York with on a matter of private business.

Yesterday afternoon several witnesses admitted paying the former Government agent five per cent. on the amount of their accounts with the Department, and Mr. H. C. Schmidt, inspector of Government steamboats, admitted receiving money to the amount of $1,000 from the firm of F. X. Drolet, foundrymen and machinists.

Judging from rumors, the worst features of the immoral transactions have not yet been fully elucidated.

The first witness examined when the court convened yesterday morning was Mr. James Holliday of Holliday Bros., steamship owners, who have had their steamer Aranmore under hire with the Marine and Fisheries Department for the last three years. He was not detained long in the witness box. He deposed that he had done business with the Department amounting to $45,000 in three years. Mr. Watson expects to elicit startling information from this witness later when he produces his books and papers. and papers.

UNDER ARREST - APPREHEND-ED AT LONDON MONDAY.

London. Nov. 10.—There is some felicitation in the ranks of the county constabulary to-day for they have, after three months of futile search for that particular brand of offender, captured what they are led to believe is a real live horse thief in the person of a man who gave his name as Maurice Shaw.

Maurice Shaw.

Shaw was arrested by Constable Northgreaves yesterday afternoon as he was driving down Talbot street. He is charged with having stolen a heavy draught horse from the barn of William Colwell, McGillivray Township, on the night of November 3. Shaw was apprehended on information telephoned in early yesterday afternoon by William Anderson, to whom he sold the horse last Wednesday for $100, as he was on his way in to London to get the money.

Anderson claimed to have boinght it from a stranger and said he had paid him one dollar down on a hundred dollar purchase price. The man with the horse, who turns out to be Shaw, said that he would be back to the money.

On Sunday Shaw hired a rig from an Exeter livery and arrived at the home of Anderson yesterday morning for his money. Anderson said that he would take but a short time to electrify completely the New York division, and that the work will be home of Anderson yesterday morning for his money. Anderson said that he would drive into London and pay shaw there. He drove on ahead, and, having a faster horse than Anderson, soon left him behind. Anderson then
