Cloverleaf Garden Club elected 1971 executive at annual meeting

The recent annual general meeting of the Cloverleaf Garden Club was a fun-filled evening at the Hawthorne Valley Golf and Country Club for nearly 100 members and friends. Special guests John Bradshaw and Mr. and Mrs. Doug Kennedy, patrons of the Club, were on hand to add to the festivities. Formalities were dispensed with promptly and quickly, with Tom Crookston being elected as president, and Catherine McLean and Harold Collins as vice-presidents. New directors appointed for 1971/2 were Virginia Evelyn, Alexandra Hay, Wilfred Rogers and

Ann McRoberts; with Chris Mentis, Bert Fryer, Ted Evelyn and Marg Wood being voted in for 1971. Barbara Hill has one year to serve in her term of office as Chairman of the Show Committee. Auditors for 1971 are Charles Lewis and Bill Parsons, and officers are Dorothy Gore, and

Manley Maltby. Immediate Past-President John Nunan conducted the proceedings. In her capacity as social director, Barbara Hill organized a particularly enjoyable evening, with dancing to the sounds of the Sheridan Orchestra. Gary Mombourquette played his Spanish guitar during the buffet supper, following which John Bradshaw presented door-prizes. John, in turn, was given a maximum/minimum thermometer as an expression of appreciation by Club members. The blazing log fire added to the warm, friendly atmosphere of the evening, amiably and ably hosted by Glenn Grice.
