

countries maintain

people and leads
infinite impoverishment and of the

can be produced
in any country from all
produced at home,
buy from abroad,
own ways of process which will shut
out, the other is the home production.
of production is
subjected to any application through a restriction not only impoverishes every other person accustomed to enjoy the luxuries

is denied. But in the hands of Traders we lose it, but we lose the trade; we lose the markets for our own

say that this can be done to a precious extent,
and wages in this
country will be raised
to the goods at home to compete with foreign producers in the market. And then, supplying by allowing ten times as many goods to come into the country we are thereby losing a hundred dollars of our markets, which we have sold, where are they going?

of our commodities and foreign products.
of one pocket
and to accommodate our work-
men, greatly damaging the country, and thus ruining the
people, and thus
ruining the
country to wonderful

legislation for the benefit of other countries, and for that purpose for Canada is what is

no return