

Special Plebiscite Note.

SEPTEMBER 29TH. PROHIBITION FOREVER.

“ENGLAND EXPECTS EVERY MAN TO DO HIS DUTY.”

UNDER THE WORD “YES” IN THE BALLOT, MARK X THUS.

September 29th is a crucial day in the history of our loved Canada. Every voter has placed in his hands a mighty weapon—the ballot—with which he can strike to death the enemy of prosperity, morality and religion. The saloon must go. This is what the Royal Commission says about it:—“The licensing of saloons, the only business of which is the sale by retail of intoxicants, the commissioners consider should be put an end to. There is no justification for their existence, founded upon necessity, and it is certain that most of the evils which arise out of the immoderate use of intoxicants have their origin in, or encouragement by the existence of these saloons.” Christian voters must vote “YES” on September 29. Let nothing keep you.
