

- Federal System of Canada, i. 681
 Federal System of the English Universities, i. 678
 Federal Union of 1789, parallels to, i. 20
 Federation, faults attributed to, i. 334; their merits as illustrated by America, 342
 Financial bills in England, i. 171; mode of passing them in America, 173-176; results of the system, 177; reason for it, 177; estimates for 1887-88, 178; causes of the paying off of the national debt, 178; State finance, 490-504
Fletcher v. Peck, i. 252
 Florida, sale of, by Spain, i. 24
 Foreign relations, control of, i. 30, 49, 102-105; discontinuity of policy, 66; difficulty of control by popular assemblies, 217; division of powers in America, 220; faults due to the Federal system, 335; influence of public opinion, ii. 332; and of the American spirit of fraternity, 472
 France, sale of Louisiana by, i. 24; intellectual relations to America, ii. 638
 Franklin, Benjamin, i. 20, 191
 Fraternity, spirit of, in America, ii. 471
 Free trade and protection, i. 173, 657; ii. 17
 French Constitution and Government referred to, i. 69, 86, 194, 218, 240, 246, 362; ii. 220, 238
 French Constitution of 1791, referred to, i. 55, 238
 Fundamental orders of Connecticut, of 1638, the oldest political Constitution in America, i. 414
 Future, the intellectual, of America, ii. 632, 634
 Future, the, of American political institutions, ii. 683; of the Federal system, 691; of Congress, the executive, the judiciary, 695; of the Presidency, 696; of the party system, 697; of the spoils system and the machine, 697; the democracy and the approaching economic struggle for existence, 701
 Future, the social and economic, of America, ii. 703; great fortunes, 703; corporations, 705; changes in population, 706; the negroes, 707; question of the evolution of an American type of character, 709, 713; tendency towards city life, 711; the development of an aristocracy improbable, 712; future of literature and thought, 714; of other elements of civilization, 715
 GARFIELD, J. A. (President), i. 59
 General Court of Massachusetts, i. 515
 "General Ticket" system of voting, i. 40
 Georgia, State of, i. 231, 252, 262
 German Constitution, referred to, i. 217, ii. 219
 Germany and America, intellectual relation of, ii. 639
 German immigrants in America, ii. 6, 639
 Goodnow, F. J., on the Tweed Ring, ii. 335-353
 Government, forms of, in free countries, i. 271, ii. 226; their influence upon national character, ii. 326, 612
 Governors, State. See State Executive
 Granger movement, The, ii. 382, 509
 Grant, U. S. (President), i. 42, ii. 330
 Greece, ancient, constitutions of, referred to, i. 20, 33, 67, 214, 217, 253, 352, 548; ii. 188
 Greenbackers, The (party of), ii. 11, 177
 HAMILTON, Alexander, i. 21, 27, 36, 43, 59, 87, 231, 639, 640, 651, 665
 Harrington, author of Oceana, i. 34
 Hawaii, Constitution of, i. 680; relations of the island to the United States, ii. 402
 Hayes, R. B. (President), i. 44-46, 211; ii. 105
 Hereditary titles, i. 699; ii. 608
 History, its services to politics, ii. 474
 Homicide condoned in some States, ii. 439, 498
 Honourable, title of, i. 126
 Houghton, A. B., on governmental interference in Great Britain and the United States, ii. 413
 House of Commons, referred to, i. 126, 133, 134, 143, 162 sqq., 171, 191, 199, 278 sqq.; ii. 230. See Parliament
 House of Lords, referred to, i. 93, 94, 118, 194, 266, 279, 282. See Parliament