Mothers' Advice

The responsibility for a daughter's future largely rests with the mother. The right influence and the information which is of vital interest to the daughter imparted at the proper time has not only saved the life but insured the success of many a beautiful girl.
When a girl's thoughts become sluggish with headaches, dizziness, or a disposition to sleep, pains in back or lower limbs and a desire for solitude, her mother should come to her aid and remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, will at this time prepare the system for the coming change and start this trying period in a young girl's life without pain or irregularities. Thousands of women reading in every part of the United States bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtues of this medicine, and what it has done for their daughters.

Brooklyn, N. Y.—"I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound enough for what it has done for my daughter. She was 15 years of age, very sickly and pale and she had to stay home from school most of the time. She suffered agonies from backache and dizziness and was without appetite. For 3 months she was under the doctor's care and got no better, I always complaining about her back and side aches so I did not know what to do. I read in the papers about your wonderful medicine so I made up my mind to try it. She has taken five bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and her complaints are all over with her back and side aches. She has gained in weight and feels much better. I recommend Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to all mothers and daughters."—Mrs. M. F. Froom, 315 Mary Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Manly Strength Self-Help Book Free

It matters not who, any man, young or elderly, needing more vital strength, who is not quite the man he should be, who feels himself weakened as a result of past practices and excesses, can, beyond the shadow of a doubt, hope for self-restoration of his lost or weakened powers if he is willing to make a fair, square effort along certain perfectly natural lines (of which he can easily learn), and will lead that sort of a decent existence which Nature demands that all of us should lead, if we are to prove up to the normal standard of vigor and manly capacity, as we see it exemplified in the best men of the world today.

Just what I believe you yourself should do or should not do where more manly strength may be desired is told in a perfectly plain, commonsense, practical, every-day sort of way through the medium of a little 12-page illustrated book of advice that I publish and am now sending free, sealed, by mail, to men all over the world who write for it. This little compendium of self-help has, I hope, been of more lasting benefit to my fellow men than any similar publication of its kind before used. Over one million copies have been distributed since my first announcement that they would be sent free of charge. Therefore, reader, please do not suppose that low, which entitles you to this wonderful little free book, a copy of which will go to you in a perfectly plain, sealed envelope by return mail. Remember there is absolutely nothing offered for sale in the whole booklet, excepting in that part which speaks of my little invention, the Sanden Vitalizer, and you are not expected to get one of those appliances unless you make up your mind it is what you want.
The book is absolutely independent of all else, and is a free gift in every sense of the word. It carries with it no obligation on your part of any kind whatsoever. Please send your name and address.
SANDEN, Author.

Real, sturdy, vigorous manhood never counts for more than it does today. If you are strong, vital, manly, the whole world appreciates you; if you are a weakling—well, has a dark time, this age of ours, for the one who must stand aside to my mind a vigorous, strongnerved, manly man is one of the greatest inspirations in the world, because the very force of his character and manhood makes itself felt wherever he goes or wherever he may be. What he does he does well, and his reward is in proportion to the strength and sturdiness

REAL MANHOOD ALWAYS WINS of his manly energy and to the alertness of a brain which is fed by the vital energy of the man it belongs to.

It seems to me that any man, unless he is bowed down by extreme old age or by some consuming malady, may increase his physical and vital strength if he really WANTS to and is willing to make the right sort of a conscientious effort in the right direction and along right lines.

We manufacture a little mechanical appliance called the Sanden VITALIZER (referred to above), and all about which it will pay you to learn, because some day you may want to use one.

This little Vitalizer is not expected to do its work unaided, but is meant to act as a powerful assistant to Nature and to the man who will use it with a view to increasing his own vitality or vigor and is willing to do his part in regaining it.

You simply buckle the Vitalizer comfortably on your body at night when you retire to bed. It starts its work at once. It sends a stream of certain silent, penetrating power which we call Vital Force into the body, your kidneys, liver, stomach, bladder, nerves and blood while you sleep. Men everywhere have said it takes that nervous weakness or pain out of the small of the back in short order—sometimes from first night's use, and that often strength and manly vigor is restored in 60 to 90 days.

With special attachments, the Vitalizer is also used for rheumatism, kidney, liver, stomach, bladder disorders, etc. If, after reading the free book, you decide that you would like to wear the Vitalizer, we shall be pleased to make special arrangements for you to have one to use. If in or near this city, we should be glad to have you call, otherwise please write for book.
Hours 9 to 6. Satisfaction guaranteed in every case.

Latest Canadian Political Views

Items Concerning the Live Questions of the Day Under Consideration by the People.

NATIONHOOD AND RESPONSIB-ILITY.

(Toronto Times.)
There are indications that the Federal Opposition will oppose the ratification of the Peace Treaty on two grounds; that ratification by Great Britain is sufficient to bind Canada, and that Article 10 of the Covenant of Nations would entangle us in future wars.

The men who have cried "Autonomy, Autonomy!" for a generation, the men who have protested against Empire centralization are now clamoring for the new status of Canada as a completely autonomous State under the flag. They shiver at the responsibility of nationhood.

The war and the insistent policy of Sir Robert Borden have brought this Dominion into political equality with Great Britain. For the first time Canadian names are appended to a Treaty of Peace. The aspirations of the autonomists of other days are more than realized. Yet they are timid and long once more for the flesh-pots of colonialism.

The central idea of the League of Nations is that associated pressure on a recalcitrant nation will compel it to decent and honorable in its international relations. The politician who hesitates to endorse such a League must necessarily prefer the old system of go as you please, out of which came the greatest and most terrible war of all history.

There must be commitments in international relations. The United States will find it out. Canadian public men who imitate the piffling proposals of certain Republican Senators across the border are not worthy of public confidence.

NOT MERELY INVESTIGATORS.

(Ottawa Journal.)

"There is still some doubt as to the power of the Board of Commerce to go more than investigate," says the Toronto Star. That doubt does not exist in the minds of anybody who has studied the act under which the board derives its powers. True, criminal proceedings against profiteers must be taken by provincial officials, the Federal Government having no power to do so, but if the Board of Commerce prepares an indictment and the necessary action in the courts those provincial officials will comply or soon be deprived of their jobs by the people. Newspapers like the Toronto Star will see to this.

As was pointed out by The Journal the other day in an article summarizing the legislation passed at the last session of Parliament, the board may itself try any person accused of profiteering or it may send him to the criminal courts for trial or it may try him and pronounce prohibition against future continuance of the acts complained of and, as well, send him to the criminal courts for punishment for his past acts. If the offender repeats the offence the only issue triable before the criminal courts is whether he has or has not obeyed the order of the board. His guilt of the main offence stands proved. His only defence is compliance with the board's order. Non-compliance means a fine of $1,000 per day during his non-compliance or two years imprisonment.

TWO SUBJECTS FOR POLITICAL UNITS.

L'Evenement (Conservative, Quebec).—"We would congratulate the provincial government on the announcement of a new movement to further advance colonization in the province; and we shall the more warmly congratulate the cabinet if it conducts this movement to a successful issue. As we have said on previous occasions, we have every confidence in the zeal and energy of the new Minister of Colonization, the Hon. Joseph Edouard Poirer, from whom much is expected. This will not, however, prevent us from fulfilling the duty as one of the opposition to criticize his administration, especially that directed to the interests of colonization. If the occasion should call for criticism, the work of colonization is of such vital importance that it ought to be placed above party strife in order that we all might unite in the effort to attain the success desired. The question of education likewise ought to be above party politics."

LAWS WERE MADE TO PROTECT THE PEOPLE, NOT TO LICENSE THE VENDORS.

(Toronto Telegram.)

Is a $200 fine to be the punishment for companies that evade the provincial laws made to protect the public from what are known as "wildcat" mining and oil stocks?

Is the Attorney-General of Ontario prepared to accept the responsibility of practically giving free reins to "industries" of this kind?

A $200 fine is simply advertising Canada as a Mecca for companies defied the mails of the United States, and subject to a jail term if they persist in pushing their paper sales across the lines.

A $200 fine is not a deterrent to this class of "mine promoters." The fine hardly represents one day's office and advertising expenses.

The Ontario laws were made to protect the public, not to license the vendors of doubtful stocks.

The Attorney-General will be remains in his duty to the people if he fails to see that offenders against the laws are prosecuted to the limit, and that if convicted they are given penalties that will bring an abrupt ending to their questionable activities.

CANADA'S STATUS.

(Halifax Herald.)

Perhaps the most grotesque of the performances of the late opposition convention in Ottawa was the formal adoption of a resolution directed against an imaginary conspiracy to bring about a radical change in the relations of the Dominion to the Empire.

In the introduction and discussion of this precious resolution, dark hints were dropped that undeclared and not even indicated persons were plotting in London against the autonomy of Canada. The intended implication, of course, was that those persons were being aided and abetted by the Ottawa government.

The repulsive impudence of these insinuations scarcely needs to be pointed out to the intelligent public.
If there is any one Canadian, who has, at all times and in all circumstances, stood four square for the complete self-government and legislative independence of this Dominion, it is Sir Robert Borden. At every imperial conference which he has attended, and every Imperial Council board at which he has sat, Premier Borden has been uncompromisingly firm and outspoken against any tinkering with our constitution.

When Sir Wilfrid Laurier was in London in a representative capacity, he extended an invitation to the people of the United Kingdom to "call the Canadians to their councils and desired closer cooperation. What was that, in effect, but to intimate that Canadians were ready for closer political union with Great Britain. It was so understood, and it encouraged the Imperial Federatists to go on with their schemes for a parliamentary union of the Empire. It was a far come down from the position tal-kened by that grand old Canadian-Briton, Sir Charles Tupper, who, when he recognized whether the movement was tending, broke up, and gloried in having broken up, the old Imperial Federation League.

Sir Robert Borden, without pleading for any constitutional change, while expressly deprecating anything of the kind, and always insisting on the circumstances of Canada's perfectly satisfactory status, the Imperial has secured for her complete freedom of entry to the most intimate and sacred councils of the Empire without compromise on the part of any kind. He has won for this Dominion and incidentally for others, recognition and privileges undreamed of before his time. Furthermore, he has won for her, and for them, the fullest recognition of their rights as sister nations in the British Commonwealth, to sit and act in the Peace Conference as the equals and equals of the other participating soverign states.
