

Pamphlets, Magazines and Books, or directing that in any case or class of cases they be free of postage, either in the first instance or in the case of their being remailed, and what shall be the conditions to be complied with in order to enable them to pass without being subject to letter postage, as they shall be if such conditions be not complied with, and for authorizing the opening thereof by any Officer or person, for the purpose of ascertaining whether such conditions shall have been complied with ; for the preparing and distributing of Provincial stamps for prepayment,—for limiting the weight and dimensions of letters or packets to be sent by Post, and prohibiting and preventing the sending of explosive, dangerous, contraband or improper articles,—for making, authorizing, sanctioning or giving effect to any arrangements which may require to be made with the Government or with the Postal Authorities of the United Kingdom or of any British Possession, or of the United States or any Foreign Country, with regard to the collecting and accounting for Postage, the transmission of Mails, and other matters connected with Posts and Postal business, and the remuneration or indemnity to be paid or received under any such arrangement,—for providing, when he shall think it expedient, means for avoiding the risk of transmitting small sums of money through the Post, by establishing a system of money orders to be granted by one Post Master or officer of the Department on another, and fixing the terms on which such orders may be obtained,—for establishing a system for the Registering of letters and the charge be made for such registration,—for vesting in any Officer or Officers power to open letters or packets having no address upon them, or refused by the party to whom they are addressed, or where such party cannot be found after proper inquiry, or on which any Foreign or other Postage which ought to be prepaid shall not have been so, or which shall contain or be reasonably supposed to contain any article lawfully forbidden to be sent by Post, or which for any other cause cannot lawfully be transmitted by Post, or cannot within a reasonable time be delivered to the party to whom they are addressed or to any party legally entitled to receive them, and for prescribing the regulations under which such letters and packets shall be opened, the notice which shall be previously given, the proceedings which shall be adopted after such opening, the keeping or otherwise dealing with any money or other article found therein, and other matters thereunto appertaining, or relating,—for making a reasonable compensation to the Masters of Vessels and