BLOOD POISON

For over thirty years we have treated and cured all forms of Blood diseases, both hereditary and acquired. Our New Method Treatment is original with ourselves, and never fails to eradicate the poison from the system. Beware of mercury and other mineral poisons, which so many doctors prescribe for this terrible disease, as they will ruin the system. Other treatments drive the poison into the system, whereas our treatment destroys the virus or poison in the blood and removes it from the system entirely, so the symptoms can never return. If you have any of the following symptoms consult us before it is too late: Blotches, eruptions or pimples; falling out of the hair; itching of the skin, stiffness or pain in the joints, soreness in the muscles, sore throat, ulcers or bad taste in the mouth, sore tongue, sourness of the stomach, enlarged glands, running sores, etc.

Our New Method Treatment will purify the blood, heal up the sores, remove all pains; the hair will grow in again, all organs will be restored to their normal condition, and the patient prepared to renew the duties and pleasures of life. We guarantee marriage possible with absolute safety.

OUR VIKING QUEEN.

Alexandra Fit Mate for Menarch of Mistresses of the Seas.

When the daughter of the King of Denmark came to English shores as a bride, Tennyson hailed her as one of a Viking race, and certainly both Queen Alexandra and all the members of the present Royal family love the sea. Any one who saw the youthful mother of the Prince of Wales for the first time would little associate her with "seafaring." And yet she finds the most congenial recreation yachting with her family in one of the numerous floating palaces, which are perpetually cruising about the seas. Princess Victoria, who has been very delicate at times, went off with her lady-in-waiting earlier in the season on a cruise along the British coast, and the Duke of York—Prince of Wales—is said never to be happier than when at sea, and his little sons are instructed in every branch of "sea lore." The Duchess of Fife does not spend so much of her time at sea as the other, but in a most expert angler, and is said to tramp long miles in pursuit of her favorite sport.

Queen Alexandra has never been a "sport," but she loves the sea, and always on her journeys to her native home takes the longest way round, that she may enjoy a holiday on the ocean. The King has ever delighted in yachting, and since his serious illnesses has always sought health and strength on a cruise in the Solent. One of a large firm of shipbuilders said the other day that this love of the sea in the Royal family had given a great impetus to the fashion among rich people for what to his trade meant good custom. "What the King does not know about the designing and sailing of ships is precious little, and the little sons of the Duke of York are already familiar with all the nautical terms used by yachtsmen." The Princess Henry of Battenburg and her children are forever taking short cruises along the British coast.

Australian Jokes.

Jennie—You are not married yet? Fannie—No, but I'm going to be. The young man who has been visiting me has been making inquiries behind my back if I know how to cook.

—Melbourne Weekly Times.
"You say you won't marry me because I am bald, and because I make puns?" "Yes. If you were bald and didn't make puns, or if you made puns and were not bald, it would be different; but the fact that you are bald and still make puns convinces me that you are too old to reform."

—Sydney Town and Country Journal.
"Your new maid appears to be rather refined." "Yes; she's a little out of the common. She never breaks anything, and the costliest cut-glass and the choicest Dresden." —Melbourne Weekly Times.

What He Disliked.—"Do you like going to school, Johnny?" asked the visitor. "Yes, sir," answered the truthful urchin, "and I like coming home, too, but I don't like staying there between times." —Sydney Town and Country Journal.

Mistress—How is it, Mary, that whenever I enter the kitchen I always find a man there? Mary—I don't know, ma'am, unless it be them soft shoes ye wears. —Melbourne Weekly Times.

Strange Myths of Tibetans.

Besides believing so fully in the powers of magic and necromancy, the Tibetans have numberless strange myths, one, the most curious, pertaining to the sun, moon and stars. The sun is believed to be an immense ball of yak-meat and fat, whereupon the spirits of departed ancestors are supposed to feast, the light being caused by its heated condition. The stars are portions of this immense feast which, dropping to earth, give birth to animals for the sustenance of suffering humanity. The moon is a lesser ball of similar texture as the sun, in use while the larger one is being replenished for the morrow. When sun or moon fails to appear in cloudy days and nights, it means that the deities are undergoing a period of fasting and religious abnegation. And the bleak regions is ascribed to the fact that many thousand years ago the sun-ball slipped from the hands of its keepers, descended too near the earth, and, before being recaptured, scorched those parts with which it came in contact.

Platonic Friendship.

"It is worse than wicked, it's vulgar," says Miss Hulda Friedrichs, "to pretend that friendship between a man and a woman must of necessity develop into an intrigue or a love affair. Men and women, whose interests in life centre round ever so many things of which what is generally called love may or may no longer be one, are just made to be good friends, the manly views on the one hand and the womanly views on the other making up the elements which go towards all that is best in friendship, and adding a sort of constant piquancy to intercourse which must naturally be lacking in intimate friendship between two people of the same sex, be they men or women."
