A Good and Paithful Wife.

There's not a greater blessing E'er found upon the earth, More worthy man possessing, Nor yet of greater worth; In poverty or splendour, Whate'er his form of life, There's nothing like a tender A good and faithful wife,—

A kind and gentle lover,
Who day by day doth prove
How well she watcheth over
His interest and his love;
Who southes him when in sickness,
And cheers the path of life, Yet ever showeth meekness— A good and faithful wife.

What man could e'er deceive her, Or blight her earthly lot, The heart that leveth ever, And loving, shangeth not,—
That kind and gentle pleader
Who calms his angry strife,
His friend and interceder—
A good and faithful wife?

There's not a greater blessing Can in the world be found. More worthy man's possessing, Were he to search it round Dame Fortune may bring pleasure, And give a zest to life : But she's his greatest treasure— A good and faithful wife.
