

BUNNY DID IT.

"Awful baddest Bunny Ever, ever knew; Cost me lots of money When I bought him, too.

"He's a little rabbit, Ribbon on his neck, With a dreadful habit, Too, I do expect";

"Which is, gnawing dresses When you do not see: Made holes in Bessie's Mantle much as three.

"In the baby's willow Cab, that Bunny crept; Gnawed into the pillow, While our baby slept;

"Sent the feathers flying Like a storm of snow; Nurse was most a-crying, Bunny scared her so.

"But he's done the baddest Thing of all to-day; Made me feel the saddest, Spoiled my pretty play.

"Gave a dinner-party To my paper dolls; Left them eating hearty, 'Coz I had some calls.

"Wasn't gone a quarter Of an hour, I know— Maybe even shorter; When I came back, O—h!

"Wonder why I'm crying? What you s'pose I found? Dollies' heads all lying Bit off on the ground."

SEDENTARY HABITS.

In this age of push and worry, the business man and the professional man are alike unable to devote any adequate time to exercise. In the daily round of toil and pleasure, no suitable provision is made for that important function, and the result is that men of sedentary habits become subject to many forms of ailments arising from a torpid or sluggish liver. Constipation, sick headache, biliousness and dyspepsia are all due to the improper action of the liver. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets cure these troubles by restoring the liver to its normal condition.

THE REWARD OF PERSISTENCE.

At one of the mills in the city of Boston a boy was wanted, and a piece of paper was tacked on one of the posts so that all the boys could see it as they passed by. The paper read: "Boy wanted. Call at the office to-morrow morning." At the time named there was a host of boys at the gate. All were admitted, but the overseer was a little perplexed as to the best way of choosing from so many, and he said: "Now, boys, when I only want one of you how can I choose from so many? After thinking a moment he invited them all into the yard, and driving a nail into one of the large trees and taking a short stick, told them that the boy who could hit the nail with a stick a little distance from the tree should have the place. The boys all tried hard, and, after three trials each failed to hit the nail. The boys were told to come again next morning, and this time when the gate was opened there was but one boy, who, after being admitted, pick up the stick, and throwing it at the nail, hit it every time. "How is this?" said the overseer. "What have you been doing?" And the boy, looking up with tears in his eyes, said: "You see sir, I have a mother, and we are very poor. I have no father, sir, and I thought I would like to get the place and so help all I can, and after going home yesterday I drove a nail into the barn, and have been trying ever since, and have come down this morning to try again." The boy was admitted to the place. Many years have passed since then, and this boy is now a prosperous and wealthy man, and at the time of an accident at the mills he was the first to step forward with a gift of $500 to relieve the sufferers. His success came by perseverance.—Selected.

—In the progress of the Queen through London the other day, an amusing inscription was displayed by a Scotch firm of dyers at one part of the route, the words, blazoned in large letters, "We wad dye for ye," combining loyalty, facetiousness and business, most ingeniously. This would seem to disprove the assertion so often made that Scotchmen cannot appreciate a joke. Still, the above is so ancient that it has had time to percolate.
