An official monthly meeting of the morning charged with the offence, ivisional superintendents and the divisional superintendents and the trainmasters of the G. T. R. is being held today in Toronto.

Molson McPherson of Scotland, a director of the G. T. R., accompanied dire for of the G. T. R., accompanied by his wife, passed through this city at noon today on No. 17, en route from Moatreal to Chicago. He traveled in the G. T. R. private car Bonaventure. No. 17 carried also two other special cars. President E. C. Smith of the Central Vermont Railroad passed through this city in his official car, Grande Isle. Fifty-four American soldiers en route to the Southern States rode in a special car.

NEWSIES, BEWARE!

To protect the premises of the G.
T. R. a special night constable will in all probability be added to the night staff at the local G. T. R. station. Newsboys from the streets, using the station platform as hunting grounds for customers, are reported to be creating considerable nuisance in the evenings, and the early mornings. On Saturday and Sunday nights the boys are especially troublesome.

C. E. Dobson, chief of the special constables' staff of the local division of the G. T. R., reported that strenuous methods will be adopted to discourage the boys from hanging around the platforms. They have no right to sell papers there, he said, and so every case reported will be prosecuted. A juvenile appeared in the local court this

THE SECOND CHAPTER.

This is the second chapter of the story appearing in Tuesday's Advertiser of a man, his wife and child who spent ten hours on the G. T. R. traveling less than 50 miles. According to the previous item, the family went astray through the error of a local railroad official, who directed them to the Stratford train as a means of reaching Camlachie. The family discovered the supposed mistake before St. Marys was reached, so they waited in that town until evening before a train bound for London hove in sight.

The local officials of the road claim that this is the true story of the incident. No mistake was made when the dent. No mistake was made when the official directed the party to the Stratford train. To reach Camlachie, one is supposed to travel to St. Marys Junction, and there to change from the Stratford train to one which travels over the man line.

"I know what it is monkeying with policemen. You always get the wrong end of it," said Ernest Lampman in police court this morning when he was defending himself after he had been charged with assaulting a police officer in the discharge of his duty. Lampman explained that this was why he would not cause Constable William Burgess physical injury. The case against him and a similar one against his brother, John Lampman, were dismissed, but John Lampman, were dismissed, but Ernest was fined $10 for being disor-derly, and John a similar amount for being drunk.

A bottle of whiskey was alleged to be the centre around which the story de veloped. veloped.
