CAPACITY BUSINESS AT NICKEL.

The Nickel was packed to utmost capacity last evening and in the afternoon the crowds were unusually large. Now that house-cleaning and moving activities are gradually passing the people are again thinking of the good old standby house of entertainment. The picture show they saw yesterday was excellent. In the first place there were two of those popular Biograph films, touching upon widely different subjects. One was a Romance of the Western Hills, an Indian-American love affair, and the other "The Duke's Way," a pretty love story of the 17th century. The Edison Company furnished two delightful numbers in "The Heart of a Rose" and "Pays to Advertise." Mile. Tessier was engaged to reprise her part yesterday evening in "The Moon Song" from the opera "The Gingerbread Man" and Mr. Bragg had a good illustrated ballad, "Tomorrow," the special Biograph feature will be the Cupid comedy, "The Kid, New bill throughout.

THE GEM.

Another excellent program was shown at the Gem last night, the leading film being an Imp feature, "Infusion." This subject tells a pretty love tale, which has modern scenes as a back ground. The drama is one of simplicity, and therefore good. A highly colored Arabian drama, "The Pillagers," shows the quaint and picturesque costumes of the Arab, as well as many beautiful scenes in the country. "The Pillagers" are a band of robbers, who in their lawlessness make too bold, and fall into the hands of the soldiers. The film is beautifully colored and the story is interesting. "Johny's Pictures of the North Pole" was an immense hit. He draws pictures of his ideas concerning the future of the North Pole. In this latest stage in motion pictures, namely, pictures in "black and white," are used. Miss Culbertson was forced to respond to several queries during the evening, with her song "Money Won't Make Everybody Happy."

An excellent musical program was also rendered and was highly appreciated by the large audience. Tonight the same program will be seen.

ROOSEVELT PICTURES DRAW RECORD HOUSES AT THE ENJOY.

The Union was crowded to the doors all day yesterday with most enthusiastic gathering, drawn in such numbers to see the famous Roosevelt pictures, which were advertised as the most expensive pictures ever shown in the city. Those who saw the various scenes imbedded on the canvas and stopped to realize all that was necessary before the apparent simple operation of snapping the camera was accomplished could well realize the difficulty, danger and expense necessitated to make possible the simultaneous exhibition of the various scenes and movements of the Roosevelt tour all over the civilized world. The interest of the picture was enhanced in a hundred fold by the lecture of Steve Hurdley, whose excellent enunciation and detailed description never marred and was able and unique scenes. The Roosevelt pictures were shown with the balance of the motion picture program will be shown tonight for the last time. "Fighting the Troops in Canada" is the feature subject for the weekend.

LIKE TO SEE THEM RACE HERE

How About Getting the Runners in St. John Now That Corkery is Near?—News of Ring, Turf, Bowling and Other Sports

The return of Cameron to Amberst and the race tomorrow night with Cameron, Corkery, and Hosman of this city participating, has awakened the followers of the running game here and already some questions are being asked as to why Ernie Stirling could not be given another chance to meet his old rival from Amberst, who carried off the Boston Marathon honors. Then as Corkery has already expressed a desire to get on a race here with Stirling, or some other, the question arises why not bring the two together, or better still, at Cameron comes here also and thus give the local champion a chance to meet both these boys. A three cornered race would seem to be a reasonable proposition and, win or lose, it is a safe assertion that Stirling can make the best of them run. Outside of all this, people here would undoubtedly like to see Stirling and the snappy little Hosman run in the company of Cameron and Corkery, for purposes of comparison. "Why not start matters going? Now is the time."

KIRK BROWN IN COLLEGE PLAY GETS A HEARTY WELCOME

Brown of Harvard Enjoyed by a Crowded House—Opening Bill Gives Promise of a Very Pleasant Stay in St. John

Kirk Brown and his company must have been delighted with the reception which they received last night in the Opera House when they presented, for the first time in this city, the comedy drama of college life, "Brown of Harvard," to an audience which occupied every available seat in the theatre, and who seemed to appreciate thoroughly the production of the piece in every detail. The reputation for scenic effects and play dressing established on former visits by Mr. Brown was certainly sustained last night, the environments of life at college being well portrayed, in settings representing the Harvard boat house, the campus, and the room of Tom Brown, and his classmate, Madden. Careful attention was devoted to the most minute detail of the scenery, and the applause which rewarded the efforts of the company, was well merited. The stage settings reflect much credit upon Mr. Brown.

NO TIME FOR COURTESY

Never in the history of the world, has there been such an age of rush, and it is "the pace" that kills manners, even more than men. To say nothing of railways, time and space have been well-nigh annihilated by the telegraph, the telephone, wireless messages, and so forth. Land that were far away are brought very near today, and he nearer still tomorrow. The next generation will possibly smile at our confusion so long the horrors of seasickness in crossing the Channel, when in half an hour we might go over by airship or over by tunnel.

But the pace cannot be very much greater than it is today, and it is more than anything else that is telling on our social life, and especially on our manners. There is no time for courtesy. Little for civility. Rev. Theo. Stevens, D.D., Bishop of Barking.

Danny Maher, the American jockey, has received a retaining fee of $25,000 for riding one race. He will have the mount on Lord Rosebery's colt, Nell Gow, in the English Derby. No jockey ever received such a sum as retaining fee for one race, but money is no object when the Epsom class is at stake. The prime reason Maher received such a stupendous offer is that he can do more than any other rider with Nell Gow. Last year, as a two-year-old, Nell Gow belted out of the gate on more than one occasion, but when Maher began riding him he became a consistent winner and landed several big purses.

Wm. Woodbury, a well known jockey, is in a hospital in Baltimore in a critical condition with a bullet wound in his abdomen. Gus Gardner, 28, of Philadelphia, a pugilist, is held for a further hearing on the charge of carrying concealed weapons. A pistol was found in Gardner's pocket, but the latter denies that he did the shooting, and the victim himself said it was an accident, and that Gardner was in no way responsible for it.

Many Baseballists on Every Day Club Grounds—Commercial League Schedule Arranged—Moncton Gets a League—News of the Big Ones

There was a large crowd of ball players on the Every Day Club grounds last night when no less than five teams had representatives at practice. It looked like old times to see such an enthusiastic crowd of followers of baseball turning out at a work out. Members of the St. John's Manager "E" team, McBrine's Clippers, two Commercial league teams and the Y. M. C. A. working boys turned out, and the way they went at it delighted the crowd who stood about the pipes. The old hands among the "majors" showed that they can quickly round into shape and even at last night's work showed good form.

The two big teams will, it is believed, get started at their schedule inside of two weeks. Among the other nines, are some likely players who should give a good account of themselves before the close of this season as from last night's practice there is every indication that there is no dearth of good ones.

In Moncton

Last night a three team senior league was organized by the Y. M. C. A., Y. M. C. C. and Oves. The Moncton Intermediate leagues started last night. The High school winning from the Buis-sas College 11 to 10.
