Bear this in mind, that it does not do for the apologists of the Jesuit order to ask us why we and the rest of British Canada prost against the incorporation and endowment of the Jesuits by the Legislature of Quebec as it rests with them to show why they have recognized a body hostile to our freedom, our religion and our undoubted sovereignty in our own affairs irrespective of any foreign ecclesi-

At this time, when the old is about to step out and the new is about coming in, even the best informed among our neighbors may feel doubtful as to what they are going to do about it. As for ourselves, it is likely that Canada will adhere to the spirit of that well-known Reciprocity offer of hers, for now ten years standing but not yet accepted. But that should not mean that we hold ourselves bound to accept an acceptance of it, literally and in all its details, at any time our neighbors may feel so moved. That offer has remained unheeded for ten years; it would be quite in order were we now gently but firmly to intimate that it had been withdrawn; and that for a change we were prepared to listen to for a change we were prepared to listen to some offer or other from them, it they had any to make. Not only would it be quite within our right to do this: but it could not even be called an unfriendly act. The matter is one upon which we would not speak too positively; but it strikes us that in dealing with the new Administration at Washing with the new Administration as Washington, it should be Canada's plan to begin from a new starting point entirely. Our futils offer of 1879 should be wiped out as if it never had been, and Canada should start, as her neighbor does, from the minimum of Reciprocity, and of Reciprocity offers as well. This appears to be necessary, if both nations are to begin the new Reciprocity talk on an equal footing. And possibly some such idea as this was present to the minds of Sir John and his colleagues when they decided to withdraw, at least for a time—the modus vivends in the fishery husiness, and to go back to the

The Globe, in a sickly, slavish manner, con-

ing, that if Ontarians wish to perpetuate Confederation they must tamely bow before the Romish propagands of Quebec and accept the allowance of the Jesuits Bill. The only alternative, says The Globe, "is the dissolution of the Federal compact, which would be better agreed upon now than after a long and bitter conflict, marked by riot, bloodshed and war." Has it, then, in fact, come to this: that this great possession of Protestant Britajn, where a large majority of the people are Protestant, and desire to perpetuate Britajn, where a large majority of the people are Protestant, and desire to perpetuate Britajn institutions and Protestant favor of the United States. We would say to our folks—Don't get excited because the earle screams, which he has a patriotic right to do, the people are protestant to perpetuate Britajn, where a large majority of the people are Protestant, and desire to perpetuate Britajn institutions and Protestant freedom and civilization, must surrender its auronomy, lower its flag, dismember its compact, and extraguish its political existence, or bow down before the altars of Rome and wear the galling yoke of Jesuit. Romish propagands of Quebec and accept the understand that the Protestants of Canada will never accept such a situation, and that there is a way out of the present threatening state of affairs that will secure Canada to a people loyal to British institutions and Protestant liberties, and that no disgraceful surrender of our Dominion will be made to either the minions of Rome or the wreckers of Canadagastion.

Medical Examinations. An important point to be considered with any kind of Insurance Company 1s the kind of risks assumed. A few figures from the report of the Medical Director, James W. Bowden, speaks volumes in that direction. It showed that of the people that were insured in 1887, numbering 11,636, but 35 died:

Persistency of Membership. The Association claims that the popularity of its system is manifest in the persistency of The Globe, in a sickly, slavish manner, con-the membership. The amount of mortuary cludes a lengthy article on the subject by say-call No. 40 (the last one on which a just estimate can be based at present), made upon the mate can be based at present), made upon the members, was $371,018.47. The amount paid on this call was $362,726.95, leaving only $8291.52 unpaid. From this unpaid balance should be deducted $2673 for terminations by death during the thirty days' grace given in which to pay the call, estimated upon the mortality for that period at the average age, leaving an actual lapse of $5648.42, or about 14 per cent, of the amount called, and 981 per 1½ per cent. of the amount called, and 98½ per cent. paid; a like ratio cannot be shown by any Association in existence.

Foreign Business. The popularity of the system of the mutual reserve in foreign countries is shown by the English, French and Canadian reports. Near-

Mr. J. D. Canadian Directors, Warring Kennedy Esq., and William Wilson, Esq., of Toronto were unanimously re

elected to the Advisory Council. Resolutions were passed expressing entire confidence in the management of President E. B. Harpër and his officers; also providing for a special emergency reserve fund, from which all urgent claims will be paid to widows and needy persons immediately on proof of their claims. It will elicit no surprise when we say that the meeting was a most enthusiastic one, and the Association starts upon another year's work with an inspiration that promises a grand report for 1889. Certainly its history is worth studying, and its claims may well have a calm hearing from all whose lives should be insured. And there are some of such in every house in our land. "The City Knocked Out."

A great victory was achieved to-day against the city by one of our leading clothing stores, the Army a Navy, who were charged with not putting sakes on their sidewalk contrary to the Snow Bylaw. Now, as though it takes the Army a Navy nearly all their spare time to wait upon customers, they atill manage to keep their sidewalks clear of snow or put sakes on them. This is only one of the numerous victories they are winning, for they win them every day over old-fash-ioned sleepy-headed clothing houses. Keep your eye on the Army & Navy stores the coming spring, as they intend to fire voiley after voiley of low prices and win many victories.
