HEADS HANG WITH SHAME

True Men of Our Province
Crushed With Disgrace, says
Rev. Mr. Smith.

A Powerful Discourse to the Workmen At Holy Trinity Church Last Night.

"The evils of lying — I used the blunt, plain word — are appalling. My friends, things seem to be coming to a fearful pass in our country. Men no longer seem to stand in awe of the truth — prevarication is far too common. And when we think of the terrible spectacle of lying under oath which this Province has recently witnessed in high places, it behooves every man, who has the cause of righteousness at heart, to bow his head low in shame."

Rev. T. Beverley Smith delivered a strong address to the members of the A. O. U. W. in Holy Trinity Church last evening, from the words of St. James I, 19, "Wherefore, my beloved brethren, let every man be swift to hear, slow to speak."

In welcoming the visiting order the rector assured them they had a good name and a good constitution. "Live up to them both," he declared. "Some years ago, when I was a student it was my privilege to address a lodge. I studied their constitution and, without being irreverent, it read like a chapter from the Sermon on the Mount. Yet, these men, who had adopted it as their standard, lived like a lot of corrupted Indians."

Continuing, the speaker briefly reviewed the constitution of the Workmen. He regretted that the same of Christ was not specially mentioned therein. He was the Master Workman of the world. The labor problems which were causing the old world so much seething unrest could only be truly settled at the foot of the Cross. The first law of political economy was to love your neighbor as yourself.

The constitution also provided that an effort be made to inspire the members with a due appreciation of the realities and responsibilities of life. "God help you to carry this out," said the speaker.

In providing for those left behind they were doing a goodly work, a work of love, a work of Christ. Alluding to the text, Rev. Mr. Smith said the sins of the tongue were much more serious than the sins of the hand. He was specially mentioned therein. He was the Master Workman of the world. The labor problems which were causing the old world so much seething unrest could only be truly settled at the foot of the Cross. The first law of political economy was to love your neighbor as yourself.

"Profanity is a useless sin, if I may use the expression," commented the reverend gentleman. "It only defiles the air and offends the human ear." Lying was, he feared, terribly on the increase. There was too little regard for absolute truth. The fearful experience of perjury before the Province must make every patriot hang his head with shame. "Let us all pray," concluded Mr. Smith, in the words of the grand old hymn — "Guard Thou the lips from sin."

The musical portion of the service, under the direction of W. Stanley Ball, was much enjoyed. It comprised two excellent anthems, splendid solos by Miss K. O'Hara and T. Stegman, and a quartette, unaccompanied.

AMES & CO'S SUSPENSION.

Transfer of Property Purchased for Metropolitan Bank.

Toronto, June 8. — It is expected that within a short period A. E. Ames & Co. will be in a position to make a more definite statement of their affairs to the public. An exchange of clients' accounts is being made, wherever possible, through other brokerage and banking firms, and progress is being made in reducing the accounts of the firm.

The transfer of the property at the southeast corner of King and Melinda streets, which was purchased by the Metropolitan Bank, was registered on Saturday from Ames & Co. to the Metropolitan Bank. The transfer is dated April 28, and is for $104,000, subject to mortgage of $115,000 and $14,000 held by the Bristol and West of England Company, and $25,000 held by the Toronto General Trusts Corporation. The assessed value of the property is $103,150.

ARE LOCKING HORNS.

Canadian Pacific and Grand Trunk
In Rivalry.

Toronto, June 8. — A fight appears to be on between the Grand Trunk and Canadian Pacific Railways because the latter company has put on an Atlantic steamship service. It is claimed by the Canadian Pacific that the Grand Trunk will issue through bills of lading on all steamship lines sailing from Montreal except the Canadian Pacific steamers.

28TH MILESTONE

Parish of Holy Trinity Church
Observed Anniversary — A Splendid Sermon.

Holy Trinity Church yesterday morning celebrated the 28th anniversary of the opening of the parish by a special service, at which many were present. The rector, Rev. T. Beverley Smith, delivered an earnest and edifying address and the choir, under the direction of Stanley Ball, rendered appropriate and pleasing music.

Mr. Smith's address was an impressive one. Going briefly back over the parish church annals, he pointed out their value and the many sacred associations with which they were surrounded. They contained the history of many a family and the names of many a stalwart Christian that had passed away. Six different clergymen had enjoyed the privilege of ministering to the church.

The speaker, proceeding, pointed out that financial aggrandizement was not the true measure of prosperity in the church. It was rather the Christian character produced in the men and women reared in it.

Three tests were sometimes submitted as to the prosperity of a church.

1.—The regular attendance. Mr. Smith confessed this was oftentimes a great disappointment to him, but he did not believe in scolding the people who were present for those who were absent. Yet, he felt absence often signified indifference — which was a sad thing. He asked the workers of the church to join their clergyman in the effort to interest the congregation in regular attendance.

2.—The offerings. The gifts of the people were the measure of their sacrifice. The speaker was glad indeed to congratulate the church on the manifest growth in liberality. The most year was the greatest in its history and he trusted there would be no weariness in well doing.

3.—Attendance at Holy Communion. These three tests were only outward standards. God read the hearts. Sometimes Mr. Smith feared there was a studied avoiding of the holy communion by the young men and women of the church.

He earnestly hoped that the congregation would make the anniversary occasion the dawn of a new era, not alone in church life, but in personal conduct. In these days of commercial and business rush there is less readiness to reflect and the reminder the anniversary afforded was needed. Mr. Smith closed with an eloquent appeal for greater consecration and higher standard of life.

BABY WAS BURIED ALIVE.

Found in a Stump on a Farm Near Etobicoke.

Toronto Junction, June 8. — A friendship attempt at child murder was frustrated by the Sunday stroll which Mr. Alex. Johnston took along a not much frequented route in York Township, near the Humber. As Mr. Johnston was passing by an old stump he heard a noise that seemed like the voice of a young kitten. Mr. Johnston made an examination of the stump, and there he found, partially covered up by bits of rotten wood, which had been knocked off the stump, a girl baby, almost naked, and almost dead from exposure. Mr. Johnston carried the little waif to the house of Mrs. George Barrett, on the Scarlett road, where it was cared for, and where it now lies while the county constabulary are trying to get some clue as to the perpetrators of the crime. The baby is apparently about two weeks old. When found a bit of cotton rag was wrapped around part of its body, and there were stockings on its feet. Bits of the rotten wood which formed the covering of its living tomb had got into its eyes and intensified its suffering. Near the stump were tracks which indicated that a buggy had recently been turned around. The road is one along which a great deal of shale and stone is hauled from the Humber Power Co.'s quarry to the Junction, but on Sunday it is a comparatively deserted locality, so that whoever left this baby evidently did not intend that it should be rescued, and it was by the greatest chance that Mr. Johnston, whose work on week days is hauling shale along this route, walked that way to-day. The child was sent to the Infants' Home, Toronto.

GOVERNESS A THIEF.

Stole Jewellery and Furs Valued at Fifty Thousand Dollars.

New York, June 8. — Minnie Williams, alias May Parker, the governess arrested here some time ago, charged with the theft in London of jewels and furs valued at $50,000, was surrendered to Sydney Rex, a London detective, who sailed for England with his prisoner. The young woman was formerly the governess in the family of Albert R. Rentlinger, a banker of Hempstead, London. She disappeared about three months ago, as did jewellery and furs valued at $50,000. Commissioner Shields surrendered the woman, the jewels and furs to the London detective.

Was It Signed in Time?

Chicago, June 8. — A despatch from Montgomery, Ala., says: "While endorsing a check to pay the premium on a life insurance policy for $200 which he had just taken out, J. S. Farrier dropped dead here in the Farley Bank."

FALL OF A WHALE.

DANGEROUS ACCIDENT AT LORNE PARK.

About Thirty Women and Children
Precipitated Into the Water — Toronto Sunday School Picnic.

Toronto, June 8. — Lorne Park was the scene of an accident on Saturday evening that might have resulted in the loss of many lives. At least one woman, a visitor in the city, was seriously hurt and several others were badly bruised. It was the annual picnic of Chalmers Church Sunday School, and 600 scholars and friends were in attendance. The accident occurred about 7 o'clock, when between one and two hundred people were waiting on the landward end of the wharf for the steamer Niagara to take them home. The steamer had just arrived from Oakville, but the gates of the wharf proper had not been opened, when one span of the structure gave way and precipitated those on it into three or four feet of water. Most of them were women and children, and, naturally, there was a good deal of excitement, and several of the women fainted, though, strange to say, only one person on the land was attracted by the disturbance, and hurried to the assistance of those in the water.

The most seriously injured by the collapse of the wharf is Mrs. Sarah Butters of 221 De Witte street, Elmhurst, N.Y., who with her husband, Louis, came to Toronto last Thursday to visit her son, Fred T., at 275 Gladstone avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Butters went to the excursion in company with their daughter-in-law and grandchildren. Mrs. Butters was pinned down after the crash, and was dragged out by her husband. She was unconscious and was taken to the hotel, where she revived under treatment. Mrs. Butters was brought to Toronto on the special train and removed to the home of her son in the police ambulance. Dr. J. H. McConnell, who is in attendance, says Mrs. Butters is suffering from a broken rib and a sprained ankle. Internal injuries are feared. Her condition is regarded by the doctor as critical. Another woman, Mrs. John Michael, is at her home, 7 Colahie street, suffering from injuries to her back. Mrs. John Marshall, 114 Harrison street, in some way got under the plank, and was also pinned down tight. In the fall her leg was badly bruised. Others who were badly bruised were Mrs. R. Schoales, 249 Ossington avenue, and Mrs. Sibley, 12 Brockton place.

When the steamer arrived there were said to be 600 on board, so that all who wished to could not return that trip, others were nervous on account of the accident, and consequently a special train was ordered from Toronto. A couple of hundred of the picnicers got back to the city at 3 a.m. by train and the rest returned by the steamer, which made another trip.

A fool has not stuff enough to make a good man.

BRAVE RESCUE

A little girl, by the name of Lane, about four years old, walking along the bank of the river at the foot of Scott Bros. & Co.'s lumber yard, slipped into the river, and as she was drowning, Louis LaFrancis bravely jumped in and rescued the child.
