A WELL MATCHED PAIR OF THAT POPULAR DRAFT BREED, THE CLYDESDALE
Horse breeding is a popular branch of farming, and can be made profitable. The general purpose horse, so common, and so rightly favored, is not the most profitable sort to raise. When in need of that kind, buy them. Raise a horse that is more profitable, one that is always in demand at good prices. Such a horse is the drafter. Of these possibly the Clydesdale is the best known and best suited to Canadian conditions. The team illustrated—"Abbey" and "Montrose" by "Royal McQueen"—captured 1st prize at the Cobourg Summer Horse Show, 1908, and is owned by Mr. David Taylor of Northumberland Co., Ont., who makes Clyde horses a large feature of his 160 acre farm.
