CHARLIE CHAPLIN IN "SHIMMY" MOTOR CAR

"A Day's Pleasure" Aboard a Flivver at the Imperial Tonight—Double Bill

"Thirty Minutes in Laughland" could well be the title of Charlie Chaplin's latest million-dollar picture entitled "A Day's Pleasure," which will be seen at the Imperial Theatre tonight and for the remainder of the week.

All of the humor of Chaplin's previous successes has been combined in this production, the theme of which is a strong avowal of the fact that often what is intended to be a day's pleasure turns out to be a day of intense labor.

Charlie's troubles begin when he attempts to crank the family touring car, a remnant of the Dark Ages, and which conveys him to the office. However, the world's greatest comedian shifts his machine about with all the dignity of the village bank president.

The day takes a turn for the comic, the minute Chaplin's machine appears at a busy street corner. The car immediately becomes temperamental and even the wiles of the world's famous comedian fail to make it obey the instructions of the traffic cop—much to the amusement of the audience.

The Imperial will also conclude the mid-week showing of the excellent "Beach Feature," "The Girl From Outside," filling a programme of extraordinary value. Shows at 2, 4, 6, 8 and 10. Same prices, 10c and 25c.

"AUCTION OF SOULS" AT THE UNIQUE

All Next Week—Censors Insist Upon Certain Restrictions—Ten Dollars Admission Charged in New York.

All news readers are familiar with the terrible atrocities in Turkey during the recent war, when the women were subjected by the Turks to cruelties and insults rarely, if ever, equalled. For pagoda purposes the experiences of Aurora Marjaganyan, a beautiful Armenian girl, were photographed in the picture, "Auction of Souls," has proved a sensation almost without precedent in the largest American and Canadian cities. In New York and Los Angeles $10 per seat was charged, and in several of the largest theatres were kept in operation day and night during the engagement of "Auction of Souls." The New Brunswick and Nova Scotia censors are only permitting "Auction of Souls" to be shown with certain restrictions. None under eighteen years of age will be admitted, even if accompanied by parents, and the picture can be shown not six days, but in one feature only. The Unique management will not sensationalize "Auction of Souls" and propose to tell the public the exact nature of the subject, so that there can be no misunderstandings or disappointments.

NOVA SCOTIA FOR BETTER ROADS

(Halifax Herald.)

Good highways are a necessity in any country. The day has long passed when a country could afford to have poor highways. Under the system which obtained before the creation of the provincial highways board good highways were difficult to attain but since the creation of the board and the inauguration of authority, the province has been able to obtain the necessary money to provide.

THE GLORIOUS DEEDS OF THE MOUNTED POLICE

The Origin of the Force and Its Fine Record

THE OLD DAYS IN THE VAST PRAIRIES

Individual Achievements Which Had Much to Do in Keeping the Indians Quiet

—Some of the Reports Marvels of Conciseness and Humor—The Future.

An Ottawa special despatch to the New York Times has the following about the Royal Northwest Mounted Police:

Ottawa, Jan. 31.—That famous corps, the Royal Northwest Mounted Police, has ceased to exist. It is now merged with the Canadian Mounted Police.

For half a century "The Scarlet and Gold" of the riders of the plains has been the symbol of law and order in a territory as vast as the United States west of the Mississippi. From Hudson Bay to the Rockies, from the International Boundary to and beyond the Arctic circle they carried security to the law-abiding and terror to the law-breaking.

On the vast prairies, in mountains and plains, and the outlaw who sought refuge in the Arctic coast they made "the long patrol," protecting the settler, succoring the weak and administering justice with a relentless hand to white and red, to British and alien.

The march of civilization has brought into this vast territory prosperous settlers, where the Royal Northwest Mounted Police found the Indian of the sun dance and scalp knife, the excitable Metis (the French half-breed of the plains), and the outlaw who sought this "No Man's Land" to escape justice and continue in crime. The Indian and Metis are now peaceful farmers, the ranch has been replaced by the farm, and the outlaw has lost his identity as the Indian trails of the seven.

Only in the far north is any of the original work of the corps left. Here in the Great Barren, along the desolate shores of Hudson Bay and the Arctic Ocean, through the Rockies to Dawson with "The Scarlet and Gold" of the long patrol. The famous corps has done its work and has lost its identity in the new national force. The uniform has been preserved; the romance and esprit de corps have gone.
