

ST. MICHAEL'S.

Hallowe'en passed off in its usual way. A grand war-dance was held around the Sacred Fire, with "Heap Big Injun" Tanner poured forth all kinds of eloquence.

In the large study hall a private entertainment was given by the students. The affair was a success, owing principally to the efforts of Rev. Fathers Murray, Plomer and Howard.

Well! well! well! What a fine appearance Capt. O'Leary's picked team made as they pushed out to "do" the combine in Association football last Thursday morning.

"O'Leary's Pets" (6)—Goal, McAuley; halves, Burke, Shannahan, Quinn; backs, Lynch, Carey; forwards, Boland (Cryne), Foster, Sheehan, O'Leary, Mulligan.

We missed the Burke Morrow, Vandeville Troupe last Thursday evening. Manager Sheehan received an offer from Tully, N.Y., and as the hay had been cleared out of the Opera House, decided to show there on that evening.

He was a boy, a bright one, too. And rudiments of Latin well he knew; To see him dash off Latin prose, Would simply "jar you," the slang phrase goes.

Now H—one day to the board did go. To write his prose in Latin, you know; And soon upon the board did place A Latin (?) sentence—then, alas! disgrace.

"Dicit valet," so it read. And then sharp words "Prof." said; Poor H—with shame then hung his head. Reputation for prose from young H—has fled.

St. Charles' Lit. will hold its first regular meeting next Friday evening at 8 o'clock. S. M. C. II. played Harbord Collegiate on Saturday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock. A full account of the game will appear in next week's issue.

In the first game of the series A. S. M. C. went down to defeat before Victoria by the score of 26-24. The team has but one excuse to make, the absence of Messrs. Callon and Murphy, Victoria plays at S.M.C. on Thursday—and then.

Some accused the Rhetoricians of being afraid last Wednesday night. Perhaps the vaudeville troupe was practising. Now, that alone would account for their absence.

McAuley's sprained wrist has so far recovered as to allow him to play football once more.

Among the latest arrivals are George T. Gannon, Seranton, Pa., and J. C. Pembroke, Binghamton, N.Y.

Clem Burke has pretty Triblys. So says — Three guesses.

From some valuable manuscripts just received from Tanner we learn that Count Zerfeitus was the inventor of the fashion of parting the hair in the middle. The writings are of the date of 1887. Now, how far behind the clock are our friends (?) on the flat.

Charles Burke, Wilkesbarre, Pa., has been appointed curator of the library and reading-room. Poor fellow! He has our deepest sympathy in his great affliction. K. E. Morrow, '01, will share his joys and sorrows, in the capacity of assistant.

Somebody, whose name we cannot divulge, informs us that Dan Sullivan, Weir, Morley, and Burke, will come prise a team of "handball fiends" that will simply be well, "champions," perhaps. James Connelly saved a small boy from drowning at Elmira, N.Y., this summer. "Jim" told a few friends on the "g.t." that his father severely chastised him for spilling a good job. Elmira must be a large city, if there is but one undertaker in the "burg."

DENTAL AT HOME.

Dentals Win From Knox—Dentals II. Tie With Normals.

The Dental at home which is held with such favor among the boys of the school and which has also gained such popularity with the citizens of Toronto, is to be held on the 7th day of December. It was thought that a feeling of antagonism against having an at home was predominant among the boys, and for this reason the committee thought it best to leave the matter with the students themselves.

Under the able management of Mr. Wilson, the chairman of the committee, the at home, with the assistance of every member of the school, should this year reach the highest pinnacle of success.

The Dental handball team have now played two games in the inter-collegiate series. The first was played with the senior Toronto Meds when the Dentals won out by 39 points to 22.

The evening spent at the Grand by the different student bodies of the city on Hallowe'en passed off very pleasantly. Varsity, S. P. S. and the Dents occupied the gallery, and it was indeed quite noticeable how friendly feelings and harmony existed between these student bodies.

The programme this year was in several respects an improvement on last year's. To Chas. Sutherland, chairman of the Programme Committee, is due in a great degree the excellent programme furnished, and the students testified their admiration of the same by encoring every number.

Even the weather, which had been of such a sickly cast for almost a week, aroused itself from its dejected lethargy and burst forth in an exhilarating radiance, as if its only thought were to make the conditions more pleasant for our lunch with Knox.

Our men were in better shape than at the previous game. The combination was good and the defence splendid. During the whole game it was quite evident that the Dents, had the upper hand. The way in which the ball was passed from goal to goal was like unto a whirlwind—the very umpire could barely follow it. It passed and crossed and passed and recrossed with a speed that made the users of primitive methods stare blankly into space.

Our men found Knox throughout good-natured and gentlemanly. One or two accidents occurred. Five got a nasty wrench about the knee, but recovered himself sufficiently to put up a very good game, although it was remarked that the smile he carried was rather ugly. Gelfellows handled himself well on the forward line, yet no one aimed at playing the "illustrious star," every man kept his position and played the while.

Referee Zavitz, on account of his accident the other day, felt unequal to the entire game, and Mr. Broder kindly took his place. The Intermediate team also showed up well and ran a tie with the Normals. They are a little raw yet, but show excellent foundation.

HALLOWEEN BY TORONTO MEDS.

Elections For the Dinner Committee and Delegates to Sister Colleges.

Toronto Meds. Defeat the School of Science in Football.

A NEW COLLEGE YELL.

The annual elections of the Toronto Medical School for the Dinner Committee and delegates to sister colleges took place last Wednesday evening in the Students' Union. The voting was brisk throughout the evening, but was carried on in a spirit of good-natured rivalry, and it was indeed pleasing to see the spirit of friendly feeling evinced towards the "gentlemen" of the first year by candidates and their very ardent supporters.

to make themselves heard, but on their arrival were with quiet ceremony given the "glad hand," etc., being at once directed, with the utmost care and decision, to the voting-room, where, after a gentle hint had been delivered by the affable senior, the proud yet fearless voter warily entered the silent chamber where the sedate guardians of the ballot box had located themselves, conscious of the fact that each vote polled considerably augmented the treasury.

Now that Hallowe'en is a thing of the past, students and committee can look back and congratulate themselves on what is admitted by all to have been the most successful event of the kind in the annals of the Toronto Medical School. The whole school turned out in a body and enjoyed the evening's sport immensely, and after the polling booths had barred their door and a programme of considerable magnitude and excellence rendered, the whole student body present were invited by the Dean "to get a partner" arm, in arm to follow him down stairs and partake of the good things prepared as a savor of life.

After the doors had been shut and President Treble declared the polls closed and forthwith proceeded to count the ballots. Into the large Concert hall the whole band wended their way, led by a senior, who brought himself for a moment and then with a sparkle in his eye and a voice that was by no means bad, excepting that it ran occasionally into an unnatural yell, like the notes of a split reed quavered forth:

"Now the elections are done, Let us beat up the drum— And call all our Meds. together, And when they appear let us make such a cheer As will keep out the wind and the weather."

The programme this year was in several respects an improvement on last year's. To Chas. Sutherland, chairman of the Programme Committee, is due in a great degree the excellent programme furnished, and the students testified their admiration of the same by encoring every number.

The first selection was a comic song by F. H. Wrey, a professional comic, who had been secured with great difficulty, and he was at once compelled to respond to a merited encore. Then Riggs brothers delighted the boys with an exceedingly pleasing clarinet solo with piano accompaniment. The Newsboys' Quartette was announced under the title of "Just a Quartette," which on appearance was found to consist of a "soon" with three youngsters, who made a hit with the boys, singing in good style. "Every Nation has a Flag but a Coon," A. L. Wookley's rendering of "McSorley's Twins" was well received and he was forced to respond.

As Fisher announced a boxing match between Scott and Hochkiss, the mighty yell which greeted the same firmly demonstrated that they are firm believers in the necessity of cultivating the defensive side of their nature. The first round was somewhat tame, as the contestants were wary, not getting into very close quarters. In the second round the fun began, until at the third "upper cut" Riggs was hurled with mighty force by both boxers, but time was called before a "knock out" and the contestants shook hands, vowing to meet again "in some back yard."

On Saturday last the first steps were taken towards the organization of a debating club. The matter is as yet, however, in the hands of a committee of representatives from the various years, which will probably report within the next few days.

On Friday evening last the Literary Society held a very successful meeting. The routine of business over, the literary part of the programme was opened with a vocal solo by Miss Maud Ratcliffe, which was needless to say, thoroughly enjoyed by all.

On Monday, October 29, McMaster II. lined up for their first match in the intercollegiate games. It was with Varsity II, and the game ended with a score of 2 to 1 in favor of the Meds. On Saturday, the 3rd inst., they met the Normal team, and when time was called a score of 3 to 1 again favored the McMaster boys.

The Dean on then being called upon for a reading was greeted with a hearty reception by the valiant four hundred present. He told the boys that he had taken the liberty of sending a message of welcome to Corporal Jordan to the following effect: "The faculty and students join in bidding you a hearty welcome home. We are sorry we cannot have Jordan and Macdonald with us to-night. The Dean then read a selection from Oliver Wendell Holmes, which was listened to with great attention.

Now that Hallowe'en is a thing of the past, students and committee can look back and congratulate themselves on what is admitted by all to have been the most successful event of the kind in the annals of the Toronto Medical School.

everyone to gaiety and after partaking of the Dean's hospitality, the party broke up for the night, with the kind-hearted old custom of hand-shaking, after giving cheers for the Dean. The Meds. then formed a procession, marched down College until at Bishop Strachan's School. Unlit windows, sombre walls, and a small squad of police were attentive to the songs of the serenaders. After a while the boys divided, detachments grew smaller and smaller and at length became individual deserters wending their way towards home. But it is reported that several were up at the University about 2.30 a.m. "Just to see the fire."

The elections resulted as follows: President of Dinner Com.—W. H. Cronyn (accl.)

1st Vice-President—W. Waken (accl.) 2nd Vice-President—C. W. Freeman (accl.) Ladies' toast—W. E. Gaille. Freshmen's toast—T. Chalmers. McGill—J. A. McCollum. Bishop's—H. R. Parent. Queen's—A. B. Toronto Meds have got out a new yell.

RAIN PREVENTED COMPLETION.

Mr. Cronyn made an announcement as to the dinner. That whereas the Anatomical Department had its rules in the departments in the departments annual dinners, there should be a series of at least four dinners, with faculty demonstrations and a thesis on the "value of annual dinners as factors in education, etc." He then closed with an appeal to his hearers, as he did not wish to mock at dinners and diners, but they should consider that they do not depend on liquid enthusiasm for the success of a dinner, hence all should try and make the coming one a rousing success.

The curtain fell about 11 o'clock and then followed a scramble to get out of the regions, which, though not the lower one, is generally too warm to be comfortable. The supper disposed

At McMaster games the other day a well-known sophomore was standing with some ladies in the vicinity of the professor in moderns. Wishing to invite the ladies to a seat and also to grasp the opportunity of proving to the professor that his labors in moderns had not been in vain, he gave utterance to the following cosmopolitan sentence: "Setzen sie sic avec out!"

The professor fled precipitately, and it is said that the nervous shock has left him still in a precarious condition.
