Dear Mr. Dingle:

This letter is to acknowledge and thank you for yours of 30th May.

To the suggestion you have made I have given very earnest consideration. There is very little one can do after the public has re-elected a Government on a Party basis in war time and given it a majority of about five to one. There is no way in the world in which the public can avoid the consequences of its own conduct.

Yours very truly,

M/E.

Arthur Meighen.
