Uardinal Gibbons said yesterday that Cardinal Parocchi's expression was no doubt meant as a tribute to the hospit-able spirit of the American bishops, clergy and people. "For," said Cardinal Gibbons, "there is scarcely any foundation for the statement so often made that the Pope will leave Rome. Mr. Chamberlain, in a letter to his constituents, says he thinks the time has arrived when the Government should prove its readiness to propose a substitute for Mr. Gladatone's rejected Irish bill, He thinks that if a large and final land purchase measure were passed with the consent of all parties it would immensely lessen the difficulty of giving freland a Liberal local Government measure. This matter, he says will be openly discussed at the coming Eastern con-terence. In order to put themselves on record as have ing opinious of their own, the Unionists have resolved to do their utmost to secure the introduction of an Irish land scheme on the basis of devoting £50,000,000 to the extension of Ashbourne Act, and upon this proposal intend to stand or fall. Thus far the Tories have refused to listen to any such proposition, but the Unionists becoming desperate by the fact that they are as necessary to the political existence of the Tories as the Tories are to theirs, are stimulated in their determination to force the to force the Government into recognition of the value of their assistance, and compel a division of administrative honours. LONDON, March 24.-Mr. Lewis, solicitor for the Parnellites, writes to call attention to an amazing and important misstatement with reference to Pigott, which was made by Attorney-General Webster in the House of Commons on Friday. He says the letter referred to by Mr. Webster as having been placed in Sir Charles Russel's hands five days before Pigott's appearance in the witness box was a letter from Mr. Soames, solicitor for the Times, to Pigott, and to other letters from Pigott to Mr. Soames, in which Pigott admitted that he feared to un dergo a cross examination, were withheld by the Times' lawyers. Mr. Lewis says it is a fact that neither counsel nor the solicitor for the Parnellites had notice of the existence of these two letters until Pigott had decamped. Mr. Soames' letter to Pigott contained a promise that no harm would come to Pigott through the labter's testifying before the Parnell commission. There was no allusion in the letter to the character of the evidence to be given by Pigott. Attorney General Webster, replying to Mr. Lewis, writes that he believes that he handed to Sir Charles Russell the letters to which Mr. Lewis refers, but that he will have to refer to his shorthand notes for confirmation. In any case, he says, the matter is not important, bacause none of the letters would have justified the withdrawal of Pigott from the witness box, and further, Sir Charles elected not to have the letters read until Pigott was in the box.

THE POTATO TEADE,

During the past few weeks holders have made great efforts to work off their supplies in view of the large rescipts expected this spring, and prices in consequence have had a drouping tendency. Country holders who refused 60c per bag for their potatoes last winter in car lots, put them into store here and have been retailing them since at 50c per bag. It is reported that a large quantity has been offered as low as 37½c per bag, but oar lots could be bought at 40c laid down here, and quotations would range from 400 to 50c as to quantity.
