will be two thousand years old when you are buried. He is now like him—Punch.

Business At The City Council

Attempt to Be Made to Enforce Regulations Regarding Sewer Connections.

Council Asked to Stop Sunday Concert, But Has No Power.

The City Council at its regular weekly meeting yesterday evening adopted a report looking to the better enforcement of the regulations which provide for sewerage connections being made more promptly, and the City Engineer will be instructed to at once notify delinquents to make connections. Mr. H. J. Knott, secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance, wanted the council to interfere and prevent the holding of a sacred hand concert in the Victoria theatre on Sunday evening next, but the city solicitor refused to do so, as he has no authority whatever to meddle in the matter.

The matter of increasing the city engineer's salary came up just previous to adjournment, and the city solicitor discussed the question. The question was discussed by the passage of a motion recommending an increase to the council of next year. There were present His Worship Mayor Hayward in the chair and all the aldermen.

COMMUNICATIONS. A. Campbell, secretary of the provincial secretary, wrote saying meeting would soon be arranged re Soughes India rubber, Mr. Damsuir's absence being some delay.

Mr. Justice Martin acknowledged receipt of letter from water commissioner, Mr. J. G. Devereux, dated Oct. 11, 1902, in which he would use all his endeavors to secure the early completion of the office building on Government street, as requested.

Mr. G. Jackson, secretary of the Laborers' Protective union, wrote complaining of inattention to the petition for an eight hour day. Referred to Streets committee.

The secretary of the school trustees wrote saying it was desired that the permission to erect a new school building be referred to city engineer.

The secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance, Mr. H. J. Knott, wrote saying that the Royal Italian band will play at the Victoria theatre on Sunday next. He thought this was but the thing that the city council should do.

Mr. George Riley, M. P., informed council he would use all his endeavors to secure the early completion of the office building on Government street, as requested.

Mr. G. Jackson, secretary of the Laborers' Protective union, wrote complaining of inattention to the petition for an eight hour day. Referred to Streets committee.

The secretary of the school trustees wrote saying it was desired that the permission to erect a new school building be referred to city engineer.

The secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance, Mr. H. J. Knott, wrote saying that the Royal Italian band will play at the Victoria theatre on Sunday next. He thought this was but the thing that the city council should do.

Mr. George Riley, M. P., informed council he would use all his endeavors to secure the early completion of the office building on Government street, as requested.

Mr. G. Jackson, secretary of the Laborers' Protective union, wrote complaining of inattention to the petition for an eight hour day. Referred to Streets committee.

The secretary of the school trustees wrote saying it was desired that the permission to erect a new school building be referred to city engineer.

The secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance, Mr. H. J. Knott, wrote saying that the Royal Italian band will play at the Victoria theatre on Sunday next. He thought this was but the thing that the city council should do.

Mr. George Riley, M. P., informed council he would use all his endeavors to secure the early completion of the office building on Government street, as requested.

Mr. G. Jackson, secretary of the Laborers' Protective union, wrote complaining of inattention to the petition for an eight hour day. Referred to Streets committee.

The secretary of the school trustees wrote saying it was desired that the permission to erect a new school building be referred to city engineer.

The secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance, Mr. H. J. Knott, wrote saying that the Royal Italian band will play at the Victoria theatre on Sunday next. He thought this was but the thing that the city council should do.

Mr. George Riley, M. P., informed council he would use all his endeavors to secure the early completion of the office building on Government street, as requested.

Mr. G. Jackson, secretary of the Laborers' Protective union, wrote complaining of inattention to the petition for an eight hour day. Referred to Streets committee.

The secretary of the school trustees wrote saying it was desired that the permission to erect a new school building be referred to city engineer.

The secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance, Mr. H. J. Knott, wrote saying that the Royal Italian band will play at the Victoria theatre on Sunday next. He thought this was but the thing that the city council should do.

Mr. George Riley, M. P., informed council he would use all his endeavors to secure the early completion of the office building on Government street, as requested.

Mr. G. Jackson, secretary of the Laborers' Protective union, wrote complaining of inattention to the petition for an eight hour day. Referred to Streets committee.

The secretary of the school trustees wrote saying it was desired that the permission to erect a new school building be referred to city engineer.

The secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance, Mr. H. J. Knott, wrote saying that the Royal Italian band will play at the Victoria theatre on Sunday next. He thought this was but the thing that the city council should do.

Mr. George Riley, M. P., informed council he would use all his endeavors to secure the early completion of the office building on Government street, as requested.

Mr. G. Jackson, secretary of the Laborers' Protective union, wrote complaining of inattention to the petition for an eight hour day. Referred to Streets committee.

The secretary of the school trustees wrote saying it was desired that the permission to erect a new school building be referred to city engineer.

The secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance, Mr. H. J. Knott, wrote saying that the Royal Italian band will play at the Victoria theatre on Sunday next. He thought this was but the thing that the city council should do.

Mr. George Riley, M. P., informed council he would use all his endeavors to secure the early completion of the office building on Government street, as requested.

Mr. G. Jackson, secretary of the Laborers' Protective union, wrote complaining of inattention to the petition for an eight hour day. Referred to Streets committee.

Conditions in The Kootenays

Mining Engineer From Rossland Talks of Outlook in Upper Country.

A General Improvement in Conditions a Notable Feature in Every District.

J. Fred Ritchie, the well known mining engineer of Rossland district, is at present in the city, being a guest at the Driad.

Mr. Ritchie is a pioneer of the Kootenays, having witnessed the growth of Rossland from its birth to its present proportions, and is therefore in a position to be able to speak with some degree of authority regarding conditions in the Kootenays. He says, "I have seen the position which has prevailed in the Kootenays since the time of the collapse of the unfortunate boom; and now that it has been amply demonstrated that the camp is a quantity of its mineral bodies a vast quantity of ore, which are capable of being treated profitably, a feeling of confidence pervades the community. The Kootenays are now a mining district, and all those who have the best interests of the Kootenays at heart, are spared of the future of the mining industry, believing that the 'discredit' which has been cast upon the Kootenays by the mining industry, is now being removed, and that the Kootenays are now a mining district, and all those who have the best interests of the Kootenays at heart, are spared of the future of the mining industry."

Mr. Ritchie is a pioneer of the Kootenays, having witnessed the growth of Rossland from its birth to its present proportions, and is therefore in a position to be able to speak with some degree of authority regarding conditions in the Kootenays. He says, "I have seen the position which has prevailed in the Kootenays since the time of the collapse of the unfortunate boom; and now that it has been amply demonstrated that the camp is a quantity of ore, which are capable of being treated profitably, a feeling of confidence pervades the community. The Kootenays are now a mining district, and all those who have the best interests of the Kootenays at heart, are spared of the future of the mining industry."

Mr. Ritchie is a pioneer of the Kootenays, having witnessed the growth of Rossland from its birth to its present proportions, and is therefore in a position to be able to speak with some degree of authority regarding conditions in the Kootenays. He says, "I have seen the position which has prevailed in the Kootenays since the time of the collapse of the unfortunate boom; and now that it has been amply demonstrated that the camp is a quantity of ore, which are capable of being treated profitably, a feeling of confidence pervades the community. The Kootenays are now a mining district, and all those who have the best interests of the Kootenays at heart, are spared of the future of the mining industry."

Mr. Ritchie is a pioneer of the Kootenays, having witnessed the growth of Rossland from its birth to its present proportions, and is therefore in a position to be able to speak with some degree of authority regarding conditions in the Kootenays. He says, "I have seen the position which has prevailed in the Kootenays since the time of the collapse of the unfortunate boom; and now that it has been amply demonstrated that the camp is a quantity of ore, which are capable of being treated profitably, a feeling of confidence pervades the community. The Kootenays are now a mining district, and all those who have the best interests of the Kootenays at heart, are spared of the future of the mining industry."

Mr. Ritchie is a pioneer of the Kootenays, having witnessed the growth of Rossland from its birth to its present proportions, and is therefore in a position to be able to speak with some degree of authority regarding conditions in the Kootenays. He says, "I have seen the position which has prevailed in the Kootenays since the time of the collapse of the unfortunate boom; and now that it has been amply demonstrated that the camp is a quantity of ore, which are capable of being treated profitably, a feeling of confidence pervades the community. The Kootenays are now a mining district, and all those who have the best interests of the Kootenays at heart, are spared of the future of the mining industry."

Mr. Ritchie is a pioneer of the Kootenays, having witnessed the growth of Rossland from its birth to its present proportions, and is therefore in a position to be able to speak with some degree of authority regarding conditions in the Kootenays. He says, "I have seen the position which has prevailed in the Kootenays since the time of the collapse of the unfortunate boom; and now that it has been amply demonstrated that the camp is a quantity of ore, which are capable of being treated profitably, a feeling of confidence pervades the community. The Kootenays are now a mining district, and all those who have the best interests of the Kootenays at heart, are spared of the future of the mining industry."

Mr. Ritchie is a pioneer of the Kootenays, having witnessed the growth of Rossland from its birth to its present proportions, and is therefore in a position to be able to speak with some degree of authority regarding conditions in the Kootenays. He says, "I have seen the position which has prevailed in the Kootenays since the time of the collapse of the unfortunate boom; and now that it has been amply demonstrated that the camp is a quantity of ore, which are capable of being treated profitably, a feeling of confidence pervades the community. The Kootenays are now a mining district, and all those who have the best interests of the Kootenays at heart, are spared of the future of the mining industry."

Mr. Ritchie is a pioneer of the Kootenays, having witnessed the growth of Rossland from its birth to its present proportions, and is therefore in a position to be able to speak with some degree of authority regarding conditions in the Kootenays. He says, "I have seen the position which has prevailed in the Kootenays since the time of the collapse of the unfortunate boom; and now that it has been amply demonstrated that the camp is a quantity of ore, which are capable of being treated profitably, a feeling of confidence pervades the community. The Kootenays are now a mining district, and all those who have the best interests of the Kootenays at heart, are spared of the future of the mining industry."

Mr. Ritchie is a pioneer of the Kootenays, having witnessed the growth of Rossland from its birth to its present proportions, and is therefore in a position to be able to speak with some degree of authority regarding conditions in the Kootenays. He says, "I have seen the position which has prevailed in the Kootenays since the time of the collapse of the unfortunate boom; and now that it has been amply demonstrated that the camp is a quantity of ore, which are capable of being treated profitably, a feeling of confidence pervades the community. The Kootenays are now a mining district, and all those who have the best interests of the Kootenays at heart, are spared of the future of the mining industry."

Mr. Ritchie is a pioneer of the Kootenays, having witnessed the growth of Rossland from its birth to its present proportions, and is therefore in a position to be able to speak with some degree of authority regarding conditions in the Kootenays. He says, "I have seen the position which has prevailed in the Kootenays since the time of the collapse of the unfortunate boom; and now that it has been amply demonstrated that the camp is a quantity of ore, which are capable of being treated profitably, a feeling of confidence pervades the community. The Kootenays are now a mining district, and all those who have the best interests of the Kootenays at heart, are spared of the future of the mining industry."

Mr. Ritchie is a pioneer of the Kootenays, having witnessed the growth of Rossland from its birth to its present proportions, and is therefore in a position to be able to speak with some degree of authority regarding conditions in the Kootenays. He says, "I have seen the position which has prevailed in the Kootenays since the time of the collapse of the unfortunate boom; and now that it has been amply demonstrated that the camp is a quantity of ore, which are capable of being treated profitably, a feeling of confidence pervades the community. The Kootenays are now a mining district, and all those who have the best interests of the Kootenays at heart, are spared of the future of the mining industry."

Mr. Ritchie is a pioneer of the Kootenays, having witnessed the growth of Rossland from its birth to its present proportions, and is therefore in a position to be able to speak with some degree of authority regarding conditions in the Kootenays. He says, "I have seen the position which has prevailed in the Kootenays since the time of the collapse of the unfortunate boom; and now that it has been amply demonstrated that the camp is a quantity of ore, which are capable of being treated profitably, a feeling of confidence pervades the community. The Kootenays are now a mining district, and all those who have the best interests of the Kootenays at heart, are spared of the future of the mining industry."

Mr. Ritchie is a pioneer of the Kootenays, having witnessed the growth of Rossland from its birth to its present proportions, and is therefore in a position to be able to speak with some degree of authority regarding conditions in the Kootenays. He says, "I have seen the position which has prevailed in the Kootenays since the time of the collapse of the unfortunate boom; and now that it has been amply demonstrated that the camp is a quantity of ore, which are capable of being treated profitably, a feeling of confidence pervades the community. The Kootenays are now a mining district, and all those who have the best interests of the Kootenays at heart, are spared of the future of the mining industry."

Mr. Ritchie is a pioneer of the Kootenays, having witnessed the growth of Rossland from its birth to its present proportions, and is therefore in a position to be able to speak with some degree of authority regarding conditions in the Kootenays. He says, "I have seen the position which has prevailed in the Kootenays since the time of the collapse of the unfortunate boom; and now that it has been amply demonstrated that the camp is a quantity of ore, which are capable of being treated profitably, a feeling of confidence pervades the community. The Kootenays are now a mining district, and all those who have the best interests of the Kootenays at heart, are spared of the future of the mining industry."

Mr. Ritchie is a pioneer of the Kootenays, having witnessed the growth of Rossland from its birth to its present proportions, and is therefore in a position to be able to speak with some degree of authority regarding conditions in the Kootenays. He says, "I have seen the position which has prevailed in the Kootenays since the time of the collapse of the unfortunate boom; and now that it has been amply demonstrated that the camp is a quantity of ore, which are capable of being treated profitably, a feeling of confidence pervades the community. The Kootenays are now a mining district, and all those who have the best interests of the Kootenays at heart, are spared of the future of the mining industry."

Mr. Ritchie is a pioneer of the Kootenays, having witnessed the growth of Rossland from its birth to its present proportions, and is therefore in a position to be able to speak with some degree of authority regarding conditions in the Kootenays. He says, "I have seen the position which has prevailed in the Kootenays since the time of the collapse of the unfortunate boom; and now that it has been amply demonstrated that the camp is a quantity of ore, which are capable of being treated profitably, a feeling of confidence pervades the community. The Kootenays are now a mining district, and all those who have the best interests of the Kootenays at heart, are spared of the future of the mining industry."

Mr. Ritchie is a pioneer of the Kootenays, having witnessed the growth of Rossland from its birth to its present proportions, and is therefore in a position to be able to speak with some degree of authority regarding conditions in the Kootenays. He says, "I have seen the position which has prevailed in the Kootenays since the time of the collapse of the unfortunate boom; and now that it has been amply demonstrated that the camp is a quantity of ore, which are capable of being treated profitably, a feeling of confidence pervades the community. The Kootenays are now a mining district, and all those who have the best interests of the Kootenays at heart, are spared of the future of the mining industry."

Mr. Ritchie is a pioneer of the Kootenays, having witnessed the growth of Rossland from its birth to its present proportions, and is therefore in a position to be able to speak with some degree of authority regarding conditions in the Kootenays. He says, "I have seen the position which has prevailed in the Kootenays since the time of the collapse of the unfortunate boom; and now that it has been amply demonstrated that the camp is a quantity of ore, which are capable of being treated profitably, a feeling of confidence pervades the community. The Kootenays are now a mining district, and all those who have the best interests of the Kootenays at heart, are spared of the future of the mining industry."

Mr. Ritchie is a pioneer of the Kootenays, having witnessed the growth of Rossland from its birth to its present proportions, and is therefore in a position to be able to speak with some degree of authority regarding conditions in the Kootenays. He says, "I have seen the position which has prevailed in the Kootenays since the time of the collapse of the unfortunate boom; and now that it has been amply demonstrated that the camp is a quantity of ore, which are capable of being treated profitably, a feeling of confidence pervades the community. The Kootenays are now a mining district, and all those who have the best interests of the Kootenays at heart, are spared of the future of the mining industry."

Mr. Ritchie is a pioneer of the Kootenays, having witnessed the growth of Rossland from its birth to its present proportions, and is therefore in a position to be able to speak with some degree of authority regarding conditions in the Kootenays. He says, "I have seen the position which has prevailed in the Kootenays since the time of the collapse of the unfortunate boom; and now that it has been amply demonstrated that the camp is a quantity of ore, which are capable of being treated profitably, a feeling of confidence pervades the community. The Kootenays are now a mining district, and all those who have the best interests of the Kootenays at heart, are spared of the future of the mining industry."

Mr. Ritchie is a pioneer of the Kootenays, having witnessed the growth of Rossland from its birth to its present proportions, and is therefore in a position to be able to speak with some degree of authority regarding conditions in the Kootenays. He says, "I have seen the position which has prevailed in the Kootenays since the time of the collapse of the unfortunate boom; and now that it has been amply demonstrated that the camp is a quantity of ore, which are capable of being treated profitably, a feeling of confidence pervades the community. The Kootenays are now a mining district, and all those who have the best interests of the Kootenays at heart, are spared of the future of the mining industry."

Mr. Ritchie is a pioneer of the Kootenays, having witnessed the growth of Rossland from its birth to its present proportions, and is therefore in a position to be able to speak with some degree of authority regarding conditions in the Kootenays. He says, "I have seen the position which has prevailed in the Kootenays since the time of the collapse of the unfortunate boom; and now that it has been amply demonstrated that the camp is a quantity of ore, which are capable of being treated profitably, a feeling of confidence pervades the community. The Kootenays are now a mining district, and all those who have the best interests of the Kootenays at heart, are spared of the future of the mining industry."

Mr. Ritchie is a pioneer of the Kootenays, having witnessed the growth of Rossland from its birth to its present proportions, and is therefore in a position to be able to speak with some degree of authority regarding conditions in the Kootenays. He says, "I have seen the position which has prevailed in the Kootenays since the time of the collapse of the unfortunate boom; and now that it has been amply demonstrated that the camp is a quantity of ore, which are capable of being treated profitably, a feeling of confidence pervades the community. The Kootenays are now a mining district, and all those who have the best interests of the Kootenays at heart, are spared of the future of the mining industry."

Mr. Ritchie is a pioneer of the Kootenays, having witnessed the growth of Rossland from its birth to its present proportions, and is therefore in a position to be able to speak with some degree of authority regarding conditions in the Kootenays. He says, "I have seen the position which has prevailed in the Kootenays since the time of the collapse of the unfortunate boom; and now that it has been amply demonstrated that the camp is a quantity of ore, which are capable of being treated profitably, a feeling of confidence pervades the community. The Kootenays are now a mining district, and all those who have the best interests of the Kootenays at heart, are spared of the future of the mining industry."

Mr. Ritchie is a pioneer of the Kootenays, having witnessed the growth of Rossland from its birth to its present proportions, and is therefore in a position to be able to speak with some degree of authority regarding conditions in the Kootenays. He says, "I have seen the position which has prevailed in the Kootenays since the time of the collapse of the unfortunate boom; and now that it has been amply demonstrated that the camp is a quantity of ore, which are capable of being treated profitably, a feeling of confidence pervades the community. The Kootenays are now a mining district, and all those who have the best interests of the Kootenays at heart, are spared of the future of the mining industry."

Mr. Ritchie is a pioneer of the Kootenays, having witnessed the growth of Rossland from its birth to its present proportions, and is therefore in a position to be able to speak with some degree of authority regarding conditions in the Kootenays. He says, "I have seen the position which has prevailed in the Kootenays since the time of the collapse of the unfortunate boom; and now that it has been amply demonstrated that the camp is a quantity of ore, which are capable of being treated profitably, a feeling of confidence pervades the community. The Kootenays are now a mining district, and all those who have the best interests of the Kootenays at heart, are spared of the future of the mining industry."

Mr. Ritchie is a pioneer of the Kootenays, having witnessed the growth of Rossland from its birth to its present proportions, and is therefore in a position to be able to speak with some degree of authority regarding conditions in the Kootenays. He says, "I have seen the position which has prevailed in the Kootenays since the time of the collapse of the unfortunate boom; and now that it has been amply demonstrated that the camp is a quantity of ore, which are capable of being treated profitably, a feeling of confidence pervades the community. The Kootenays are now a mining district, and all those who have the best interests of the Kootenays at heart, are spared of the future of the mining industry."

Mr. Ritchie is a pioneer of the Kootenays, having witnessed the growth of Rossland from its birth to its present proportions, and is therefore in a position to be able to speak with some degree of authority regarding conditions in the Kootenays. He says, "I have seen the position which has prevailed in the Kootenays since the time of the collapse of the unfortunate boom; and now that it has been amply demonstrated that the camp is a quantity of ore, which are capable of being treated profitably, a feeling of confidence pervades the community. The Kootenays are now a mining district, and all those who have the best interests of the Kootenays at heart, are spared of the future of the mining industry."

Mr. Ritchie is a pioneer of the Kootenays, having witnessed the growth of Rossland from its birth to its present proportions, and is therefore in a position to be able to speak with some degree of authority regarding conditions in the Kootenays. He says, "I have seen the position which has prevailed in the Kootenays since the time of the collapse of the unfortunate boom; and now that it has been amply demonstrated that the camp is a quantity of ore, which are capable of being treated profitably, a feeling of confidence pervades the community. The Kootenays are now a mining district, and all those who have the best interests of the Kootenays at heart, are spared of the future of the mining industry."

Mr. Ritchie is a pioneer of the Kootenays, having witnessed the growth of Rossland from its birth to its present proportions, and is therefore in a position to be able to speak with some degree of authority regarding conditions in the Kootenays. He says, "I have seen the position which has prevailed in the Kootenays since the time of the collapse of the unfortunate boom; and now that it has been amply demonstrated that the camp is a quantity of ore, which are capable of being treated profitably, a feeling of confidence pervades the community. The Kootenays are now a mining district, and all those who have the best interests of the Kootenays at heart, are spared of the future of the mining industry."

Mr. Ritchie is a pioneer of the Kootenays, having witnessed the growth of Rossland from its birth to its present proportions, and is therefore in a position to be able to speak with some degree of authority regarding conditions in the Kootenays. He says, "I have seen the position which has prevailed in the Kootenays since the time of the collapse of the unfortunate boom; and now that it has been amply demonstrated that the camp is a quantity of ore, which are capable of being treated profitably, a feeling of confidence pervades the community. The Kootenays are now a mining district, and all those who have the best interests of the Kootenays at heart, are spared of the future of the mining industry."

Mr. Ritchie is a pioneer of the Kootenays, having witnessed the growth of Rossland from its birth to its present proportions, and is therefore in a position to be able to speak with some degree of authority regarding conditions in the Kootenays. He says, "I have seen the position which has prevailed in the Kootenays since the time of the collapse of the unfortunate boom; and now that it has been amply demonstrated that the camp is a quantity of ore, which are capable of being treated profitably, a feeling of confidence pervades the community. The Kootenays are now a mining district, and all those who have the best interests of the Kootenays at