THE PRIZE WINNERS

The presentation of prizes followed, the announcement that Harvey Todd Reid, of Hartland, had been awarded the Rhodes scholarship being received with applause. In presenting it to the young man, Dr. Cutten said: "I have only my hand to give you, Mr. Reid, but I desire to express my high personal regard for you."

The prize winners are as follows: Hunt prize for oratory, E. M. A. Blakeley, class 1907.

Essay prize, Mildred Lee Welton.

Sir Frederick Borden prize, J. Lorimer Hall, class 1908.

Obed P. Goucher prize, C. A. S. Howe, class 1910, A. K. Magner.

A. M. Wilson prize applied science, Melvin R. Kinney, R. P. Donkin, Halifax.

E. L. Gates prize, Miss E. C. Crocker.

The Rhodes prize, H. Hall.

The class of 1908 prize, Margaret Palmer, Dorchester.

The Calhoun prize of $25 to the young man in college adjudged to have carried himself with the most gentlemanly deportment was presented, amid applause which was prolonged, to William Pitt Poller, of Canning.

The senior prize was won by W. S. Rider.

The prize offered by Miss Rogers, of Anahart, was won by Miss G. B. Shand.

Following the presentation of prizes, there were two brief addresses, one by Prof. Rowland of the Nova Scotia Technical College, and one by Attorney-General Daniels, who thirty years ago graduated at what he designated, the finest college in the maritime provinces. There was much talk of affiliation of the colleges, but he was confident that it would be a generation or two before Acadia's supporters would assent to her extinction.

Dr. Cutten reported two gifts. One of a valuable and ethnological museum in East Lawrence (N. B.), by D. C. Clarke, of West St. John, and the other of $500 by the class of 1912 for a scholarship fund.

After President Cutten's address those present were invited to step across the campus a few yards, where in the shadow of Bell Tower, was the foundation stone of the new Rhodes building waiting to be put in place. Thither friends, students, faculty, senate and governors found their way, and following prayer by Dr. Cutten, Dr. Outten expressed regret at the absence of Rev. Dr. David Allen Steele, of Amherst, who was to have given an address, but who was in the absence of his old and valuable friend, his chairman of the board of governors.

ACADEMIC COLLEGE CONVOCATION

ORANGE GRAND LODGE MEETS

Grand Master Scott, in Report, Deals With Many Hot Subjects

PRAISES TORY PARTY

Says They Have Deal With Manitoba School Question in Mastery Way, as There is No Outcry—No Temere Decree and Reciprocity's Defeat, Also, Alluded To.

Fredericton, May 29—The Grand Orange Lodge of British America opened here this afternoon with a large attendance of members from all parts of the dominion and Newfoundland. Grand Master Leuk-Cool Scott presided.

The afternoon session was taken up largely with the drafting of committees, which are in session tonight preparing for the work of tomorrow. The reports of the grand master and grand secretary were presented.

A feature of the proceedings was an address by Sir Mackenzie Bowell. Although eighty-nine years of age, Sir Mackenzie takes an active interest in the work of the Orange order and today met with an ovation.

Hon. Dr. Sprule, M. P., speaker of the house of commons and past grand master of the Grand Lodge of British America, was honored by being presented with a handsome chest of silver plate. Hon. Dr. Sprule made a suitable reply. The presentation was made on behalf of the grand lodge as a token of appreciation of the efficient manner in which the past grand master had filled the office.

The report of the grand secretary contained some interesting data with regard to the growth of the Orange order in Canada during the past year. The increase had been the largest on record, eighty-nine lodges having been organized on various parts of the dominion during the year.

Ontario is largely represented at the grand lodge, the delegation from Toronto being the largest. WHY SHOULD NOT OLD PEOPLE RETAIN THEIR YOUTHFUL VIGOR

No Reason Why Men and Women of Sixty, Seventy and Eighty Should Not Be Well—The Secret of Happy Old Age

Old age pays the cost of living. Few men and women of fifty, sixty and seventy are free of Kidney Trouble, Hard work, mental strain and general debility, tell in the long run. And many men and women who have Kidney Trouble by suffering with pain in the back, headaches, rheumatism, sciatica, bladder disease.

To such people "Fruit-a-tives" has proved one of the wonders of the age—and the most remarkable discovery of the century in modern medical science. This fruit medicine has performed hundreds of cures where the sufferer had been told that the case was incurable.

Take, for instance, Mr. Geo. W. Barkley, a prosperous farmer and one of the leading citizens of Dundas County, Ontario.

At seventy-six, he is the picture of health—with the vigorous actions and the sprightly step of a man of fifty.

Yet for twenty years, he suffered with Kidney Trouble. He took "Fruit-a-tives" and it cured him.

Chesterville, Ont., Jan. 26th, 1911.

"For over twenty years I have been troubled with Kidney Disease, and the doctors told me they could do no good, and said I would be a sufferer all the rest of my life. Nearly a year ago, I tried "Fruit-a-tives". I have given them all the time since and am glad to say that I am cured. I give "Fruit-a-tives" the credit of doing what the doctors said was impossible."

GEO. W. BARKLEY.

"Fruit-a-tives" is the only medicine in the world made of fruit, and is the only one that acts directly on the kidneys. It cures. 50c a box, 6 for $2.50 or trial size, 25c. At dealers or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

THE GARDEN OF GETHSEMANE

A Letter from Jerusalem, by Mrs. Julian Grande, in London Leader.

I have just been visiting for the first time the Garden of Gethsemane, the most famous of the world's gardens. Some people ask whether the Garden of Gethsemane is a real garden, or merely an enclosure planted chiefly with trees, and not a garden in the sense in which we use the word. But the Garden of Gethsemane is really a garden, albeit a somewhat small one. It is not nearly as large as most London squares, and it is smaller than the smallest London public garden, except possibly one or two of the tiny city patches of flowers and foliage. It could be added even to the Green Park or St. James' Park, and the difference in size would barely be noticeable. Yet it is the most famous garden in the world, and it is like no other garden which I have ever seen, and I have seen many, in very different countries.

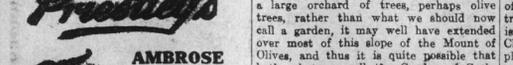

The Garden of Gethsemane lies with regard to Jerusalem somewhat as Tennyson's "garden that I love" lay with regard to the city of his imagination—thinly situated, yet not wholly of it. It is passed on the way to Bethany and Jericho, but so high are the walls (some 40 feet high, I should think), that nothing save the tops of the trees can be seen above them. On the slopes of the Mount of Olives, above the Garden of Gethsemane, are other high-walled enclosures, planted with trees and flowers. In one stands the great domed Russian church, built by Tsar Alexander III, and, as it seems to many people, strangely out of place on the Mount of Olives; another marks the site claimed by the Greeks to be the Garden of Gethsemane.

Anyone who reads or carefully St. John's description of the position of the Garden of Gethsemane—"Over the brook Cedron, where was a garden," will see that it exactly fits the garden which we believe to be that of Gethsemane, but as the garden mentioned by St. John was probably a large one, and was kept locked, in the trees, rather than what we should now call a garden, it may well have extended over most of this slope of the Mount of Olives, and thus be quite possible that both what we call the Garden of Gethsemane, as well as what the Greeks claim to be it, were included in the garden in Christ's time.

The most famous garden in the world now belongs to some Franciscan friars, and the long-robed, turbaned Syrian gardener who tends it, and who is seen in the photograph, keeps it in exquisite order. It is entered by gate, usually kept locked. Inside grow tall sombre cypresses, spreading oleanders, one or two graceful, light-floored pepper-trees, which to me have a touch of modernity out of keeping with a long hallowed spot; and eight ancient olive trees, one being that pointed out as the tree of Christ's agony. This is the tree shown in the photograph just in front of the two tall cypresses. Some of the walks are bordered with low, broad, crooked rosemary hedges, rosemary being the commonest shrub in Palestine garden-
