Turkey Hill Sugarbush has gained an international reputation for its specialty packaging of superior quality maple syrup and other maple products.

Maple syrup production is unique to the north eastern portion of North America, and is heavily centered in eastern Canada. Increasing world demand has transformed maple syrup from a local farm delicacy into an expensive luxury food.

Turkey Hill packs only maple syrup of top quality within its registered grade. For this, we pay a premium to farm producers. Recognizing that high costs could reduce general use, we have concentrated on sales-building packaging. As a result, our lines are being increasingly featured in the gift centres of specialty food and department stores, gift shops, and duty free outlets at Canadian airports. They are already being exported to Europe and the Far East.

Turkey Hill also specializes in developing custom artwork and packaging for the business incentives market.
