

12½c. Eggs are very firm at 20c. per doz. for fresh and 18c. for pickled. Dried apples dull at 5c.; evaporated, 8 to 8½c.

SEEDS.—The fall trade in this line being over, there will be no movement in hay seeds till some hard weather comes. We have no quotations of clover and timothy to offer, therefore. The American markets have been excited, and red clover advanced, over there, $1.00 per bushel in September, falling back, however, 50 cents since. There is only an occasional car of flax seed moving at $2.50 to 2.60.

SALT.—Liverpool coarse is in fair supply, and apparently not yet affected by the salt combination in England; we still quote 75 to 80c.; Canadian steady at 90c. to $1.00 per barrel. There is a good supply of dairy on hand at unaltered prices.

Wool.—The market cannot be called active. There have been small sales of pulled super, at 22c., while dealers are willing to pay 21c. Extra is scarce, with more demand for it than for any other grade. Fleece moves but sluggishly at about our quotations.
