

Danderine is "Beauty-Tonic"

Immediately after a "Danderine" massage, your hair takes on new life, lustre and wondrous beauty, appearing twice as heavy and plentiful, because each hair seems to fluff and thicken. Don't let your hair stay lifeless, colorless, plain or scraggly. You, too, want lots of long, strong hair, glistening with beauty. A 3-cent bottle of delightful "Danderine" freshens your scalp, checks dandruff and falling hair. This stimulating "beauty-tonic" gives to thin, dull, fading hair that youthful brightness and abundant thickness—All Drug Counters!

ANCHOR PLUG TOBACCO

15¢ a Plug
2 for 25¢

THE freshness, and flavor, of ANCHOR PLUG is not equalled, nor approached by any other chewing tobacco. That is why ANCHOR PLUG is supreme.

It Holds its Flavor

MAXWELL

Good News of Two Good Cars

Exerting to the utmost its enormous resources, the new and powerful manufacturing organization which produces Maxwell and Chalmers announces a striking and significant reduction in price, as follows:

Maxwell

Touring Car	(Formerly $1495)	Now $1335
Roadster	(Formerly 1495)	Now 1335
Coupe	(Formerly 2405)	Now 2205
Sedan	(Formerly 2550)	Now 2350
Truck Chassis with seat and cord tires	(Formerly 2087.50)	Now 1897.50

Chalmers

5 pass. Touring Car	(Formerly $2545)	Now $2395
Roadster	(Formerly 2545)	Now 2395
Sport Car	(Formerly 2900)	Now 2840
4 pass. Coupe	(Formerly 3005)	Now 3045
Sedan	(Formerly 3300)	Now 3240
7 pass. Touring Car	(Formerly 2795)	Now 2645

All prices f.o.b. Windsor

In our opinion these are the two most notable values which changing economic conditions have produced or possibly can produce.
MAXWELL MOTOR CO. OF CANADA, LIMITED, WINDSOR, ONT.
CHALMERS MOTOR CO. OF CANADA, LIMITED, WINDSOR, ONT.

A. H. BURROWS
London, Ontario

CHALMERS

ANDREW ROBSON ELECTED LIBERAL LEADER OF CITY

Popular President Begins Fourth Term in Office—Unanimity Prevails At Meeting—John M. McEvoy Urges Propagating of Liberal Doctrines and Principles.

Andrew Robson was re-elected by acclamation president of the London Liberal Club for the fourth term of his presidency at an enthusiastic meeting of the club held in Hyman Hall Friday night. Although the meeting was a very large one, it was marked by unanimity and solidarity, any and every interest was displayed by all the members present. With the exception of the presidency and the treasurer's office, which position Charles C. Ferguson was also re-elected by acclamation for what will be his fifth term, there were plenty of nominations of both new and old members, and the elections to be held Friday and Saturday, November 12 and 13, ought to be characterized by a lively interest.

John M. McEvoy was the speaker of the evening, and short addresses, thoughtful and pointed, were given by President Robson, A. J. Blake, George Hair, W. H. Edgecombe and J. M. McEvoy.

The nominations for the offices, which will be contested, were as follows: First vice-president—George Hair, A. J. Blake, W. H. Edgecombe, J. M. McEvoy, S. Brown. Secretary—Joseph Vivian, F. D. McLaughlin and C. McLean. Executive (12 to be elected)—C. McLean, J. Moffatt, H. Shill, A. Macfie, Dr. C. A. Harris, R. S. Laishbrook, J. Vivian, J. Russell, W. Snelgrove, Dr. McIntosh, W. Lawrence, S. Seymour, George Hair, J. Weber, W. H. Boyd, A. Tyler, C. Keene, C. Aldridge, D. Palmer, J. McNaughton, J. McMaster, D. Graham, F. Hooper, J. McMurphy, J. S. Brown, G. Perry, A. Blake, J. Murray, J. Gleason, F. McLaughlin, C. Loughlin, A. Warner, P. Mitchell and W. Banghart.

Nominees have until Monday evening to withdraw. The names of all members nominated will go on the ballot papers unless they withdraw before this date.

Propagate Doctrines. Mr. McEvoy, beginning his address, expressed the fear that many Liberals today were failing to realize the responsibility resting upon them. They appeared to be holding back too much. Perhaps they had got away a little from the essence or spirit of Liberal doctrines. There existed a real necessity for Liberal doctrines to be thought out again and restated. He thought the London Liberal Club should to the fullest possible degree exercise the function of propagating these doctrines.

Notwithstanding the coalition of the Conservatives and Liberal Unionists under the new names of the National Liberal-Conservative party, the Borden and Meighen party was the same old Tory party out and out. This party claimed to have won the war. It was the old election cry. How many of the soldiers conscripted were actually sent to France? asked Mr. McEvoy. There was just as much Liberal blood shed in France, as blood of any other color, he said.

The Borden and Meighen Government was now a puppet government, he asserted. The Government had adopted about eighty per cent of the reciprocity policy and the British preference had been advocated by the Liberal party long before the Conservative Government announced it. "Do we want men in Ottawa of political morality, or do we want men who are more time servers?" asked the speaker. Could anyone imagine such men as Mackenzie, Mowat, Sir John Thompson, stooping to such time-serving and ignominious conduct as the members of the present Borden and Meighen Government?

In closing Mr. McEvoy appealed to the club members to rally wholeheartedly to the support of a party which had stood for progress, fairness and freedom in Canada throughout many decades. Enthusiastic applause followed his address.

"The Prince and the Pauper" as played before a capacity house at the Grand Theatre last night with William Faversham in the leading role, was one of the most delicious little theatrical events ever presented to a London audience. It is one of those plays which is forceful and impressive through its simplicity. "The Prince and the Pauper" might be expected to stage throughout as might be expected from a production personally directed by so eminent an actor as Mr. Faversham, it will be remembered by those who saw it as something refreshingly different from the general run of offerings.

As Mr. Faversham said in a brief curtain speech: "I have brought you a little bit of unsophisticated romance, which I hope you will like. It occurred to me that in these days of light beer and light wines, and of this 'ology' and that 'ology', that an offering such as 'The Prince and the Pauper' would be acceptable, and I hope you will like it."

That the audience not only liked it, but enjoyed the play and the splendid acting of Mr. Faversham and his supporting company, was shown by the rounds of applause which greeted their efforts throughout the evening. Half a dozen times the audience, by vociferous and repeated applause sought to bring Mr. Faversham out for a curtain speech, but it was not until the first scene in the last act that he appeared, and then only when it became apparent that those present would not be denied and were prepared to applaud for an hour necessary.

Notwithstanding the coalition of the Conservatives and Liberal Unionists under the new names of the National Liberal-Conservative party, the Borden and Meighen party was the same old Tory party out and out. This party claimed to have won the war. It was the old election cry. How many of the soldiers conscripted were actually sent to France? asked Mr. McEvoy. There was just as much Liberal blood shed in France, as blood of any other color, he said.

The Borden and Meighen Government was now a puppet government, he asserted. The Government had adopted about eighty per cent of the reciprocity policy and the British preference had been advocated by the Liberal party long before the Conservative Government announced it. "Do we want men in Ottawa of political morality, or do we want men who are more time servers?" asked the speaker. Could anyone imagine such men as Mackenzie, Mowat, Sir John Thompson, stooping to such time-serving and ignominious conduct as the members of the present Borden and Meighen Government?

In closing Mr. McEvoy appealed to the club members to rally wholeheartedly to the support of a party which had stood for progress, fairness and freedom in Canada throughout many decades. Enthusiastic applause followed his address.

DELIGHTFUL IS FAVERSHAM IN HIS NEW PLAY

"The Prince and the Pauper"
At the Grand a Real Treat.

"The Prince and the Pauper," as played before a capacity house at the Grand Theatre last night with William Faversham in the leading role, was one of the most delicious little theatrical events ever presented to a London audience. It is one of those plays which is forceful and impressive through its simplicity. "The Prince and the Pauper" might be expected to stage throughout as might be expected from a production personally directed by so eminent an actor as Mr. Faversham, it will be remembered by those who saw it as something refreshingly different from the general run of offerings.

As Mr. Faversham said in a brief curtain speech: "I have brought you a little bit of unsophisticated romance, which I hope you will like. It occurred to me that in these days of light beer and light wines, and of this 'ology' and that 'ology', that an offering such as 'The Prince and the Pauper' would be acceptable, and I hope you will like it."

That the audience not only liked it, but enjoyed the play and the splendid acting of Mr. Faversham and his supporting company, was shown by the rounds of applause which greeted their efforts throughout the evening. Half a dozen times the audience, by vociferous and repeated applause sought to bring Mr. Faversham out for a curtain speech, but it was not until the first scene in the last act that he appeared, and then only when it became apparent that those present would not be denied and were prepared to applaud for an hour necessary.

"The Prince and the Pauper," as played before a capacity house at the Grand Theatre last night with William Faversham in the leading role, was one of the most delicious little theatrical events ever presented to a London audience. It is one of those plays which is forceful and impressive through its simplicity. "The Prince and the Pauper" might be expected to stage throughout as might be expected from a production personally directed by so eminent an actor as Mr. Faversham, it will be remembered by those who saw it as something refreshingly different from the general run of offerings.

As Mr. Faversham said in a brief curtain speech: "I have brought you a little bit of unsophisticated romance, which I hope you will like. It occurred to me that in these days of light beer and light wines, and of this 'ology' and that 'ology', that an offering such as 'The Prince and the Pauper' would be acceptable, and I hope you will like it."

That the audience not only liked it, but enjoyed the play and the splendid acting of Mr. Faversham and his supporting company, was shown by the rounds of applause which greeted their efforts throughout the evening. Half a dozen times the audience, by vociferous and repeated applause sought to bring Mr. Faversham out for a curtain speech, but it was not until the first scene in the last act that he appeared, and then only when it became apparent that those present would not be denied and were prepared to applaud for an hour necessary.

"The Prince and the Pauper," as played before a capacity house at the Grand Theatre last night with William Faversham in the leading role, was one of the most delicious little theatrical events ever presented to a London audience. It is one of those plays which is forceful and impressive through its simplicity. "The Prince and the Pauper" might be expected to stage throughout as might be expected from a production personally directed by so eminent an actor as Mr. Faversham, it will be remembered by those who saw it as something refreshingly different from the general run of offerings.

INGERSOLL TO HAVE SIGNALLERS Damage Suit Against Corporation Is Settled Out of Court.

INGERSOLL, Oct. 8.—Efforts are being put forth to raise a signalling company here. Lieut. Harry Stone, who served overseas for a long period, has been appointed to recruit a section of signallers, which will be under the direction of the non-permanent active militia, and known as No. 1 Company. Settled For $150.

A settlement has been reached between the council and C. B. Ryan, who instituted proceedings against the corporation to obtain $3,000 damages, which he claimed because of an accident last winter. He fell on the concrete walk near the new market building, and he contended that the ice which had formed there was due to defective methods in carrying the water from the roof. A settlement was reached by the council agreeing to pay Mr. Ryan $150.

Death of Donald Stalker. The death occurred in West 20th on Thursday of Donald Stalker, one of the oldest residents of the township. He was 96 years of age, and had resided in the district for many years. He was a native of Scotland, and died at the home of W. P. Gunn.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson, 189 Wellington street, have returned from visiting friends in Forest.

PLACED MUCH SPAWN. TORONTO, Oct. 8.—"We will take about 2,000,000 pounds of fish out of Lake Nipigon, which will be equal to about 1,000,000 fish, and we will replace 9,000,000 in the lake," declared Hon. F. C. Biggs today. He also stated that there was more spawn placed in the province this year than in any three years previously.

Make good stoves and Cooking utensils.

VICTROLAS HEINTZMAN & CO., Ltd. 242 DUNDAS STREET QUALITY SERVICE

HERE are four of the very latest dance numbers and two of the newest and most popular vocal successes just released on three special.

"His Master's Voice" Records

- | | |
|---|--------------------------|
| The Japanese Sandman | Fox Trot |
| Silver Water | Fox Trot |
| Both Played by Raderman's Novelty Orchestra | |
| "His Master's Voice" Record 216203 | |
| Avalon | Fox Trot |
| Hiawatha's Melody of Love | Waltz |
| (Intro. "Tired of Me") | |
| Both Played by Raderman's Novelty Orchestra | |
| "His Master's Voice" Record 216204 | |
| I'm In Heaven When I'm In | My Mother's Arms |
| I'll Be With You in Apple Blossom Time | Both Sung by Lewis James |
| "His Master's Voice" Record 216205 | |

All on 10-inch, double-sided—Price still remains at $1.00—WE PAY THE TAX.
Now on Sale at any
"His Master's Voice" dealers

Manufactured by BERLINER GRAM-O-PHONE CO., LIMITED, MONTREAL.
20154

MASON & RISCH, LIMITED

The Home of the Victrola
248 Dundas Street :: :: London

Headquarters Victrolas and Victor Records

IN EAST LONDON
SMITH FURNITURE CO., LTD. 725 Dundas St. Phone 896
OPEN EVENINGS

HARMONY HALL

421 RICHMOND ST. FOR JUST NORTH OF DUNDAS
VICTOR RECORDS

THE NEW RECORDS LISTED ABOVE ARE WAITING TO BE PLAYED FOR YOU AT "THE PHONOGRAPH SHOP."

STARR COMPANY OF CANADA, LIMITED

265 Dundas Street. Phone 2364. Just West of Wellington.

THE LATEST AND BEST RECORDS AT

YOUNG'S, Jewelers

DUNDAS AND ELIZABETH STS., LONDON EAST