

YORK COUNTY AND SUBURBS

WORK COUNTY COUNCIL WINDS UP ITS CAREER

"Good Roads" Question Advanced So That Next Council Need Only Give Finishing Touch.

Saturday's meeting of the York County Council was probably the most important of the session, in that the matter of "good roads" was advanced to such a stage that the incoming council for 1907 will be enabled at the first meeting to give the third and last reading, enabling the whole question to be submitted to a vote between the January and June sessions. The scheme, as outlined by Councillor Fugelski, who has zealously pushed the matter along, is a comprehensive one, and provides for the expenditure of some $150,000. This money will be raised by debentures and will be expended as far as possible on the basis of assessed value on the district through which the proposed improved roads will run. The highways served in the event of the passing of the bylaw will be: Road No. 1—Young-street, from northern city limit to southern limit of North Toronto, North of the latter to the junction, then along the Bradford road twenty-six miles to Holland Landing, Road No. 2—The Kingston road, from the latter to Highland Creek bridge, Road No. 3—The Kennedy road on the Kingston road, eighteen miles, Road No. 4—The Lake Shore road, in the Township of Etobicoke, five and one-quarter miles, Road No. 5—Dundas street, west of the Junction, four and one-half miles, and the Weston road in the Township of Etobicoke, five miles, Road No. 6—The Vaughan plank road from city limits, Road No. 7—The Weston and Vaughan roads in the Township of Etobicoke, the north of the latter, twenty-seven and one-quarter miles, Road No. 8—Commencing at Yonge street to Etobicoke, eight and three-quarter miles, Road No. 9—East of Aurora, fourteen and one-quarter miles, Road No. 10—The Keeleby road, from Aurora, seven and one-quarter miles, Road No. 11—From Yonge street to King Station, Road No. 12—The Queen street road to Mount Albert, thirteen and three-quarter miles.

Owing to the change of hands of the local drug store D. Mackenzie is re-located to Guelph, where he has accepted a position in a drug store.

Now that the York county council has decided to spend $150,000 on the roads, the county council will have to provide for a presumably to be raised by debentures, to put North Toronto's share in good condition, and to make use of the benefit the new act stipulates. Not only should Yonge-street, North Toronto's leading thoroughfare, from north to south, be put in good condition, but one or two side streets should be improved, doing immense benefit to the town. Eglinton-avenue, east and west, should be improved.

The ratemakers are beginning to express dissatisfaction as regards the electric lights and wonder if they will get a discounting in their taxes for every night the street lights are out. The members of the Davisville Young Men's Club have themselves just Saturday afternoon in building a skating rink. The building is pretty nearly finished.

Monday school anniversary services were held at the Davisville Methodist Church yesterday, and were largely attended. To-night the anniversary entertainment will be held at the church. A sacred song concert will be held at the Trinity Methodist Church, Toronto, will take part.

The death of Wilfrid Kensington, infant son of Councillor and Mrs. J. Lawrence, on Kensington-avenue, occurred Saturday night.

Miss Fextor has disposed of her house and lot for $450 to Mr. Mills of Toronto. The pupils of the public school are arranging for a concert to be held in the school hall on Saturday.

Two cases of local interest took up the whole time of Judge Morgan in the division court yesterday on Saturday—G. W. Brown v. Mrs. W. J. Lellis, and Hy Cousins v. Dr. E. F. Irwin. In February last the Liberals of West York held a banquet at Weston, Mrs. Lellis, the proprietress of the Bagie House, contracted with G. W. Brown, caterer, Toronto, to provide the supper, the menu for which was to include turkey, ham and roast beef. Mr. Brown, apparently, however, had no idea of a West York Liberal's appetite. What he supplied must have done all right for a "pink tea" or possibly would have done for a Liberal banquet before 1886. Since that time, however, they have been used to plenty, and strongly resented being seated before plates with nothing on them, and unable to obtain anything from the waiters who helped themselves to what was in sight, with the remark that two plates "just made a fair meal." One witness testified that he paid $50 for a meal and that the waiter who was in charge of the party was a "butter" who was strong enough to act as a waiter. The banquet committee did not consider Mr. Brown had lived up to his contract. Mr. Lellis asked him to meet on two occasions, but had failed. Brown entered suit against Mrs. Lellis for $54. The case was tried in Toronto and resulted in the favor of A. J. Anderson, Toronto Junction, for Mrs. Lellis, objected to the jurisdiction of the court and the case was removed to the county court for trial here Saturday. Judge Morgan, in summing up the case, thought the evidence went to show that the banquet provided was worth about $5 a head and gave judgment on that basis, $33 in all, instead of $54, as claimed.

Cousins v. Irwin. The defendant ordered a carriage from H. Cousins, but when the rig arrived the defendant did not take it. The case was removed to the county court for trial here Saturday. Judge Morgan, in summing up the case, thought the evidence went to show that the carriage was worth about $5 a head and gave judgment on that basis, $33 in all, instead of $54, as claimed.

GERMANS HAVE A CLUB.

"Housewarming" on Saturday Night Brought Excellent Entertainment. The Deutscher Verein of Toronto Germans, and of other German speaking Torontonians, which came into existence in January last, at the occasion of a banquet, in honor of the Kaiser's birthday, has since made remarkable progress in every way and respect. It has grown in membership, and it has already acquired a very beautiful and commodious home, by purchasing the property, situated at the southwest corner of Wood and Church sts. The club rooms have been elegantly furnished, some members contributing generously and lavishly, for that purpose. The majority of the members have a high standing in professional and social life, comprising prominent business men, teachers, university professors, artists and politicians of high rank. Of the latter Hon. Adam Beck is one, for instance. However, the Deutscher Verein has no political ambitions whatsoever, its character being of a purely social and literary nature. To become a member of the club the applicant must speak German, that is unalterably the "condition sine qua non," as the Romans used to say. Nationality—whether German born, or not—is no obstacle in the way to enter the society.

On Saturday evening the club held a so-called "Herren Kommerz" at its home. The musical part, including excellently rendered piano recitals by Professor Hans Wiegand and Fritz Lejeb. The society's own quartet consisting of Messrs. Waldemar Kahner, A. F. Schwaiger, Wm. Groeger and H. Wiegand, sang a number of "Volkslieder" amongst them "Henna Tosen" and "Spinne." Wm. Groeger's "Comic Couplets" were received with well deserved applause. However, the most brilliant parts of the program were those rendered by John Laziz and Frank Blatchford, two eminent artists. The second part of the program was "general merrymaking," which was admirably executed to the letter, and—hour.

Wychwood. The concert on Friday night under the auspices of the Wychwood Park band was a great success and realized $200.
